greater part of the session without any great change in values. Fundamentally, however, the situation warrants no sustained improvement.

Oats—Were firm on fair general buying. Provisions—Developed a better tone. Some liquidation took place and a western packer sold lard rather freely, but ferings from scattered longs were companyively light.

Ennis & Stoppani wired to J. L. Mitchell at the close:
Wheat—After an early decline of %c, the wheat market ruled firm and higher thruout the session, closing with gain of one cent over last night's close. A prominent elevator interest was a heavy buyer all day with local shorts covering. The statistics as usual were bearish. We look for higher prices.

Corn—Was fairly active early, then came a period of dulness, during which the trade awaited the government figures, which indicate a crop of two and half billion bushels, which is about the same as last year.

Oats—Were easy early on selling by elevator interests. Tone improved after the government figures, estimating a crop of 739,181,000 bushels came out.

Provisions—Had a firmer tone to-day, with a fair class of investment buying in evidence.

with a fair class of investment buying in evidence.

J. R. Heintz & Co. wired to R. B. Holden at the close of the market:

Wheat—We feel very friendly to wheat and believe in buying on any dip from present prices. We look for a decided decrease in spring wheat movement very soon. Market closed ic higher.

Corn—Firm. There is little or no change in the legitimate situation. We believe the long side the safer to follow.

Oats—Market dull, but firm. This market will follow corn. There are no new features. features.
Provisions—Have shown a little more strength to-day. Liquidation seems about over and we advise purchases at these prices.

LONDON, Oct. 7.—London cables for cattle are steady at 11½c to 12½c per pound, dressed weight: refrigerator beef is quoted at 9%c to 10½c per pound. TORONTO LIVE STOCK.

Receipts of live stock on Wednesday, as reported by the railways, were 55 car loads, 1114 cattle, 672 hogs, 841 sheep and lambs and 32 calves.

The quality of the cattle was the worst of the season thus far. One prominent dealer said that out of the 114 cattle on sale there was not one load of good cattle in the lot.

Trade was fair, considering the quality, with prices about the same as quoted for Tuesday's market.

The market:

Wheat—After an easier opening, wheat railied sharply, owing to the oversold condision, and closed at top figure for the day, making a net advance of from to 1½c. There was nothing in the news, however, to warrant any especial advance to-day, nothing more than what we have been receiving this last week. Cash premiums are being well maintained, and millers still continue to bid for cash wheat to arrive at good premiums over December. We repeat again that the market is getting ready for a runaway. Be patient on the long side, but keep your wheat. When you see the market broaden, buy more. In our opinion there is only one side to the wheat market for the next six months, and that is the bull side.

Corn—Dull. Government report figures issued to-day showed a loss from September figures. As we have stated previously, we expect nothing more than a moderate crop of corn, and in view of the fact that stocks of old corn are practically exhausted, around & for May corn, especially in view of the wheat situation, we would recommend its purchase for fair profits.

Oats—Dull, following the lead of corn and wheat. Small scalping affair.

Oats—Dull, following the lead of corn and wheat. Small scalping affair, at the close wheat—The market tone was reversed shortly after the opening, and strength was the dominating characteristic the balance of the session.

The basis for the change was the dry weather throut the winter wheat section.

weather thruout the winter wheat sections.

A decreased acreage is feared and pending the outcome, farmers in that section are selling less freely.

Further, winter wheat millers are beginning to inquire for offerings at terminal points, which is a very good cation of the condition of interior supplies, and an increase in this sort of demand would have a very marked effect on prices.
