east, and the unsatisfactory condi-

reflected in talk of curtailment of pro-

tion this week are the steadiness duction. Features of the price situa-cotton and print cloths, and of hides,

reported in the cereals, lard, pork,

COLLEGE AFFAIRS

alists-More Money Needed.

The Union Decides to Continue Rev.

Mr. Madill's Suspension.

copper and steel rails.

on their amounts.

question.

in the meantime.

the pastors look to their churches for

in helping to raise the $64,000 extra required to make the total endowment realization of the amount, recommend-having already undergone one year's

WERSTER'S SPELLER.

ene Edition of the Book That Was Roast

ed by the Author.

contains an extremely amusing advertisement of Nosh Webster's, denouncing an

TO THE PUBLIC.

Spelling Book, printed in New York, for Sam-nel Campbell, Robert Hodge, etc., the Publishers have inserted a declaration that the edition

the most correct edition printed in the conti-printed on bad paper and old wornout letter.

correct copies of this book I think it my duty became its proprietor. The first is:

take methods to prosecute the said Bradford.

assertion of Titan Leeds is a base and notorious falsehood, and Friend Titan is hereby advertised that he may expect to be handled in another manner than this advertisement for his so free charges of villainy, forgery, coun-

DISINFECTION OF ROOMS.

Vaporized Corrosive Sublimate and Sulphur Do the Work.

cent article on this subject, says that at one time, while he was practicing medicine in Hanau, he suddenly discovered that his bedroom was thickly inhabited by obnoxious insects. A friend assured him that he could easily get rid of the pests

and proceeded to fumigate the apartment with corrosive sublimate. The success of this measure was most gratifying, and when the room was opened the dead bodies of various kinds of insects were seen strewn about the floor. This incident led the professor to hope that the same means would be effectual in destroying the infectious elements of contagious diseases, and a trial in private houses after scarlet fever

or measles and in hospitals after erysipelas

or pyæmia gave most satisfactory results.

Since adopting this method he has never seen a second case of a contagious disease

which could be attributed to infection remaining in the room in which the patient

The mode of procedure is very simple.

From 11/2 to 2 ounces of corrosive subli-

had been confined.

Rhode Island.

Professor Konig of Gottingen, in a re-

TITAN LEEDS, Burlington.

-Godev's Magazine

The Providence Gazette of Oct. 6, 1793,

25, continuing the suspension.

The advertisement reads:

disclaim it.

Hartford, Sept. 15, 1792.

gestion. The motion was carried.

refusing to reinstate Mr. Madill

Wall Paper.

ever, and now is your opportunity to se-cure a bargain. The remainder of our stock we will close out at greatly reduced prices, as 124c and 15c papers, with 18-inch matched borders, for 5c a roll; 20c. inch matched borders, for 5c a roll; 20c and 25c papers, for 12½c and 15c a roll; and others at a like reduction. Why not paper those rooms of yours and have them bright and new when the cost would be so small? Call and see our stock and prices and both will not fail to suit you.

"You see, it is, the same question which was asked of you," the reader said, glancing up with her hard, bright small, then resuming her reading. The

E.N. HUNT 190 DUNDAS STREET.

+0+0+0+0+0+0+0+0+0+0+0+0+0+

"I am not pious, but I know my manners." she said: and, drawing back for the clergymen, made them a reverential and rather old-fashioned

The two porporati, not accustomed to such demonstrations, passed by without appearing to be aware of the salutation.

"Pigs!" remarked Miss Cromo, recovering her equilibrium.

They went in. "I shall look at you. and do everything that I see you do, "I intend to behave with she added. the most abject propriety. Where shall we post ourselves? Or shall we

"We must first go to the altar of the Blessed Sacrament. As you know your manners so well, I suppose you see the propriety of first paying your respects to the Master of the house. They crossed the church through the crowd that was constantly moving to and fro with subdued greeting of friends, and low-voiced talking in groups, which make of a great Roman function merely a magnificent reception in honor of the saint or the event commemorated. Here and there, along the walls or in nooks of chapels, were a few silent lookers-on or figures bowed in devotion. The two ladies found places on the steps of a confessional, and seated themselves there.

"I was afraid I would have to go about with you to make my courtesy tory of one week would have answer-to all the saints," Miss Cromo remark- ed for that of the week following, by ed, settling herself comfortably against changing the date. In January Mrs. States went into effect.

them. It is a defect."

looking at her companion. Valeria neturned her look. "Why Christ is God!" sheh said. bitter, passed over Miss Cromo's face, her name was written. People are the markets more confident. Every plated over, and that the base metal gan to laugh again.

Miss Cromo's eyes emitted a little sparkle of anger, while her lips were still smiling. "It depends entirely on the shape of head with which one is born," she declared. "Now, my head is deficient in the bump of reverence. I don't know whose fault it is, and I don't mean to accuse any one. "I think it depends on the sort of heart one has," Valeria replied, coldly. whole. It was not so. The greater 'Hush! Here comes the chapter.' The clergy were coming out of the sacristy, and passing across the church toward the Borghese chapel, where the Immaculata was celebrated. Miss Cromo watched them with enthusiasm. "What beautiful purple silk stockings! and what lovely yellow clouds along their ermine! And as for the lace, should like to get behind one or two of them wth a pair of scissors.' The two got up and began to walk about; saluted some of their acquaint-Blessed Sacrament to look at the veiled Tamar between her twin boys, and the wolf's head that nature had taken a fancy to paint in a block of Egyptian marble; came out again and lis-tened to a hymn sung with a full which rolled in long waves of complex harmony that, from time to time, cast up the refrain, like a pearl on the shore, Ave Maris Stella; then, with a rush of advancing sound, caught it away, sweeping it to and fro, hiding and again tossing it up, Ave Maris

Then Miss Cromo said that she must

Miss Cromo came to Valeria's room with her bonnet on, and the manu-script in her hand. "I shall have parely time to hurry through it," she

I have already read it to Miss Chap-Valeria wondered a little what exbe which was so displayed, and pre-pared to hear it with interest.

It began with the meeting of the authoress with a friend from another country, who, after the first salutation, suddenly turned to her and ask-smile, then resuming her reading. The The Business Outlook in the article was an answer to this ques-

Valeria sat stupefied, not hearing a word. This, then, was Miss Cromo's motive in asking her what and when she was going to write-for a pitiful hoped to gain? Had she hoped to intercept her thus every month, and drive her out of the path?" "I could miss them!" thought Valeria, with a swell of contemptuous pride. The reading ended, and the reader folded up her manuscript. "How do you like it?" she asked, without looking up. Her nostrils had a slight ten- ive. sion, her lips were slightly compressed, as if she half expected a combat, and were prepared for it. "Oh, of course it is quite charming!" Valeria replied, drawling her words a "I am so much obliged!"

Miss Cromo looked up. "Have you sent your article yet, my dear?" "I told you that I should not send | hardware is fairly active, with buildnow not more than four." write on?" was the next question, put with a resolute smile. "I told you the subject, too." She had meant to oust Valeria from her connection with the Fair Play, if possible; and she believed that her article had exhausted the subject, as it would have done, indeed, if the study of encyclopaedias and dictionaries would have done so.

"Well, I must go now," she said, and Valeria opened her windows wide Come in, pure tramontana, and blow all that is left of her out of the room!" She took up a book. "Come, sweet thoughts, and drive all that is left of out of my mind!" In two minutes she was among the hurried away, only half satisfied.

The God of gods be thanked for pure air and poetry!

CHAPTER XIII.

"And God?" asked Miss Cromo, frequently, find agreeable, and forget when they are, out of sight. All Dun & Co.'s review says: The cer-had their own affairs to attend to. tainty that the Spanish Atlantic fleet ious for a moment. I wish I had your tions and card-leaving which is called plated over, and that the base metal ine; they have only time to judge. Some concluded that their attentions were not properly esteemed, presume that you were the same and decided not to press them. They

They could not weigh nicely to find when the exertion might be too great. One disillusion caused Valeria great disappointment. She had fancied that, in foreign countries, Americans stood by each other, and that they would have a certain union, which did not mean intimacy, indeed, but which would give to each a sense of protecnumber of those of whom she knew much, either personally or from report, were divided by petty jealousies last year, and Pacific exports were and dissensions, and seemed to rejoice in each other's misfortunes. They struggled and intrigued for fine acquaintances, and, when they were successful in obtaining them, assumed a state that was pitifully ridiculous. The English had more dignity. They were proud of being English. Americans were ashamed of being American, and longed to be European, and ances; went into the chapel of the to efface their nationality as much as possible. (To be continued.) ----

WESTERN BAPTISTS.

Windup of the Convention at Rodney -Chatham Gets the Next Meeting.

Rodney, Ont., June 11.-The Western Baptist Association continued in session yesterday. A conference of pastors and deacons took place early in the morn-Stella, with a breaking forth of Aves ing, when the question of church discipline was discussed. The claims of "I want to finish my article were laid before the association, and heavy export business, point to very for the Aurora, and send it by to- a general discussion followed. An ad- good crop prospects for wheat and night's mail," she said. "And I shall dress on business methods in church other grains, influencing holders to-"And I shall dress on business methods in church other grains, influencing holders tocome and read it to you before posting | work was given by Arch McNee, and | wards parting with their stocks. While They went home, and after dinner shod methods too often found in of the trade to accept the maximum said, "for it is later than I thought. | ing a young people's rally took place, is to look for sufficient yields of these and the church was crowded. Stirring | lower-priced cereals. addresses were given, including one from Chancellor Wallace, of McMaster traordinary sort of article this could Hall. The next meeting will be held orders, has come a perceptibly less be which was so displayed, and pre- at Chatham.

SATISFACTORY

Dominion.

Dun & Co.'s and Bradstreet's Summary of the Situation in Canada and the United States.

New York, June 11 .- R. G. Dun & give her a thousand ideas and never Co.'s review says: Canadian reports are on the whole very encouraging. While John, and orders continue small, with lumber shipments unusually light and rates lower, collections are fairly act-

> At Halifax business is average and collections continue slow. While unfa- | 462 02; Ontario, $1,083,68; vorable weather has affected retail Provinces, $108 01; Manitoba, $66 50; trade, and in proportion the whole- United States, $10. The deficit in the sale distribution, prices are firm and revenue account was $2,463 67. the volume of business is below aver- total disbursements amounted to $8,age.

it for a week or ten days, and it is ing materials and implements in good $6,890. demand, though groceries are quiet. "What subject are you going to Remittances are satisfactory.
rite on?" was the next question, put At Montreal trade is generally in a very healthy condition, with excellent prospects, and the annual bank state-Miss Cromo's countenance changed. ments are all favorable. Money is plentiful and call loans are easy at 41/2 per cent, with prospects of 4 per cent | had agreed to pay 5 per cent interest next week.

Victoria wholesale drygoods and groceries report trade fairly active for the season, with business larger than last earnest consideration and generosity year, though little is doing in outfitting. Retail trade is good in most lines and collections are satisfactory. $100,000. Ie moved a resolution expressing the desirability of a speedy Bradstreet's says: Business in the Dominion of Canada continues very satisfactory. The crop outlook, improved by copious rains, has stimulated purchases for the fall trade. Toronto reports large imports of European manufactures, anticipating the effect of the preference given British goods under the new tariff. Canadian oilcloth manufacturers are shutting out American goods by means of price reductions, and New York and Chicago have bought low grade teas at Toronto at low prices. The weeks slipped away. The his- New wool is selling within a few cents of the price paid last year before the duty of 12 cents imposed by the United old."

"I do not give so much thought to the saints as I ought perhaps," Valeria replied. "When I look upward I see only Christ. I reverence the look and the saints as I over th persons were very kind and satisfactory business is doing at Vansaints, of course; but I often forget civil; but their kindness was such as couver and Victoria, and the demand people show to those whom they meet from the mining districts is improving. IN THE UNITED STATES.

Dun & Co.'s review says: The cer-She was on their visiting list; but is imprisoned and powerless to do An expression of derision, sharp and there was no one upon whose heart harm has helped to make the tone of and her lips parted to speak. But, never very much pleased with one who step of progress during the week seeing Valeria color, she became ser- withdraws from that round of recep- which has looked toward an early terfaith, dear," she said. "You see I society, even though such a retirement flected in the market and in lower mination of the struggle has been rewas a Unitarian before I became a might be reasonably explained. In this rates for money. All industries have Catholic, and I'm afraid I was only busy world few have lessure to exam- fest the uplifting influence. In finances the growing anxiety to lend, even on long exchange at low rates, in place of shipments of gold to this country, kind of Unitarian that you are Cath-olic," Valeria remarked. "My father themselves to fulfill their social duties. stronger situation it would be difficult begins to accumulate a standing credit to describe. The exports of merchan dise from New York during the past week have exceeded those for the corresponding week last year by 40 per cent. This means another heavy excess of exports over imports.

Men talk as if wheat had gone down out of sight, but the collapse of May speculation has only made it more evident that the outside world requires nearly, if not quite, all the wheat this country can spare. Last week Atlantic exports, flour included, were 4,206,-293 bushels, against 1,634,602 bushels 253,213 bushels, against 125,212 bushels last year, and it is close to the end of the season. Over 210,000,000 bushels of wheat has been already exported, and almost 200,000,000 bushels of corn— 4.134,800 during the past week, against 1.787,035 bushels last year, and the market is justified in feeling that those who have gone so far beyond all pre-cedent in defying current reports are entitled to pay for it.

Failures for the week ending June amounted to $2,195,049; manufacturng, $1,029,331, and trading $900,059. Failures for the week have been 203 in the United States, against 262 last year, and 17 in Canada, against 30 last

Bradstreet's statement: Accompanying reports of a seasonable quieting down of the spring demand for and movement of merchandise, come proofs that the spring business of the year 1898, with a few notable exceptions, has largely met expectations. lower prices for a number of cereals the Canadian Baptist and book room during the past week, in the face of a brought on a discussion about the slip- | there is an indisposition upon the part church affairs. The afternoon's ses-sion was given to a discussion of reso-ing as high as 775,000,000 bushels—the lutions, including one in favor of pro-hibition. A paper on Sunday school work and a paper on B. Y. P. U. work and while the corn and oat crops are were read and discussed. In the even- | reported rather backward, the tendency

A TALE OF LOVE Following the little spurt in the de-IN A FRESHET. mand for raw wool, largely on army

Railroad Man-Tells of How tions in the manufacturing trades are A His Ardor Was Cooled.

nearly all classes of groceries, of raw A Romance That Couldn't Survive in Blue Jeans and Gum Boots-An eather and lumber, while decreases are Agent Who Had Qualities That Soon Brought Him Promotion.

"Right here, at this placed spot in the Mistoric Delaware valley," said Colonel J. P. McCann, traveling passenger agent of the Missouri Pacitic Railway company, as Discussed by the Congregation the Erie train was approaching Callicoon, "I had an adventure that for a time promised to leave a vacancy in the passenger service of my company. It happened when I was somewhat younger than I am now and had a right to be moved by the circomstance that led to the adventure

"The lady in the case was visiting at Toronto, June 11.-At the Congrega- the house of a friend of mine up the state tional Union the report of the treaswhen I met her, She was a charming girl, urer of the Congregational College was and when she started home a week or so presented. It showed church contributions of $2,730 21, viz.: Quebec, $1.later I got permission from her to call and see her at her father's house.

"'We live near Callicoon,' she said. 'Do you know where Callicoon is?' "I knew where Callicoon was, and if I hadn't known where Callicoon was I'd have soon found out. A month passed be-072 30. The endowment fund assets At Toronto trade in drygoods and showed an increase of $5,400, the total fore I had an opportunity to make the being $53,875 51. The total debt was call, and then, having business along the Erie road, I stopped off at Callicoon. A statement of the endowment fund Charley Newman was agent of the Erie at committee in connection with the col-Callicoon. I asked Charley, in a careless, lege showed that, including legacies, offhand, businesslike sort of way, if he $34,675 had been subscribed on condition knew where Mr. So-and-so lived. that the full amount of $64,000, the pro-" 'Certainly,' said Charley. 'He's one posed total extra endowment, was made of the best farmers around here. Ain't In the meantime the subscribers going west, is he?' 'Well,' said I, 'I don't know. He's Rev. Morgan Wood suggested that been writing about land along our line.' "'I want to know,' said Charley. 'First I'd heard of it. Sorry. Why, yes, Joe. He lives only a couple of miles from here.' "I didn't know Charley as well then as I did afterward. I don't wonder now that his company jumped him from ticket agent at that backwoods station to city passen-

ing the pastors to carry out the sugger agent at Jersey City. 'Where'll I get a rig to drive to the Mr. Freeland moved that the report old man's place?' said I. "Charley showed me where to get a rig, held over until next year, and that in and when it was ready I get in the buggy the meantime a committee be appointed for the purpose of investigating the and started.

"'Hold on,' said Charley. 'It ain't that An amendment was moved to drop way. It's over yonder on the Pennsylthe matter, on the ground of Mr. Madill vania side of the river.' "'Oh ' said I. 'Where's the bridge?' suspension, and having done good work "'There ain't any bridge, said Charley.

'You ford the river.' At the request of Mr. Madill, who "I looked at the river, which wasn't far said he did not want another year's away. Fording rivers wasn't exactly in suspense, Mr. Freeland's motion was my line, but what was a little matter of withdrawn, and the report of the committee was adopted by a vote of 46 to fording a river in comparison with the circumstances that had called me thither? I thought of Leander and what he did once upon a time and said, 'Geedap.'

The horse started "'Let him pick his own way,' the liveryman hollered after me. 'Don't pull the lines on him. He knows the path.' "'The river's up a little, Joe,' hollered Charley. 'But it ain't more than an ordinary freshet, I guess.' "I have to cenfess that for a moment I edition of his book published in New York. wished that I hadn't stopped over at Callicoon, but I put such a base thought aside at once and went on. The road led straight Whereas, In the fourteenth edition of my into the river, and the horse went confidently forward. We were half way across, and the water wasn't up to the horse's knees. Then it began to rise higher. It contains my latest corrections and that it is kept on rising. It covered the hubs of the ment. This is to notify all persons concerned wagon. The horse's legs were out of sight. that the Declaration was inserted without my It came into the wagon. I stood up on the knowledge or consent, and that after examining the work I find it the most incorrect ediseat. It reached nearly to the top of the horse's back.

tion I have ever seen. There are in it between "The light buggy began to float. I 200 and 300 errors in printing, great numbers climbed over the dashboard and got on the of them very materfal ones, not to say anything horse's back, determined to cling to him of two or three sheets of the work which are to the last. The water covered the horse. For the information of those wishing to have I grabbed him round the neck. The water rose to his ears. Then only his nose was to give public notice that on account of the out, and that was out only because he multitude of errors in this edition I utterly raised his head to get it out. And he was NOAH WEBSTER, JU. swimming. The shore was yet a long way off. Then it was that I momentarily won-There was at times hot rivalry among dered who would be my successor in office the early publishers, as is visibly demonand was thankful that there would be no strated by these two flery invectives printwidow to mourn my untimely taking eff. ed in the Pennsylvania Gazette in Novem-Just as I had fully made up my mind that ber, 1729, soon after Benjamin Franklin the golden shore was the only shore I'd reach, and that I'd reach that one within Whereas, William Bradford of New York, the next minute or so, the horse struck Printer, has basely and villainously forged an almanack in my name, and I will therefore bostom, and we were soon high, but not dry, on Pennsylvania soil. I tumbled off the horse, soaked through and through, from head to foot. I had scarcely got te The following week came Bradford's rethe ground when I heard, coming from a These are to inform all persons that the above distance: 'Hel-l-oc-o. Joe!' "I turned and looked back across the giver. There stood Charley Newman on the bank, holding his hands to his mouth like a speaking trumpet.

'I forget to tell you,' he hollered, 'that I guess she ain't home. I think she went cast on No. 6 this morning.' "Then Charley turned and went back to the station and never looked round at me once. It would take too much time and require the reproduction of language out of place in a drawing room car to tell you what my feelings were and how I gave expression to them for a few minutes on the shore of that flowing river. By and by I concluded that the best thing I could do would be to drive on to the farmer's, stay there incognite until I could get my clothes dry and then return by some other route if it took me the whole week to do it. 'I'm glad she isn't home.' I said. 'I'm a fine looking chump to visit a lady, I

"I soon reached the house and was about to holler for the farmer or the hired man when from the other side of the road came

" 'Why, Mr. McCann! Did you fall in?" Of course I needn't tell you that the voice was hers. She hadn't gone away that morning on No. 6 at all. Did I fall in? No, but I felt just that minute as if I'd fall dead. And, say, didn't I have to stay there until the next afternoon rigged out in a pair of the hired man's blue jean overalls, one of his hickory shirts and his gum boots, because her father's clothes were not big enough for me? Yes, sir. It took all that time to dry those things of mine. She tried to make everything pleasant fer me, but I want to tell you that blue jeap overalls, hickory shirts and gum boots don't belong in the same class with love's young dream, and there wasn't any use. The romance had been knocked higher than Gilderov's kite, and as soon as I could get my own clothes on again I called for my horse. The river had gone down meantime, and I got back to Callicoon all right.

"Did he conclude to go west?' asked Charley Newman. "There was a real good tavern acress the and look at it, and he did. And I made quickly cures all female ills; 50 pleasize of Massachusetts and up my mind right there that if any charming girl should ever again ask me to call | T. Strong's drug store. on her and she should say that she lived in

ROYAL SONGETERS.

Well Known European Rulers Who Like to Sing and Do.

Few outside the intimate court circle at Berlin are aware that the kaiser has a very fine baritone voice, and that he is exceedingly fend of singing German and English ballads, which he does with a good deal of expression and feeling. His performances in this direction are restricted to the even. ing which he spends with his family, none but the most intimate friends and nearest relatives being admitted to the imperial

The emperor never sings unless either his wife or his brother consents to accompany him, for singing is one of the few things-perhaps the only one-in which he is not absolutely sure of his superiority, and it is probably precisely on that account-that is to say, in consequence of his diffidence—that he really sings in & very pleasing manner.

It is King Oscar, however, who possesses the finest baritone voice in Europe, and experts have declared that had be been forced to sing instead of reign for a living he would have surpassed every professional baritone now on the stage. Queen Margherita of Italy is passionately fond of singing and of music, but her husband, King Humbert, like King Leopold of Belgium, abominates the very sound of music, which grates upon his nerves. None of Queen Victoria's family professes to have a sufficiently good voice for singing to encourage him to perform solos. But they are all glad to join in singing, no matter when or where, and their voices are easily distinguishable above those of the remainder of the people singing. I never have been able quite to make out whether this is due to the peculiarity of their accent or if it is attributable to the fact that owing to their royal rank they have a right to pitch their voices higher and louder than any one else. Queen Victoria's third daughter, the Princess Christian of Sleswick-Holstein, belongs to choral societies in London and Windsor which give public concerts. In these the princess takes an active part. Nothing is more inspiring than to hear the Prince of Wales singing on Sunday at church at the top of his voice his favorite hymn, "Onward, Christian Soldiers," the rolling "r's" giving it something essentially militant and military.-Chicago

Du Maurier's Estimate of Leech. All that was 80 years ago and more. $ may say at once that I have reconsidered the opinion I formed of John Leech at that time. Leech, it is true, is by no means the one bright particular star, but he has recovered much of his lost first magnitude. If he shines more by what he has to say than by his manner of saying it. I have come to think that that is the best thing of the two to shine by, if you cannot shine by both, and I find that his manner was absolutely what it should have been for his purpose and his timeneither more nor less. He had so much to say and of a kind so delightful that I have no time to pick holes in his mode of expression, which at its best has satisfied far more discriminating experts than I. Besides which, the methods of printing and engraving have wonderfully improved since his day.

He drew straight on the wood bleck, with a lead pencil. His delicate gray lines had to be translated into the uncompromising coarse black lines of printers' ink -a ruinous process, and what his work lost in this way is only to be estimated by those who know. True, his mode of expression was not equal to Keene's-I never knew any that was in England or even approached it-but that, as Mr. Rudyard Kipling says, is another story .- George du Maurier in Harper's Magazine. .

Shakespeare Versus Burns. At the close of a lecture to the members of a certain literary society the following dialogue between a Scotchman and the lecturer was overheard: "Ye think a fine lot o' Shakespeare, dootor? "I do, sir." was the emphatic reply. "An ye think he was mair clever than Robbie Burns?"

"Why there's no comparison between "Maybe no, but ye tell us the nicht it was Shakespeare who wrote 'Uneasy lies 4 the head that wears a crown.' Now Robbie would never have written sic nonsense "Nonsense, sir!" thundered the indig nant dector. "Aye, just nonsense. Robbie would has kent fine that a king, or a queen, either, disna gang to bed wi the crown on his head. They hang it ower the back of a chair." The doctor's face dropped, for he realized that his lecture had been given in vain. - Scottish Nights.

"Solomon In All His Glory," We have recently read a description of a donation party given to a good country clergyman, in part payment of his small salary, the principal result being 27 bushels of beans and a large variety of second hand clothing for his five children. The patience of the clergyman's wife gave out. On the next Sunday she dressed all her five children in the donated second hand clothing, and under her direction they marched up the aisle just as the good pastor was reading that beautiful passage. 'Yet Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these." We need not add that the next donation party was of an entirely different character.-Pittsburg

A Settler.

Boarder (warmly)-Oh, I'm knowing to the tricks of your trade. Do you think I have lived in boarding houses 20 years for nothing? Landlady (frigidly)-I shouldn't be at all surprised.-London Fun.

A New York man says that he and his wife never have disputes because the flat in which they live is so small there is no room for argument.

Graven upon the tombstone of a jockey in a New Zealand cemetery are the simple words, "He has passed the post."

Impure blood is an enemy to health. and may lead to serious disease. Hood's Sarsaparilla conquers this enemy and averts danger.

There are 30 palaces belonging to the imperial family in various parts of Japan, but the present emperor has never occupied more than four of them, and some of them he has never seen. Ruby Lips and a Clear Skin.

are guaranteed by any woman who takes Merrill's System Tonic. This marvelous medicine is specially adapted women, because it supplies iron for the blood, cures constipation, strengthens the nerves, and by its blood-puriway, and I asked Charley if he'd go over fying and muscle toning properties. ant-to-take doses, 50 cents. Sold at W.

> Bowman's Patent Fly Screen is not a cheap screen, but it keeps out flies.

No use trying to stop our Fly. 84tf

D+++++++++++++++++++++ Table Jelles

Fresh Stock of Lazenby's Solidified Table Jellies Just received Complete assortment Of flavors. Two packages-25c.

Titunavald Goandraft V Ga 169 Dundas Street.

********

4

One of the Shrewd Women.

She was not poor, neither was she wealthy; she had just a living income, but she was wise and economizing. Last summer she wore a handsome sky blue and white Organdy muslin skirt and blouse. This summer she found skirt and blouse too faded and dingy to wear, but she did what she had often done before : she called to her aid the

WONDERFUL DIAMOND DYES

and with a packet of Violet she dyed skirt, blouse and hat feathers a rich heliotrope shade. Cost for new costume and fresh hat feathers only 10 cents.

One packet of any color of the Diamond Dyes will color as many goods as three packets of any of the common and imitation dyes. Get the Diamond Dyes from your dealer and success is assured.

mate is put on a plate over a chafing dish, and then the windows and doors of the room are closed. At the expiration of three or four hours the windows are opened and the apartment is thoroughly aired. The person entering the room should take the precaution to hold a sponge or cloth over the mouth and nose in order not to inhale the vapor. The following day the windows are again closed, and some sulphur is burned in order to neutralize any #### cleaned, when it will be ready for occupancy.—Philadelphia Record. Belgium, 11,000 square miles, is about

of the mercurial fumes which may linger

about the furniture and other articles.

The room should then be again aired and

The test of a man's condition after The test of a man's condition after dinner at a certain college used to be to make him say "Cissie Fitzgerald" three time. Now, however, it is to make him say "reconcentrado" once. make him say "reconcentrado" once.