OBITUARY

Major General Wilson

Major General Frederick Wilson, a distinguished Canadian soldier, died in Montreal yesterday. He was in his 93rd year and had seen service in the Sudan, being on the Gordon relief expedition, for which he was decorated with the Egyptian war medal and clasp and Khedive's Star, by Queen Victoria. He also saw service in the Northwest rebellion, and in 1897 was appointed commandant of the Royal Military College, Quebec. In 1907 he retired from active service and was granted the rank of major-general by the Canadian government. He will be given a full military funeral. He married a daughter of the late Sir Hugh Allen.

Frederick L. Clements

Plans were displayed at half past ten in Boston yesterday for the death of Frederick L. Clements, president of the Boston Fish Bureau. Mr. Clements was a native of Yarmouth; sixty years of age.

George T. McCoy

George T. McCoy, boiler-maker, of Moncton, died suddenly yesterday while at his work in the I. C. R. shops. He was working on a piece of iron when he sank to the floor. He died before a physician, who was summoned, arrived. He was fifty years old and is survived by his wife and five children. Alfred E. McCoy, of the Times composing room staff, St. John, is a brother. Many friends will extend sympathy in the sudden bereavement.

The engine leaped from the track as a train neared Londonbridge, and striking a cross-track, was thrown back on its own rails. It was found to be all right, and continued on its way as if nothing unusual had happened.

Daily Hints for the CookCORNMEAL HASTY PUDDING.

Put a quart of boiling water over the fire, adding to it a pinch of salt. Wet a cupful of yellow Indian meal with a cupful of cold water and beat out all lumps. Stir the wet meal into the boiling water and cook for a half hour or longer, stirring often to keep the mixture free of lumps. Eat with a hard sauce flavored with vanilla or serve with powdered sugar and cream.

HARD SAUCE.

Warm a heaping tablespoonful of butter slightly, but not melt it. Work into the butter a cupful of powdered sugar, stirring until light and soft. Flavor to taste, then whip in gradually the white of one egg and beat with an egg whip for ten minutes, or until the sauce is light and "fluffy." Set in the ice until needed.

SOUR MILK PANCAKES.

Soak in milk over night, enough dry crumbs to make a cup when cooked. In the morning add to them a cup of sour milk or buttermilk, a cup of flour, half a teaspoonful of baking soda, the same amount of salt and one egg. Beat all together and fry on a griddle.

Seeking Higher Wages

Editor The Star.—Sir:—In reference to the International Hod-Carriers and Builders' Laborers' Union, recently organized in St. John, I want to say that it is something that has been sadly needed for a long time. The men, whom this organization aims to bring together, are the men to whom falls all the dirty work and practically all the hardest and most laborious work that has to be performed; and at the same time they are the poorest paid of all workmen. The conditions under which they toil and live are unquestionably bad, and growing worse. The very worst conditions are found among the unskilled class of workmen. If, as it costs the master, he cannot buy a loaf of bread one cent cheaper than any other man, nor can he keep himself warm with any less clothing than his neighbor requires. Why should he be compelled to work so much cheaper? We want every laborer, whether a hod-carrier or wrecking buildings, excavation, digging of trenches, concrete for buildings, tending mason, building scaffolding, tending carpenter, cleaning debris from buildings and raising old buildings—no matter what he is working at—we want him to join the union. A condition has been reached such that we feel we must get an increase in wages in order to meet the increased cost of living. We are asking for two dollars per day after the first of May. This is a reasonable request, and we do not see any reason why we should not get it. As I said before, we must get the wages or accept a lower standard of living. Surely no one will feel like forcing us into a worse condition than we are living under at present.

Again I want to urge all unskilled laborers to attend our next regular business meeting, which will be held tonight in Opera House, Union street, at 7 o'clock. Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain,

Yours truly,

JOHN A. WICKHAM,

Cor. Secretary.

BLOUSE SECTION—SECOND FLOOR.

SOLLOWS & CO.'S REMARKABLE GROWTH

You talk of St. John's future. Look at Messrs. A. J. Sollows & Co., that enterprising manufacturing concern. Three years ago Mr. Sollows and his wife commenced manufacturing ladies' neckwear at their home. After three months they were forced to enter on manufacturing in earnest, when they acquired quarters in Prince William street, where they employed about six hands. Their business grew so rapidly that they had to move from there to larger quarters on the corner of King and Germain streets, where they occupied one part of the Foster building, second floor.

Two years ago Messrs. A. J. Sollows & Co., had installed the latest type of machinery for manufacturing collars, etc. These quarters they found small and today they are occupying the whole of the second floor and employ thirty-six hands.

In addition to making ladies' neckwear this firm are now making men's neckwear in the maritime provinces. The enterprise of Mr. Sollows and the goods he manufactures should win for him the patronage of the local trade.

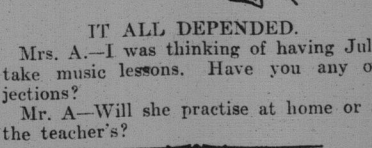

THE VERY ONE.

A good story is told of the celebrated Prussian Field Marshal Baron von Moltke, who, like many another great soldier, was a chess player, but as much above the ordinary chess player as he was above the common soldier in the rank and file. The story appeared in the "Westminster Gazette."

A great Turkish player at a big hotel in Constantinople had been challenging and beating everybody within a wide radius. One day a mean-looking stranger walked in and watched the game. Upon his conclusion, he quietly offered to play. The Turkish grandee looked at him rather contemptuously, and remarked, "I will play you for a hundred sequins." The stranger said, "Very well, sir; I will play you for a hundred sequins." The game commenced, and during its course an unusual "Gambit" was offered by the stranger. Its acceptance by the Turk caused the latter to lose the game. He said to the winner—

"Sir, I thought there was only one man in Europe who understood how to take advantage of that move." "Who might that be?" queried the unknown. "Baron von Moltke," snapped the Turk. "Sir," retorted the stranger, "I am Baron von Moltke, at your service."

Before putting such away for the summer soak them in sour milk whey. Then give them a coat of kerosene and wrap them in tissue paper.

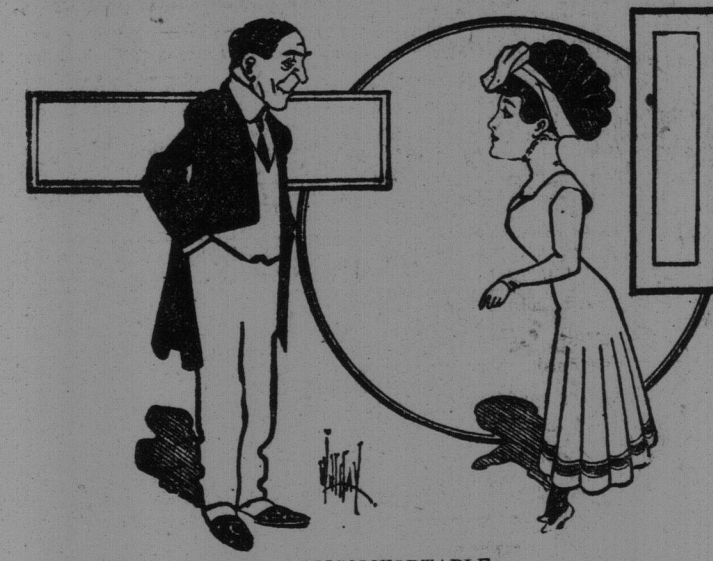

IT ALL DEPENDED.

Mrs. A.—I was thinking of having Julia take music lessons. Have you any objections?

Mr. A.—Will she practise at home or at the teacher's?

EVER TRY MEAT OR POULTRY COOKED WITH $1.00 GAS?

It's different to that prepared by the old-fashioned method by which 32 per cent. is lost by shrinkage, while, with $1.00 GAS this loss is reduced to only 17 per cent. Thus a gain, $1.00 GAS cooks meat and poultry evenly through and through and preserves the full strength and natural flavor.
