

Consumption Cured.

Since 1870 Dr. Souville has each year sent from this office the means of relief and cure to thousands afflicted with disease. The correspondence necessitated by this work being too heavy for him, I came to his aid. He now feels constrained to relinquish it entirely, and has placed in my hands the formula of that simple vegetable remedy discovered by an East India missionary, and found so effective for the speedy and permanent cure of Consumption, Bronchitis, Catarrh, Asthma, and all Throat and Lung Diseases; also a positive and radical cure for Nervous Debility and all Nervous Complaints. Its remarkable curative powers have been proven in many thousand cases, and, actuated by the desire to relieve suffering humanity, I gladly assume the duty of making it known to others. Address me, with stamp, naming this paper, and I will mail you, free of charge, the recipe of this wonderful remedy, with full directions for its preparation and use, printed in German, French or English.—W. A. NILES, 149 Power's Block, Rochester, N. Y. 16-130w

SCIENCE IN FI PROGRESS.

Thousands cured of the Bronchitis, Asthma and Lung disease by Dr. M. Souville's Spirometer, an instrument which conveys medicinal properties direct to the parts affected. These wonderful instruments are used in all first-class hospitals, and are prescribed by leading physicians. Full directions for treatment sent by letter, and instruments expressed to any address. It is only since Dr. Souville's invention that lung diseases are no longer feared except in their very last stage. Write for particulars to Dr. M. Souville, ex-Aide Surgeon of the French Army, 13 Phillips Square, Montreal. Read the following notices:— (From the Montreal Gazette, December 24th, 1880.)

We are pleased to notice that a great many of our best citizens have bought Dr. M. Souville's Spirometer, which is used for the cure of those terrible diseases known by the name of Nasal Catarrh, Bronchitis and Asthma, and it is so highly spoken of as if those instruments and preparations were infallible in the cure of such complaints, and, to satisfy our curiosity, we visited Dr. M. Souville at his office, 13 Phillips Square, Montreal, and gave a thorough examination of his invention, so that we can speak with our own authority of it. We think that such a method, which conveys medicinal properties direct to the organs affected by those distressing diseases, cannot fail to be a benefit to humanity, instead of pouring drugs into the stomach and deranging digestion. These wonderful instruments, with their contents, were invented by Dr. M. Souville after long and careful experiments in chemical analysis, and used in hundreds of cases treated by him in the hospitals of Europe. We find the Doctor a well learned gentleman, and he invites physicians and sufferers to try his instrument free of charge.

Common Sense in Medicine.

(Montreal Star, January 5, 1881.) Dr. M. Souville, the Parisian physician and inventor of the Spirometer for the scientific treatment of diseases of the lungs and air passages, who recently took up his residence among us, is meeting with excellent success. Already the doctor has had hundreds of patients, who have given his system a trial, and so far as we have learned, with both satisfaction and benefit. Dr. Souville makes a departure from the usual methods of treating diseases of the air passages. He contends that the proper mode of treating them is by inhalation and absorption, not by pouring drugs into the stomach and thus upsetting and deranging one part of the system in the hope of benefiting another. This argument certainly has the advantage of being common sense, which is always the best kind of sense. The doctor certainly has the courage of his opinions and confidence in his system, for he gives a standing invitation to physicians and sufferers to visit him and test his instruments free of charge. His office is at 13 Phillips Square, Montreal.

A COLD DAY FOR MAGIC.

(From the San Francisco Post.) Everybody has read the marvelous stories of travelling magicians mystifying the people by exhibiting their skill in public places. Of all the leading wizards such stories are published, and, in fact, they have the discernment to see that no better advertisement of their performance could possibly be obtained. Yesterday Baron Seeman was riding on a California street dummy, and taking in his fellow passengers with the usual blandly unconscious eye of the prestidigitator, when he suddenly turned and said to a rather rough-looking man on the same side: "Parlon, my friend, but you will lose your watch—the chain is hanging."

"Hain't got no watch," growled the youth. "Excuse me, but you are mistaken. Look there."

The hoodlum, who unfortunately had been at the theatre the evening before, and who had just recognized the magician's face, took hold of the chain, pulled the watch out of his pocket, stared at it a moment and then said, "Why, to be sure; how careless of me! Belong to you, mister," and stepping briskly from the Dummy, ran up a neighboring alley, leaving the Baron staring after his stem-winder with a paralyzed expression. No arrests.

BRITISH ARMY REFORMS.

LONDON, Dec. 7.—An official announcement from the War Office is published as follows:—"When General Sir Garnet Wolesey succeeds to the Adjutant-Generalship, in April next, he will, like his predecessors, transact official business under the authority and responsibility of the Commander-in-Chief, who is the military adviser of the Secretary of State." The above is apparently put forth to settle the rumors that the Duke of Cambridge is hostile to Sir Garnet Wolesey's appointment and that the Government intends that Sir Garnet Wolesey shall enforce changes in the army to which the Duke of Cambridge is opposed.

ONE EXPERIENCE FROM MANY.

"I had been sick and miserable so long and had caused my husband so much trouble and expense, no one seemed to know what ailed me, and I was completely discouraged and discouraged. In this frame of mind I got a bottle of Hop Bitters and used 'them unknown to my family. I soon began to improve and gained so fast that my husband and family thought it strange and unnatural, when I told him what had helped me, he said, 'Hurry for Hop Bitters long may they prosper, for they made mother well and us happy.' The Mother's Home Journal."

THE PRIESTHOOD OF IRELAND.

Mr. D. R. Locke (Petroleum V. Naby) bears the following tribute to the priesthood of Ireland:—"As to the priest there never was a wilder delusion than exists in the minds of the American people concerning him. I was at the houses, or rather lodgings, of a great many of them; but one example will suffice. Half-way between Kammar and Killarney, in a wild, desolate country, lives one of these parish priests, who are supposed to inhabit luxurious houses, and to live gorgeously, and to be perpetually singing. 'The Crulskan Law' with a pipe in one hand and a glass of poteen in the other. He is a magnificent man. In face and figure he is the exact picture of the lamented Salmon P. Chase, one of the greatest of Americans; and I venture the assertion that, had he adopted any other profession and come to America, where genius and intellect mean something, and where great ability finds great rewards, he would have been one of the most eminent of men. A man of great learning, of wonderful intuitions, of cool, clear judgment, of great nerve and unbounded heart, he would, were he to come to America and drop his priestly robe, be President of a great railroad corporation, or a Senator, or anything else he chose to be. But what is he in Ireland? His apartments comprise a bedroom just large enough to hold a very poor bed, and a study, in a better-class farm house, for which he pays rent the same as every body else does. His floor is uncarpeted, and the entire furniture of his rooms, leaving out his library, would not invoice $10. His parish is one of the wildest and bleakest in Ireland, and is twenty-five miles long and eighteen wide. Now understand that this man is the lawyer, the friend, the guide and director in temporal as well as spiritual matters, of the entire population of this district. If a husband and wife quarrel, it is his duty to hear and decide. If a tenant gets into trouble with his landlord, he is the go-between to arrange it. In short, every trouble, great and small, in the parish is referred to him, and he must act. He is their lawyer as well as their priest. He is their everything. He supplies to them the intelligence that the most infelicitous Government on earth has denied them. But this is a small part of his duties. He has to conduct services at all the chapels in this stretch of country. He has to watch over the morals of all the people. But this is not all. No matter at what hour of night, no matter what the condition of the weather, he summons to the bedside of a dying man to administer the last Sacraments of the Church must be obeyed. It may be that to do this requires a ride on horseback of twenty miles in a blinding storm, but it must be done. Every child must be christened, every death-bed must be smoothed, every sorrow mitigated by the only comfort this suffering people have—the faith in their Church. What do you suppose this magnificent man gets for all this? The largest income he ever received in his life was £100, which, reduced to American money, amounts to exactly $484. And out of this he has to pay his rent, his food, his clothing, the keeping of his horse, and all that remains goes in charity to the suffering sick—every cent of it. When the Father dies his nephews and nieces will not find very good picking from what is left, I assure you. 'Why do you,' I asked, 'a many capable of doing so much in the world, stay and do this enormous work for nothing?' 'I was called to it,' he was the answer; 'what would these poor people do without me?' I am a vigorous Protestant, and have no especial love for the Catholic Church; but I shall esteem myself especially fortunate if I can make a record in this world that will give me a place in the next within gun-shot of where this man will be placed. I am not capable of making the sacrifices for my fellows that he is doing—I wish to Heaven I was. I found by actual demonstration why the Irish so loved their priests. They would be in a still worse way, if possible, without them."

Ayer's Hair Vigor,

FOR RESTORING GRAY HAIR TO ITS NATURAL VITALITY AND COLOR.

It is a most agreeable dressing, which is at once harmless and effectual for preserving the hair. It restores, with the gloss and freshness of youth, faded or gray, light, and red hair, to a rich brown, or deep black, as may be desired. By its use thin hair is thickened, and baldness often though not always cured. It checks falling of the hair immediately, and causes a new growth in all cases where the glands are not decayed; while to bristly, weak, or otherwise diseased hair, it imparts vitality and strength, and renders it pliable.

The Vigor cleanses the scalp, cures and prevents the formation of dandruff; and by its cooling, stimulating and soothing properties, it heals most if not all of the humors and diseases peculiar to the scalp, keeping it cool, clean, and soft, under which conditions diseases of the scalp and hair are impossible.

As a Dressing for Ladies' Hair The Vigor is incomparable. It is colorless, contains neither oil nor dyes, and will not soil white cambric. It imparts an agreeable and lasting perfume, and as an article for the toilet it is economical and unsurpassed in its excellence.

Spavin Cure.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE

THE MOST SUCCESSFUL REMEDY ever discovered, as it is certain in its effects and does not blister. Also excellent for human flesh. Read proof below.

From COL. L. T. FOSTER, YOUNGSTOWN, Ohio, May 10th, 1880.

Dr. B. J. KENDALL & Co., Gentls.—I had a very valuable horse named 'Lionel' which I prized very highly. He had a large bone spavin on one joint and a small one on the other which made him very lame; I had him under the charge of two veterinary surgeons, which did me no good. I was one day reading the advertisement of Kendall's Spavin Cure in the 'Chicago Express.' I determined at once to try it, and got four druggists here to send me a bottle. They ordered three bottles; I took them all and thought I would give it a thorough trial. I used it according to directions and the fourth day the colic ceased to be lame, and the ulcers have disappeared. I used but one bottle and the colic limbs are as free from lumps and as smooth as any horse in the state. He is entirely cured. The cure was so remarkable that I let two of my neighbors have the remaining two bottles, who are now using it. Very respectfully, Yours truly, GEO. MATTHEWS. KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE, ON HUMAN FLESH.

PATTEN'S MILLS, Washington Co., N. Y., Feb. 21st, 1878.—DEAR SIR—The particular case on which I used your Kendall's Spavin Cure was a malignant ankle sprain of sixteen months' standing. I had tried many things, but in vain. Your Spavin Cure put the foot to the ground again, and for the first time since I had used your remedy as given in your book without swelling, and I must say to your credit, that the colic heavy and that it has done me more good, not only to myself, but also to my neighbors. You sent me the book for the trifling sum of 25 cents, and if I could not get another like it I would not take twenty-five dollars for it.

Yours truly, P. M. P. BELL. Pastor of M. E. Church, Patten's Mills, N. Y.

KENDALL'S SPAVIN CURE. It is sure in its effects, mild in its action, as it does not blister, yet it is penetrating and powerful to reach every deep seated pain or to remove any bony growth or other enlargements, such as spavins, splints, curbs, callosities, sprains, swellings and any lameness and all enlargements of the joints or limbs, or for rheumatism in man and for any purpose for which a liniment is used for man or beast. It is now known to be the best liniment for man or beast ever used, acting mild and yet certain in its effects. Send address for Illustrated Circular, which will thank gives positive proof of its virtues. Price $1 per bottle, or 4 bottles for $4. All Druggists have it or can get it for you; or it will be sent to any address on receipt of price. Price $1 per bottle, or 4 bottles for $4. Sold by ALL DRUGGISTS EVERYWHERE.
