

COLLEGE STUDENT WRITES 600 WORDS ON POSTAGE STAMP

Claims World's Title for Small Penmanship.
IS NOVEL FEAT
Wesley Taylor Did Work
With Pen and Ink—No
Magnifying Glass.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Wesley Taylor of 404 West 115th street, a graduate student at Columbia University has laid claim to the world's smallest penmanship. Mr. Taylor said that he had written the word "America" on a postage stamp in 1924. The word was written in a space of 1/16 of an inch. The word was written in a space of 1/16 of an inch. The word was written in a space of 1/16 of an inch.

Mr. Taylor's small penmanship was accomplished on a small part of the back of a postage stamp. On reading of the dispatch from Italy, Mr. Taylor made this statement:

"Sometimes I wonder whether there is not something in telegraphy, for coincidences in the doing of things seldom or never does before have occurred time and again, as every one knows, and may be surprising if it is not almost unaccountable."

Excels Prof. Duroso's Feat.
It happens that I have just completed a piece of miniature writing which appears to surpass Professor Duroso's in smallness. America has every kind of championship; it ought to have this one, too. In quantity the Professor's is greater than mine; but per unit of space, if the newspaper reports are correct, mine contains considerably more writing.

I have written two of Abraham Lincoln's complete speeches, totaling 600 words, on the back of an ordinary postage stamp. Assuming, however, that it is 3/16 by 5/16 inches, the usual size of postage stamps, we see that he has written 14,139 words in 1 1/2 square inches. Now, my writing on the postage stamp measures a 1/16 by 1/16 inch, or 1/16 of a square inch, at a rate that would mean 14,139 words in the same space as the Professor's. Duroso has written 11,000.

Or, to figure it another way, he has written at the rate of 576 words in a square inch and one at 734 words in a square inch.

Mr. Taylor said that he did his work with a pen and ink. He used a fine steel pen in engraving. He used a fine steel pen in engraving. He used a fine steel pen in engraving.

It is only fair to say, he continues, "that while writing with a stylus on glass or metal, and with a microscope or special pantograph, has been frequently and finely done, attempts at miniature writing done with pen and ink, on paper, are extremely rare, and have always been so, though such attempts as have been made have been far from worthy of a little eulogy on the valuable pages of history."

"From all I have been able to learn, I judge that until the present time, the championship has belonged to Peter Bales, an interesting Englishman of many activities, who in 1910, I have been through all the literature on the subject that I could find in the Library of Congress. The late John Phin, the editor and author, had a wide acquaintance with this kind of art, but unfortunately he died in 1913, having written only a small fraction of what he knew about it."

MORE EMBEZZLERS MAKE GETAWAY
Trusted Employees in America
Stole Fortunes in Last Year.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Embezzlements by trusted employees and the same stolen were greater in 1924 than in 1923, according to the American Surety Company, which made public the annual review of its business.

Increased business was written by the American Surety Company in almost every department during 1924, thereby establishing another high record for all time," said F. W. LaFontaine, president.

Claims incurred were high, however, and resulted in increased loss ratios in several divisions.

Losses in number of claims recorded were reported largest in the fidelity and of the business where 381 more were in 1924, or 19 per cent. increase, was recorded. Losses in the fidelity field increased 37 per cent., indicating "even larger embezzlements than usual among trusted employees."

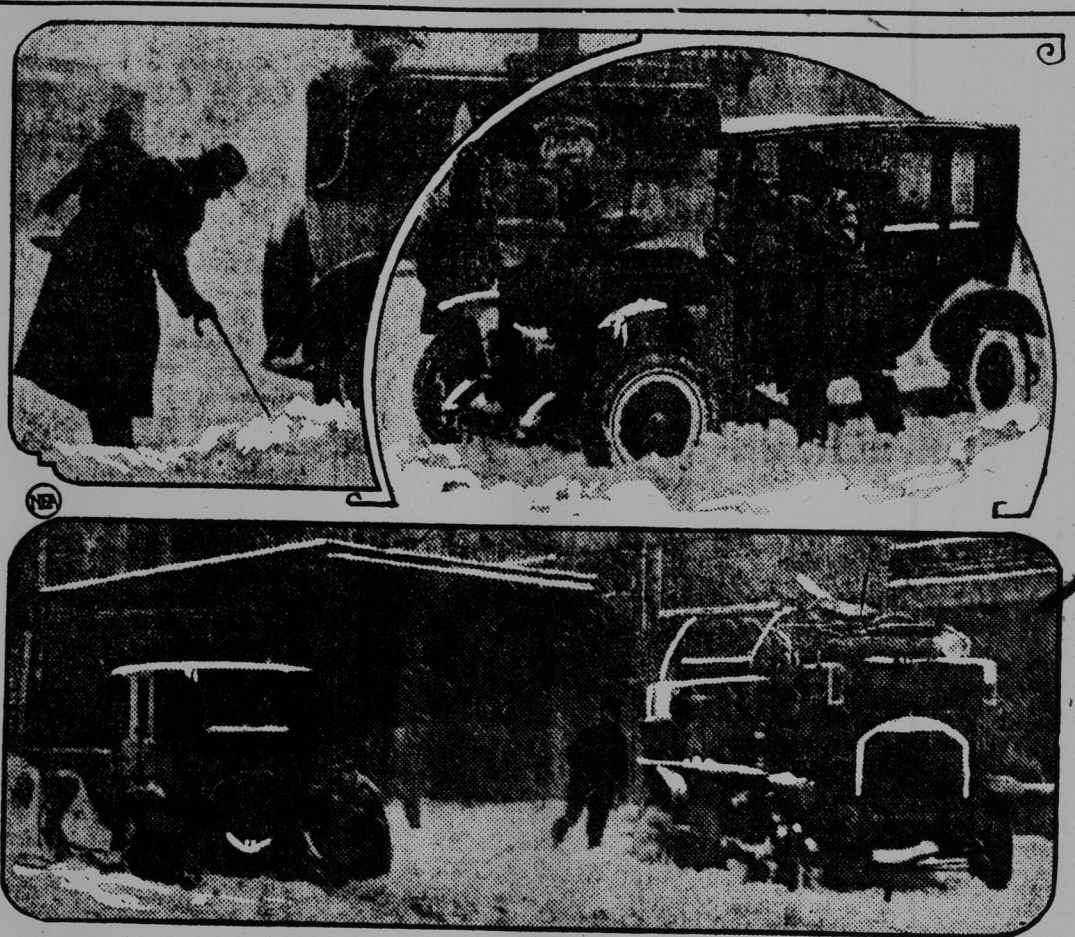

Burglary insurance and public official bonds showed practically the same number of claims incurred, but the net amounts in those two fields resulted in considerably smaller totals than the year before. The official bonds showed $90,000 less in deductions than in the previous year.

AIRPLANE RECORD
London-Berlin Trip Made by Passenger Plane in 4 Hours,
20 Minutes.

BERLIN, Jan. 7.—The London-Berlin air service established a new record when an airplane, carrying a full complement of passengers, mail and baggage, covered the 600-mile distance between the British and German capitals in an actual flying time of 4 hours and 20 minutes. Including stops at Amsterdam and Hanover, the airplane's time was 6 hours.

Ordinarily, the actual flying time is 7 hours, or 8 hours 30 minutes with the two stops.

When New York Was Buried Under Drifts of Snow

SAY PRINCE HENRY IS SOON TO MARRY

Rumor of Engagement to Lady
Mary Scott is Revived in London.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Official publication of the fact that Prince Henry is about to pay a fourth visit to the Duke and Duchess of Buccleuch in Scotland, has given some substance to reports which have been current for some time past that another of the royal princes will follow the example of the Duke of York and marry a Scottish girl. In the fierce light that beats about a throne, however, ordinary events and processes of life may assume exaggerated proportions, and inquiries in well-informed quarters today suggested that matters have not yet reached the point where any definite prediction of an engagement can be made judiciously.

That an engagement between Prince Henry and Lady Mary Scott would meet with the approval of the families on both sides can be stated on good authority, but for the rest the decision is entirely in the hands of the young people most concerned.

Prince George, Too.
Other reports are current as to the fact that Prince George, the fourth son, Prince George, and the opposition of his family are declared to be at least grossly exaggerated, if not entirely unfounded. Prince George is regarded by his father and mother as being entirely too young to know his own mind, even if he should be passing through the stage of calf love incidentally to his age. That he is affected in this fashion is daily denied by you, and that he is a good opportunity of knowing his state of mind. He is a cheery youngster, full of good spirits and not at all the sort of person to parade a blighted affection. That he has been frequently partnered at dances by a girl whose name has been mentioned as the object of his matrimonial intentions is not held to be adequate grounds upon which to build up a story of romance. In fact Prince George appears to have the happy faculty of enjoying himself with all his partners, and as he is about the best fox trotter in the royal family, he is greatly in demand in the younger smart set.

FUNDAMENTALISTS START CAMPAIGN
Seek to Control Next Presbyterian
General Assembly in U. S.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—Eight of the leading Fundamentalists in the Presbyterian ministry have sent a confidential letter to more than 1,500 other Presbyterian ministers who are expected to be Fundamentalists requesting that they use their influence in the meetings of the more than 200 presbyteries to have only Fundamentalist ministers and elders sent as commissioners to the Presbyterian General Assembly, which will meet in Columbus, Ohio, next May.

Aimed at Dr. Fosdick.
The letter is signed by the Rev. Dr. Walter Duncan, pastor of the Broadway church, leader of the Fundamentalist group in the Presbyterian ministry of New York; the Rev. Dr. Albert Dale Gantt, Williamsbridge church; the Rev. Dr. John F. Carson, Central church, Brooklyn; Professor J. Graham Maclean, Princeton Theological Seminary; the Rev. Dr. A. Gordon MacLennan, Bethany church, Philadelphia; and the Rev. Dr. Frank E. Alexander, First Presbyterian church, St. Louis.

There is an impression in Presbyterian circles that the letter is aimed largely at the First Presbyterian church, and its effort to retain as its pastor the Rev. Dr. Harry Emerson Fosdick, a Baptist, who recently resigned as associate minister, but who by permission of the Presbytery is continuing to occupy the pulpit until March 1 next.

The reconciliation followed dismissal of charges of neglecting his four minor children gained Elwell brought by his wife. "All except $800 of the prize is gone and we can start again," said Elwell.

OLD COINS ARE PUT

Dull Times in Part of Maine
Bring Them to Shopkeepers.

BIDDEFORD, Me., Jan. 8.—The reappearance in circulation of many ancient coins which have been hoarded for years in this section of Maine is reported by storekeepers and bankers as an accompaniment to the holiday season. They attribute this to the fact that the coins are being used to make change for the new gold dollars and 25-cent pieces and old time gold dollars and 25-cent pieces. Coin collectors have been able to pick up at their face value a number of pieces which they have long wanted to add to their treasures.

1,000 IMMIGRANTS
Arrangements Made to Bring
British Agriculturalists Here in 1925.

LONDON, Jan. 7.—Arrangements are being made to bring 1,000 persons, from the agricultural areas of the United Kingdom to Canada, the Daily Telegraph states. These are to settle on farms which are being set up for them through the joint action of the British and Canadian Governments.

Residents of the north of Scotland, Southern Wales and the west and south of England will be among the 200 emigrating families.

The British Government is lending $200 for the equipment of each farm taken up by the new settlers in Canada.

Another thousand emigrants will leave for Canada later.

PAY FOR AMBULANCE.
FREDERICTON, Jan. 8.—At the regular monthly meeting of the Hospital Aid association was made that the motor ambulance purchased less than a year ago at a cost of $2,500 by the society for Victoria hospital had been paid for; the announcement was received with hearty applause by the large gathering of members.

FORMER SOCIETY QUEEN IS CHARGE

Once Wealthy New York Woman Now an Object of Charity.

NEW YORK, Jan. 7.—Mrs. Aggie Bennett, 75 years old, known as "Queen Ag" in the days of the Guttenberg Race-track in North Bergen, more than 30 years ago, and until 20 years ago considered one of the wealthiest women in Hudson County, has been awaiting removal to St. Mary's Hospital, broken, as a charity patient from her home in North Bergen.

When the Guttenberg track was one of the most popular in the country, Mrs. Bennett and her husband, the late "Jim" Bennett, equally well known in racing circles, owned a string of race horses. In the stable, Mrs. Bennett owned a single race horse, named "Queen Ag," which she also owned much real estate in Hudson County and operated the Eclipse Hotel near the Guttenberg track and named after the famed horse.

Known as "Queen Ag,"
The sobriquet "Queen Ag" was bestowed upon Mrs. Bennett in the days when she dominated local society because of her wealth and regal bearing. Her appearance was always enhanced in public by the most bizarre and striking costumes.

About 80 years ago the Guttenberg track was abandoned and small residential bungalows displaced the grand stands, paddock and stables. "Jim" Bennett followed the sport at other tracks until his death about eight years ago, and in so doing lost the bulk of the Bennett fortune. The horses and much of the property were sold, and "Queen Ag," at her husband's death, inherited a few small parcels of property, which were soon disposed of to liquidate debts.

According to arrangements completed by the in-law in Westchester county, "Queen Ag," who in her delirium talks incessantly of the "old days" will be conveyed to the hospital as a public charge.

NEED STRICT LAWS TO REDUCE CRIME
N. Y. Judge Says City is Rendered Desperate and Bandits.

NEW YORK, Jan. 8.—When Judge Otto A. Rosaksky was empaneled in his part of General Sessions he referred to the fact that the calendar in the criminal courts was smaller than it had been in many years, but added: "This does not mean that crime is decreasing, however. I still maintain that the lawless community, with real desperadoes and bandits who ought to be in the penitentiary."

The Court then declared that something in the way of legislation was needed to alleviate the condition in the city brought about by the brazenness of criminals in committing crimes of violence and continued:

"New York is the dumping ground for criminals of the United States. We need a secret service, now, to investigate the authorities and laws. We need a system whereby every person who has served a term or terms in prison should be under the banishment of the Department of Welfare."

RESENTS ATTITUDE OF EASTERN CANADA

Head of Manitoba Farm Women
Describes Policy as Suicidal
One.

BRANDON, Man., Jan. 8.—The possibility of serious friction between eastern and western Canada was suggested today by Mrs. James Elliott, President of the United Farm Women of Manitoba in her address to the annual convention of the Association.

"The attitude of Eastern Canada to Western Canada," she said "is strikingly similar to the attitude of Great Britain to the United States prior to the revolution. The colonies were looked upon by the people of Great Britain, with one or two notable exceptions, as a happy hunting ground for exploiting the extraction of wealth and the imposition of owner's taxes. One cannot help but wonder if history will repeat itself and the attitude of the east ultimately force the people of the west to seek some form of self government such a suicidal policy is to be deprecated."

IS LOSING POWER

High Caste People of India
Gained to Oppose Policy of Gandhi.

CALCUTTA, Jan. 7.—The high caste classes are showing signs of counter-organization against the strength of the campaign by Mahatma Gandhi and others in favor of removing the grievances of the untouchables and the low castes. At a meeting held in Bombay, a committee was appointed for the purpose of counteracting the Gandhi propaganda.

Mammohandas Ranaji, the chairman of the meeting, said that untouchability was nothing more than moral segregation. One speaker characterized Gandhi as a heretic, intolerable to the Hindu religion, and he called Hindu society cowardly in tolerating such a heresy.
