Mr. Raymond Langlois (Mégantic): Mr. Speaker, maybe I have just time to say two or three words in the few remaining seconds. I am glad to be able to say that I am against the bill now before us. My stand is based on words which are to be found in the book on which we took our oath of office when we came to this house. Those words are: "Go forth, multiply, and fill the earth." I did not find there any words saying that, if at any time there are too many of you, use the means made available to you by the government.

The Acting Speaker (Mr. Batten): Order. The hour for the consideration of private members' business has expired.

At six o'clock the house adjourned, without question put, pursuant to standing order.
