The Daily Hint From Paris

AN ENGLISH HAT.

From England comes the fashion of wearing the broad drooping hats with flowers and the lighter millinery materials. This hat, recently imported, is typical of the class. A leghorn shape is used to start with and around the brim are three graduated circles of chiffon, cleverly cut to give a slight rippled effect. These are bound with white satin and slightly wired at the edge. A huge white satin bow and pink roses complete the trimming.

FRUIT MARKET PRICES SLUMP

Large Quantities Were Shipped in After Rain and Demand Not as Brisk as Usual.

Vegetables and fruit took a big fall in price yesterday at the Toronto fruit market. The reason of the almost unprecedented slump was the large quantity of domestic produce shipped into Toronto during the morning. For several days last week there was very little fruit picked on account of the heavy rain, and the farmers are making up for those bad days by large shipments.

Nearly all the smaller vegetables were affected, cucumbers going down to 10c the basket and corn to 10c the dozen ears. Canadian peaches varied a great deal in quality and could be bought at any price between 30c and 90c a basket.

American potatoes remain firm at 32.75 the barrel. There are no Canadian potatoes on the market.

Raspberries are still coming in, the season is almost over.

Yesterday's prices were: Raspberries, 11c to 13c a box; blueberries, 11c a basket; red currants, 3c to 8c a box; black currants, 15c to 17c a basket; plums, 40c to 50c the quart basket; peaches, 30c to 90c; apples, 20c to 35c; cucumbers, 10c to 15c; tomatoes, 25c to 40c; peppers, 40c to 50c; beans, 30c to 40c; peas, 50c; marrowfat, 25c; eggplants, 25c; chesnuts, 35c to 50c; celery, 12.5c to 15.5c; pumpkins, 12.5c to 17.5c; the 40c heads; California peaches, 25c to 32.5c the case.

MAYOR GAVE LIFE FOR FIANCEE

LANTIGAN, Sask., Aug. 12.—Miss Elsie McFarlane is in a critical condition to-day as the result of her narrow escape and the death by drowning in Watrous Lake, near here, of Mayor R. L. Hood of Lantigan, to whom she was engaged to be married to-morrow. Mayor Hood dived into the water and succeeded in reaching the girl and supporting her until help arrived. He was exhausted when he came ashore, and Miss McFarlane was lifted into a boat which came to her rescue.

FILLING MIXTURE

Soak newspapers in a paste of half a pound of flour, half a pound of alum and three quarts of water, mixed together and boiled. This mixture, which should be as thick as putty, may be forced into cracks of floors, wainscoting, etc., with a coarse knife. It hardens like paper mache, says The Minneapolis Tribune, neatly and permanently filling any cracks to which it may be applied.

Everybody Doing It

Everybody seems to be going to New York, Thursday, on the excursion being run by the Niagara Navigation Company and the Erie Railway, judging from the number of tickets that have been sold by the agents, A. F. Webster and Company, at the corner King and Yonge-streets. These tickets are good for ten days and are valid to return up to the 24th of August. A few berths on the trip are still vacant, although they cannot last very long.

POPULAR ACTRESS SERIOUSLY ILL

Miss Dale of the Royal Alexandra is Confined to Her Home With Blood-Poisoning.

Hundreds of her Toronto friends have wondered since yesterday why Miss Dale was unable to take her part with Miss Hawcutt at the Royal Alexandra on Saturday and Monday evenings. They will learn with regret that Miss Dale is liable to be laid up for some time with blood poisoning.

Miss Dale was walking on Yonge-street, on Saturday afternoon when she was struck on the ankle by a block of iron, which fell from one of the buildings. She was taken to her home and attended by Dr. King and Dr. Geo. Grassham. Blood-poisoning set in on Monday and the doctors have ordered Miss Dale to remain in bed for an indefinite period.

Kaiser's Sister Is Robbed of Jewels On London Visit

LONDON, Aug. 12.—(Can. Press.)—Princess Frederick Charles of Hesse, the youngest daughter of the German emperor, was robbed of costly jewelry while starting from the Victoria Station for Germany last Saturday. The princess was surrounded by members of the British royal family and a number of foreign diplomats, who had accompanied her to the railroad station to say farewell, and the police authorities took strict precautions to keep outsiders at a distance, but as soon as the train had started the base containing the valuables were missed. The police endeavored to keep the theft secret and it became known only today when descriptions of the property, which is priceless, were given out by Scotland Yard.

CREAM CHEESE MADE AT HOME

Two ways, neither of which is difficult

Most people imagine that it is impossible to make cream cheese at home. A household without an elaborate supply of expensive utensils. But it is really quite an easy matter to make it at home. In fact, it is an occupation that a girl may make a fair sum of money.

The purchase of a few yards of thick butter muslin, at about 7 cents per yard, and some sheets of grease-proof paper constitute the only outlay required when starting on the work.

A pint of cream will make either two or three cheeses weighing about three ounces each, according to the recipe used.

Cream cheese can be made with or without the addition of rennet, the former system producing the higher quality of cheese. The cream when it comes from the dairy must be turned into a basin and allowed to stand for a few hours so that it may thicken naturally. It is, therefore, advisable to give orders at the shop, that it must not be previously thickened by any artificial process.

When it is thick, put the cream into a piece of butter muslin (half a yard is sufficient for half a pint of cream) which has been previously scalded and is still damp, then tie it up after the style of a bag by fastening the four corners together with a piece of string. Hang this up in a cool, draughty place to drain.

Twelve hours the day the muslin should be unfasted and the cream which has hardened on the outside well mixed with the softer part in the middle. It is also a good plan to turn the cream into a finer muslin now and again.

When this process has gone on for two or three days the cheese will be ready for use. It can be kept for 10 days or so if preferred, just according to individual taste.

If rennet is used, more cheese is made from the same quantity of cream. To half a pint of cream allow 17 drops of a quarter of a teaspoonful of rennet and stir it thoroughly for five minutes.

Cover the basin over, leaving it for 12 hours or more so that the cream may coagulate. The mixture is then ready to be put into the muslin, when it should be hung up to drain for about two days.

When the cheese is in a moderately firm condition turn it into a basin, and work in a little salt, which will improve the flavor and help to keep it fresh. This hint applies to cheese made with or without rennet.

The cheese is now quite finished, and can be moulded into any shape desired.
