

ARTICLE VI: TAXATION AND THE BUDGET (Articles 145-169)

Defines the powers of taxation between the three levels of government and the transfer of revenues between them; also deals with the norms governing fiscal and monetary policy, and the execution of the government's budget. (Articles 3,4)

ARTICLE VII: THE ECONOMIC AND FINANCIAL ORDER (Articles 170-192)

Deals with the regulation of investment and commerce, banking activities reserved for the state and for Brazilian companies; also deals with urban policy, agrarian reform and the regulation of banking and finance, including maximum interest rates. (Articles 8,10)

ARTICLE VIII: THE SOCIAL ORDER (Articles 193-232)

Deals with norms governing social security and welfare programs, health, education, culture, family law, science and technology, communications, industries, environmental protection and the rights of indigenous peoples. (Articles 9,11,12)

ARTICLE IX: GENERAL CONSTITUTIONAL PROVISIONS (Articles 233-245)

Miscellaneous articles dealing with issues not included in other titles of the constitution.

1-70)

implementation of the arts, the means of amending tion of new states.

DOCS
CA1 EA912 88D31 ENG
Digest of the 1988 Brazilian constitution
43252608