POTTS
CANADA'S TRADE.
Frederic Hudd, Canadian Trade Commissioner in New York, presented an impressive outline of the growth of Canada's trade to a group of New Yorkers the other day, and impressed upon his audience the fact that the United States in the future must count more and more upon Canadian commerce in foreign markets. He said in part:

"One of the most market evidences of Canada's development is her export trade. In 1900 these exports were $177,000,000. In 1920 they were $1,286,000,000. Thus in twenty years Canada's export trade has increased almost ten times. At present Canada, with only 9,000,000 of people, is exceeded only in exports by the United States and Great Britain, and in imports by the United States, France and Italy. Indeed, in due time Canada will be making her bid for the trade of the world.

"Of Canada's total trade with the world, more than one-half is done with the United States. Canada sells more to the United States than she sells to any other country. Canada buys more from the United States than any other country—except Great Britain. Canada's purchases from the United States in one year represent $88 per head of the population, while what the United States buys from Canada represents only $6 per head of the population.

"In 1921 Canada sold to the United States goods to the value of $266,000,000, altogether largely on account of the Emergency Tariff this was $200,000,000 less than Canada's sales to the United States in the previous year. Canada's reduced ability to sell to the United States has resulted in a reduced ability to buy from the United States, so that while Canada's sales to the United States fell from $555,000,000 to $266,000,000, United States sales to Canada fell from $221,000,000 to $55,000,000, a decrease of nearly $400,000,000. The fall in prices accounts for only a percentage of this decrease."

PRESENTATION.
The Excelsior Bible Class of St. Andrew's church had a very pleasant social at the home of Mrs. Stratton, as a farewell to their teacher, Rev. Dr. Forquharson. After spending a few pleasant hours in music and singing, Mr. Law, on behalf of the class, presented to Dr. Forquharson a club bag suitably engraved. Although taken by surprise the doctor responded in very able manner. Speeches were made by other members of the class, after which dainty refreshments were served.
