LOCAL NEWS

AGAIN POSTPONED. The garden party to have been held today at Hasen Castle has been further postponed. Weather permitting, it will take place tomorrow.

BEEN AWAY LONG TIME. Mr. and Mrs. David Saunders of Cambridge, Mass., are visiting Mrs. Saunders' aunt, Mrs. Elizabeth Princey Forest street. Mr. Saunders is a former North End man but has been living in the States for the last twenty-six years. He has met some former old friends here with whom acquaintance has been pleasantly renewed.

WELCOMED BACK. Sergt. F. S. Callow, accompanied by his wife, arrived in the city at noon today from Quebec, where they had arrived from overseas aboard the S. S. Corsica. Sergeant Callow is an original 28th Battalion man and was twice wounded. For some time he has been serving with the C. A. M. C. in hospital at Folkestone. Friends gave them a hearty welcome. They are at present guests of F. Z. Fowler, Charlotte street.

ORCHARD FIELD DAY. The board of trade has been invited to join with the provincial department of agriculture and other bodies in the celebration of Orchard Field Day on Thursday, August 28. The programme covers inspection of certain orchards and nurseries on the St. John at Barton, a lunch at the Dominion Experimental Station, inspection of the orchards and farm, and also an inspection of orchards at Douglas and Springhill. The object of Orchard Field Day is to boost apple-growing in New Brunswick -- a most worthy object indeed.

HOME WITH BRIDE. Within a short time after his return from overseas where he had been serving with the American army, C. Edward Gorham was married in New York to Miss Alice Prager and they arrived in the city today to spend their honeymoon. Mr. Gorham is a son of George Gorham of the midtown and was living in the United States when war broke out. He joined with the Yanks and served in France and Belgium with the 24th Balloon Co. and went to Germany after the armistice in the American army of occupation. His wedding took place about two weeks ago in New York, where he and his bride will make their home. Numerous friends will wish them all possible happiness.

Prohibition, observes a contemporary, has fairly taken some people's breath away.

And now Coca Cola's been boosted to a dizzy height in the morning more insignificant and ashamed of itself all the time.

All our sympathies are with the drug-giet who is helping the little coin nickel in its fight for life--the chap who is still selling "Coke and ---" for five.

Local advertisement, speaking of showing celebration pictures here, says they "skin them all by a smile." We trust the operation was painless.

No matter how hard up a young man may be he does not stop to consider the high cost of living when he falls in love--and the high cost of loving is not to be sneezed at either.

Strange that among all the nice things the visitors said about us and our city last week we did not hear a single word of congratulation on our unique city streets.

MUST HAVE FIRE ESCAPE PLACED

Y. W. C. A. Hostel Regarded As A Hotel

Court Decision to Await a Week so That Arrangements May be Made to Have the Work Done

Whether the Y. W. C. A. hostel in King street might be called a hotel and those who were eligible for accommodation there should be called the public, charged with the act to prevent accidents by fire in hotels, were points upon which turned a case heard in the police court this morning against Edward Sears, charged with not having a fire escape on the Sears building in King street used by the Y. W. C. A. Magistrate Ritchie gave Mr. Sears one week in which to make arrangements to have the necessary escapes erected, in the meantime accepting a deposit of $200.

Mrs. Mary E. McAvity, president of the Y. W. C. A., said that the hostel had been in operation since March; there were five dormitories, each containing two to six beds, and some small rooms for accommodation for thirty-eight to forty ladies, on the fourth and fifth floors. The place was intended as a business girls' home, but any woman coming under the Y. W. C. A. standards could obtain lodging there.

Miss Margaret Maxwell, matron, said that a staff of five were resident in the hospital and they have had as many as forty girls and women sleeping there over night, mostly all permanent residents. She said that the expression, "coming up to the standards of the Y. W. C. A." meant that the building would promise to become members of the Y. W. C. A. and do all they could to further the work of the organization.

Chief Blake said that he had visited the building; that there was a very narrow hall way and he had recommended that a fire escape be erected. He was of the opinion that if a fire took place in the building while there were forty people in it, they would never all get out. "They would exit through the stairs in the rear except through an alley way into King street. He said further that the wiring in two places next door had been condemned by the electrical inspector and that at the present time there was a pile of shavings in the rear courts where some carpenter work was being done. "At the present time," the chief said, "the city has not a ladder that will reach to the top story of the building in question."

Factory and Hotel Inspector Kenney said that when the Y. W. C. A. took over the building he inspected it and concluded there should be more protection. He wrote to Postmaster Sears and later met him in the post office and at his request left the matter over until the end of the month as the postmaster was busy. He said he wrote Mr. Sears again at the end of that time and his lawyer, J. B. M. Baxter, asked the inspector to put the matter off for another week. Three weeks later, nothing having been done, he again wrote Mr. Sears soliciting to say that if the fire escape was not erected by the last Saturday in July he would take action.

This concluded the case for the prosecution, and Allan Blanco counsel for the defendant, moved for a dismissal on the grounds that under the act hotel means an inn, tavern, public house or place of refreshment where lodgings are provided for the public. According to the evidence, he contended, the lodgings in this place were not available to the public.

Mr. Kenney replied that if the magistrate decided that the hostel was not a hotel under the act the act should be amended. The magistrate declined to dismiss the case and Mr. Sears was called.

The magistrate said that a ladder led through an opening from the top story to the roof and there was also a coil of rope kept in the third flat. Magistrate Ritchie said that he considered that the act applied in this case and if it was not right steps should be taken to have it amended. He said the ladies who use this place should be protected just as much as those who use hotels, where protection is demanded. He agreed to let the case stand over for one week to allow Mr. Sears to take steps to comply with the law and asked that a deposit of $200, equal to the maximum penalty for an offence against the act, be left.

PRESENTATION TO BRIDE

In honor of her recent marriage Mrs. W. H. Cole, formerly Mrs. Mabelle Cole, pianist at the Lyric Theatre, was pleasantly remembered yesterday afternoon by the members of the staff of that house, the Unique and the King Musical Comedy Company. She was made the recipient of a handsome silver bon-bon dish and a silver almond basket. After the presentation three cheers were given by those assembled and Mrs. Lund made a fitting reply, thanking her co-workers for their kindness.

The presentation was made by S. C. Hurley, who read the accompanying address:

"To our dear pal, Mabelle, and our good friend, Mrs. Lund: The announcement that you had decided to embark on the sea of married life was received by us, the members of the King Musical Comedy Co., and the staff of the Unique and Lyric theatres, with much pleasure, and now, dear Mabelle, that you have forsaken the army of the single, we ask you to accept this gift as a memento of our good wishes for health, happiness and prosperity, and ask you to extend our sincere congratulations to Mr. Lund.

"May your joy be as deep as the ocean, "Your troubles as light as its foam."

HAPPY WOODSTOCK BOYS

The secretary of the board of trade has received the following appreciative letter from Scoutmaster George Ransom, of the 1st Woodstock troop, Boy Scouts:

"Most heartily I thank you on behalf of the lads themselves, on behalf of our Scout troop, and on behalf of our town for your kindness to our five boys during their stay in St. John. "It would be hard to imagine happier or more loyal boys than the three who have returned home, and from seven years' experience with these lads, I can assure you that the memories of their eventful hike will always bring gratitude to you for having made possible the greatest event of all--their meeting with their prince."
