THE EVENING TIMES AND STAR, ST. JOHN, N. B., TUESDAY, MARCH 23, 1920

TO SPEAK IN FRENCH.

(Mail and Empire.)

A proof of the friendly attitude often shown towards the people of Ontario by the French public men of the province of Quebec, is afforded by the fact that they will welcome some sort of exchange of lectures between the universities of the two provinces, with a view to better acquaintance and mutual advantage. This friendliness is further shown in concrete form by the visit to Toronto of Prof. Georges Le Bidois, recently arrived from Paris to lecture in French. He has written important works on the literature of France in the seventeenth century, on Racine and La Fontaine among others, and is also publishing a book on the religion of the Romanics. Prof. Le Bidois will be the guest of the university and will deliver, under university auspices, a lecture on Friday evening of this week at 8.15 in the Physics Building (near College street). The lecture will be given in French, and the subject will be "L'Amour chez les grands tragiques français." Admission will be free, and all are invited who are interested in French.

COMPLETES 132ND VOYAGE ACROSS THE ATLANTIC.

J. E. Hargreaves, an English wool merchant, who has been making trips from England to the United States nearly half a century, has completed his 132nd voyage across the Atlantic, arriving in Boston last week.

Morris A. Strickler of Detroit has contracted to breed 3,000,000 butterflies this year for feminine adornment. He has contracts for $50,000 worth of business this year.

GAVE AWAY MUCH IN WILL

Many Remembered in Bequests by Woman in Milton, Mass.

Dedham, March 23.—The will of Sarah Cornelia Townsend of Milton, filed at the Dedham probate court, makes a number of large personal and private bequests. Among them are the following:

To All Saints' Protestant Episcopal church of Dedham, $1,000 for a memorial to Rev. William H. Mills, formerly rector of St. Mary's Protestant Episcopal church; $8,000 to General Clergy Relief Fund of Philadelphia; $2,000 to the Domestic and Foreign Missionary Society of the Protestant Episcopal Church of the United States; $10,000 to the Church Home for orphans and destitute children of South Boston; $1,000 to St. Luke's Convalescent Home of Roxbury; $1,000 to Salvation Army and $500 additional for its Thanksgiving and Christmas dinners to the poor; $1,000 to the Episcopal City Mission of Boston for the benefit of sailors, with $500 additional to be used as its directors see fit; $1,000 to Milton Convalescent Home; $1,000 to Cullis Home for Consumptives, Dorchester; $500 to Boston Home for Incurables at Dorchester; $300 to the Home of the Good Shepherd at Sagadahoc Springs, N. Y.; $1,000 to Boston Seaman's Friend Society; $500 to Boston Children's Friend Society; $1,000 to the Massachusetts Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals; $500 to the Convalescent Home of the Children's Hospital at Wellesley for a bed in memory of Frederick Townsend; and $500 to St. Ann's Protestant church of Dorchester.

She leaves $10,000 each to her nieces, Sarah Leeds Parker, Melora Thayer Breed and Alice Beatrice Curtis, and establishes a trust fund of $10,000, the income of which is to be paid semi-annually to Charlotte Townsend Stone. John Henry Bufford, her nephew, is given $15,000, and $10,000 additional to his wife, Madeline Bufford; also $10,000 to Mary Codman Adams of Philadelphia; $1,000 to Helen Leeds Mitchell of Chicago; $2,000 to Alice Heard of Ipswich and $1,000 to her daughter, Elsie Heard; $500 to Mary Leeds of Reading; $500 to Fanny Henshaw of New York city; $500 to Mabel Pinto of Plainfield, N. J.; $1,000 to Margaret Tillinghast Lee; $2,000 to Rev. George F. Jen-ner, rector of St. Ann's Protestant Episcopal church of Roxbury; $500 to Grace Jones of Jamaica Plain and $500 to Edith Crehore.

John Driscoll, "formerly employed as coachman for my father and brother," is given $5,000, and $1,000 to Edna O'Rourke of Somerville, "formerly cook for my father and mother," and $500 each to Melissa Smith, "who formerly did service for me" and Thomas W. Pond, superintendent of Milton Cemetery.

She leaves her house, stable and studio and all her later in Highland street, Milton, and all furnishings and personal property, also a trust fund of $50,000 to her sister, Charlotte Louise Bufford; likewise all the rest and residue of the estate after the bequests have been provided for if her sister is living at the time of her death. If not the income of same bequest is to be divided among Sarah Leeds Parker, Charles Townsend Stone, Ellory Thayer

Leeds, Alice Beatrice Curtis and John Henry Bufford. A trust fund of $25,000 is created for Sarah Leeds Parker, the income to be paid during her life and to her children after her death. Her sister, Charlotte Louise Bufford, and Everett H. Sharp of Boston are named as the executors, and the Boston Safe Deposit and Trust Company, the trustee, with the right to sell her stocks and bonds any time it sees fit and add the amounts to the residue of the estate; also to sell any part of the estate. The will was drawn Jan. 14, 1915.

Chicago, March 23.—A statement issued by the Methodist Episcopal church declares that more than $15,000,000 will be expended by the church this year in caring for 7,500 pensioned ministers and their dependents.

$16,250 FOR ORIGINAL OF POEM BY SHELLEY. New York, March 23.—The original manuscript of Percy Bysshe Shelley's poem, "Julian and Maddalo," was sold for $16,250 to Ernest D. North at an auction of the library of the late Harry B. Forman. The original manuscript of "The Spectacles," by Edgar Allan Poe brought $2,100 at the same sale.
