L. Smith, Robert Reid, T. W. R. Smith, and F. H. Quirt, speaking in the central theatres.

THREE LOCAL MEN IN CASUALTY LIST

One Suffers From Shell Gas; Second Wounded in Hand; Third Recovering from Illness

There came to Mrs. Harry Little of 289 Brussels street today notification that her son, Pte. J. W. Masson of the New Brunswick Battalion in the war theatre on the western front, had been admitted to the West London General Hospital, Cumberland, London, S. E., on April 27, suffering from the effects of shell gas. Such notices in this household have not been uncommon since the war began. Another son, W. E. Masson, who went over with a divisional ammunition column, under Lieut.-Colonel Harrison, suffered loss of the use of his right hand through wounding, and has been home for some time. Her husband, Harry Little, was struck with Lieut.-Col. E. Massie in the Army Service Corps and was invalided home. A son, Roy Little, is now with the N. B. Battalion doing his share to bring the Hun to his knees.

Pte. J. W. Masson, mentioned in today's telegram, was shell shocked some seven or eight months ago and has been, since recovery, in a Y. M. C. A. canteen at the front.

Mrs. Reta Scribner of Metcalf street received a telegram this morning informing her that her son, Pte. Scott E. Scribner, had been admitted to Fort Pitt hospital, Chatham, on April 27, suffering from a gunshot wound in the left hand. This is the third time that Private Scribner has sustained wounds in his hands. Last September he had one of his thumbs badly lacerated by a piece of flying shrapnel and two weeks later a bullet overcame his right hand. He crossed overseas with the 16th field ambulance, but was later transferred into an infantry unit and is now attached to the New Brunswick battalion.

Mrs. E. V. Northrup of 26 Brook street received a telegram this morning notifying her that her husband, Acting Corporal E. J. Northrup, was no longer seriously ill. He is convalescing in No. 14 General Hospital in Eastbourne. On March 3 she first received word that he was seriously ill and again on April 4 received a similar message. She was anxiously awaiting further particulars and was greatly relieved this morning upon receipt of the good news. He crossed overseas with the 104th battalion.

The men were last seen at 6 o'clock on the Bay-side shore of the lake. The bodies have not yet been recovered but the lake is being dragged.
