

Customs Act

Then my friends down further at least tell you that they believe in the development of our resources for the benefit of our people. But the government over here—there is nothing that you boys could say that we have not got over here.

Mr. Speaker: I think—

Mr. Rowe: Can I call it ten o'clock?

Mr. Speaker: Order. If there has been any justification for my calling the hon. member to order, I think it is now, because he is not discussing the amendment.

Mr. Rowe: If you prefer, I will call it ten o'clock.

BUSINESS OF THE HOUSE

Mr. Harris: Tomorrow we will take up the resolution standing in the name of the Minister of Veterans Affairs with respect to the War Service Grants Act; then the second reading of the bill to amend the Defence Services Pension Act; then continuation of the debate on the second reading of Bill No. 28, to amend the National Parks Act; then the second reading of the bill to amend the Northwest Territories Act; and then we will continue the present debate on the bill to amend the Customs Act.

At ten o'clock the house adjourned, without question put, pursuant to standing order.
