WINNING JOCKEY DESCRIBES DERBY

Tom Weston Tells How His Mount Won the Turf Classic.

"It was a poor start, but a magnificent finish," exclaimed Tommy Weston, the Yorkshire lad who won the English Derby for Lord Derby with Sansovino in the recent running of the English turf classic at Epsom, to the News of the World representative who met him following his great achievement in capturing a Derby after an interval of 157 years for the head of a family from which the race takes its name.

"Something like six lengths, I think, I saw my chance. I pulled Sansovino into the rails, and let him go again. We climbed the hill well and came down again in splendid style."

"Rounding the bend and getting into the straight, Sansovino sprang forward and gained the lead. I was very confident, for I felt that if the animal got once ahead of the crowd the lead would be maintained. The horse gave that sort of confidence almost from the start. It seemed to know just what was expected of it, and made every effort to pull through. Mud was splashing up everywhere. I was mothered coming down the hill, one ump hitting me square in the eye as though it had been shot out of a gun."

"In the straight Sansovino just forged ahead, and I could hear the sound of the rest of the horses getting dimmer and dimmer. I was surprised at the distance that separated us from the second. Sansovino merely cantered some after the real struggle at Tattenham Corner. Well, it is over now, and I am proud to have won the Derby by a Derby. That's all."

Weston is a Yorkshire lad. When he left school at Dewsbury he became a chain-boy for one of the railways in the town. He handled if the horses drawing heavy loads up steep gradients of the town attracted the attention of Mr. G. W. Smith, a northern race horse owner. The result was that Weston was apprenticed to Mr. Smith's stables at Middleham. As an apprentice he was very successful. Since then he has had some notable triumphs.

Brennan's Passing Recalls Ketchel's Death

By JOE WILLIAMS.

New York, June 26.—Bill Brennan, noted heavyweight, once a menacing barrier in the path of Dempsey, the champion, is shot down and killed by a New York gangster.

The man who makes his living battering human opponents to the canvas is instinctively a savage and through his system must course the impulses of the killer.

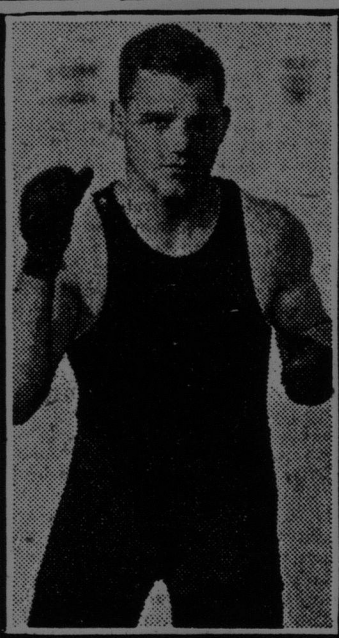

Yet the ring has been singularly free of violent tragedies.

Ketchel Shot to Death.

Stanley Ketchel was the only other noted fighter in memory to go to his death by an assassin's bullet. Ketchel, middleweight champion, was murdered by Walter Dwyer, a farmer, at Conway, Mo., Oct. 15, 1910.

Ketchel had gone to the Missouri village to train and was quartered at the Dwyer farm house. A discourteous remark addressed to a feminine member of the family by the fighter brought on a scuffle. Ketchel, who was a great favorite of the crowd, was killed.

There was no quiet, pastoral background for Brennan's death. The Chicago Irishman died in the midst of the gay crowd he loved—the night life with its barbaric melodies, morbid characters and electric atmosphere.

BILL BRENNAN.

"A dope bumped him off."

That was the police sergeant's laconic report. Brennan was not the fighter Ketchel was. Brennan was a plodder whose durability and infinite courage carried him higher in pugilism than anyone expected him to go. Ketchel was an artist with the fists, a tremendous biter, cat-like on his feet, and smart as a steel whip.

Once Brennan ran amok in ring circles and built up a lengthy list of knockouts. The experts began to call him a "knockout king." But chief credit belonged to his astute manager, Leo Flynn, who exercised extreme caution in selecting opponents for him.

Lacked Kayo Wallop.

Indeed, had Brennan been able to hit with even ordinary power he would have won the championship from Dempsey in 1920. The champion held Brennan cheaply, refused to train and entered the ring in beefy, hollow shape, hoping to end the fight with a punch.

Brennan held the championship for 12 rounds and then succumbed from his own exhaustion. Time after time he reached Dempsey with full pot shots to the jaw, but his blows lacked the death sting. A Willard, a Firpo, a Gibbons, even a Carpenter would have put the champion away that night.

BRITISH APPROVE CHANGE IN MEET

General Satisfaction Over Addition of Field Events in Games With U. S.

There is general satisfaction among athletic critics in England over the action of the Amateur Athletic Association there in adding the pole vault, javelin, discus, hammer and shot events to the programme of the meet scheduled to be held between the United States and the British Empire at Wembley Stadium on July 19. This is due to the interest now being shown in field events among English athletes, who have displayed unexpected strength in this branch of athletics with the standardized implements furnished them by those who have fought England's chances of victory against other nations has suffered owing to failure to practice assiduously for the field events.

"An official of the N. C. A. A. remarked to me that field events are just beginning in England and that soon we may expect big results," wrote Captain F. A. M. Webster, English amateur javelin-throwing champion, in the News of the World.

The News of the World. "This opinion seems to be generally accepted in official circles, and the old lethargy is disappearing. Further standards have been fixed by the A. A. A. for their open championships, and athletes are being actively encouraged by the award of international honors."

"There was no small amount of discontent among all sportsmen over the match between the British Empire and the United States of America on July 19 was first published, and it was found that, with the exception of the high and long jumps, field events had been entirely excluded."

The present action of the A. A. A. in adding to the programme pole vault, discus, javelin, hammer and shot events, however, meets with general approval among all sportsmen. One wonders if the omission of the hop, step and jump forebodes the exclusion of the event from the Olympic programme after Paris. I know the Americans are anxious it should be dropped, but they may find themselves up against strong opposition when the A. A. A. meets again.

"Australia is sending to Paris A. W. Winter. When he won the New South Wales shot, he was a world of good, and I cannot praise this remedy enough. Manufactured only by The T. Millard Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont."

MINSTRELS PLAY AGAIN.
A repeat performance by the St. John Baptist minstrels was given last evening in the basement of the church in addition to the presentation of the drama entitled "A Thief in the House," by the boys returning from St. Joseph's College, Memramook. Cyril Moore was a soloist.

"Down Under" seem about on a par with ourselves. W. F. Payne (Police A. C.) brought off a fine triple, taking 102 feet 1/2 inches and shotput 87 feet 10 1/2 inches. The hammer throw went to another policeman, S. T. Ferguson, at 128 feet 1/2 inches with Payne second; the broad jump to Dr. Homer at 22 feet 7 1/2 inches, and the high jump to V. R. Hanson at 5 feet 9 1/2 inches, exactly the same height at which he won his title last year. In all the throwing events the police, who have been wonderfully well coached, filled all first three places.

"Australia is strong for the field events, and only last week P. Munro, New Zealand, broke his own Australian record by throwing the discus 137 feet."

"A further series of Olympic trials have just been concluded at Sheffield, and the field events men, who only took up the game a few months ago, have made a wonderfully good showing, having beaten N. C. A. A. standards in almost every case. F. B. Bartlett, who has sacrificed his own chances for the instruction of others, retired from the high jump after winning at 5 feet 6 inches. He also won the javelin throw at 114 feet 5 1/2 inches. Moore, another great worker in the field events, took the discus at 96 feet 6 1/2 inches, the shotput going to F. Lindsay at 82 feet 8 inches."

The South End League attraction tonight will develop into a regular old-fashioned struggle between the St. John Baptist and the Royals. This game means a great deal to both teams, both of which have just started to climb out of the cellar. "Tack" Dalton will be on the mound for the Saints, and Freddie Dicks will oppose him. A big crowd is expected.

Post Office and Customs are billed to meet on the Barrack Square in a Civil League attraction. There is considerable rivalry between these two branches of the public service.

In the Intermediate League, the Canucks and Nationals play on the North End grounds, while on the Queen Square diamond, the Martellos will play an exhibition game with the Water Department team.

In the Acadia League, the Wolves meet the Olympics.

LORD BERESFORD'S EXPERIENCE.
(Felix Pennie in Vancouver Sun.) Vice-Admiral Sir Frederick L. Field, K. C. B., C. M. G., will be treated with all possible respect in Vancouver, I am sure. He will have the experience that befell Lord Beresford. The admiral's ship was in some port—not Vancouver. A rough, unkempt laborer in greasy overalls, Moore, got on the quarter deck and began asking questions with great familiarity.

"What do you mean, sir," said Beresford, "by interrupting me in this uncouth style. Do you know who I am?"

"No—who are you?"

"Sir, I'm the admiral."

"Well, then," was the cool rejoinder, "you've got a good job. Stick

Constant Headaches and Dizziness

It is hard to struggle along with a head that aches and pains all the time and in nine cases out of ten the persistent headaches are due to some derangement of the stomach, liver or bowels.

Undoubtedly the cause must be removed before permanent relief may be had.

Burdock Blood Bitters removes the cause of the headaches, as it acts on every organ of the body and strengthens, purifies and regulates the whole system.

Mrs. Peter Curran, 27 Morrison St., Sydney, N. S., writes:—"I have been troubled for the last five years with constant headaches and dizziness. After trying several remedies, which I found to be of no avail, Burdock Blood Bitters was recommended to me. B.B.B. did me a world of good, and I cannot praise this remedy enough. ## WASHINGTON IN FIRST POSITION

Ruth Connects for His Eighteenth Homer of the Season.

New York, June 26.—Both New York teams lost yesterday in a pair of seven-inning games which were stopped by rain, the Yankees dropping into a third place tie with Boston, and the Giants having their ten-game winning streak broken by the Brooklyn Robins.

The Giants had tied the score in the beginning of the eighth when the rain not only stopped the game but washed out their counter, the score reverting to 3-2. The Yankees Babe Ruth knocked his eighteenth homer of the season.

Detroit moved up into second place by defeating St. Louis.

Cleveland and Chicago changed positions when the White Sox won a double header, 2 to 1 and 8 to 1 and moved into sixth place.

The Phillies and the Braves split a double header, the Phillies beating the Braves, 10 to 9, in the first game, and the Braves beating the Phillies, 9 to 8, in the second.

The Red Sox did better than their brother Bostonians, defeating the Athletics four runs to three.

St. Louis and Cincinnati divided honors, the Cards winning the first game by the popular score of 3 to 2, and the Reds taking the second, 2 to 1. In the latter encounter Mays won his own game with a double in the last half of the ninth.

The Pirates and Cubs staged a 14 inning conflict in Pittsburgh, which ended with the home team on top, 8 to 7.

Some Sidelights On Suburban Golf Clubs

Secretary Ralph Robertson and Harold Peters were the winners in last week's sweepstakes at the Riverside Golf and Country Club. They won the usual dozen golf balls.

It is thought that the newly laid-out Riverside course will be 34 par and 41 bogey, though the exact calculations have not yet been made.

A new feature at Riverside will be the Junior Sweepstakes to be held on Saturday mornings fortnightly. The first will be held this week. There will be handicaps ranging from 25 to 45, giving all the boys a fair showing.

The Riverside golf players will also have matches among themselves, to be arranged later. Junior championships will be begun in a short while.

Several Rotary delegates to the recent Toronto convention from this city report having had some rare sport on the various courses in and about the Queen City.

At Westfield this Saturday the first of the North vs. South matches will be held. The losers pay for the dinner to be provided by the ladies of the club. Residents living north of the roadway dividing Westfield and one-one-one will play those living south of it.

NEW TENNIS COURTS IN ST. PETER'S PARK.
The new tennis courts in St. Peter's park are now ready for play and were used for the first time on Tuesday evening. The full equipment has been obtained and the young people of the district are delighted at the opportunity for playing tennis. The courts are in good condition and promise to be very much in demand.

SIMONDS NEWS

Two meetings of the Band of Hope were held last week in the parish of Simonds, and they were both well attended. The first was a meeting at Otter Lake on June 17. Mr. Gardiner, the student at St. Mary's church, gave a very helpful address on Newfoundland, and the children of the district were given by the children of the district. Rev. C. W. Follett was chairman.

On June 20 the Band of Hope met at Wallace's Hall, Gardiner's Creek and a programme of songs, recitations and a programme of songs, recitations and dialogues was given by both children and adults. The rector was chairman, and Rev. A. Dickinson, rector of St. Martin's, and Mr. McKinnon, Presbyterian student, both spoke at the meeting.

The proceeds from the two meetings, amounting to $11, are for the budget. The children were trained by the school teachers.

The Band of Hope is a temperance society for children in the parish of Simonds and is in connection with the Church of England.

The people of Black River and Gardiner Creek are looking forward to a big social to be held at Wallace's Hall on July 3, in aid of the Anglican church.

TO MEET SHEVLIN.
According to the Halifax Echo, Promoter Jimmie Mulachy has completed arrangements for the staging of an Eddie Shevlin-Nedder Healey bout at the Arena at Halifax on July 8. Shevlin is welterweight champion of New England and is rated as one of the men men of his weight in the States.

The Fair Vale ball team lost out to Rothesay in the first of the inter-suburban games last Tuesday, score 10 to 8. Rathburn and Short formed the battery for the Rothesay boys, with Edward Higgins and John Higgins performing for Fair Vale.

IRISH GAMES OPEN IN DUBLIN AUG. 3

Miss Riggan and Miss Meaney, Well Known Here, Will Compete.

Competition in the Tailteann games will start in Dublin on Sunday, Aug. 3, with the United States meeting Ireland in the opening event. The first contest will be in hurling, and when that is concluded the English soccer team will meet the representatives of Scotland. On the following day the United States again will go into action, this time on the soccer field. Scotland will be the opponent.

It also has been announced that Miss Allen Riggan and Miss Helen Meaney, both of the Women's Swimming Association of New York, (and both of whom have competed here in St. John), will compete in the women's swimming events, and John Farley, holder of the American national breast stroke title and who broke several world's records recently, among them being the one for 220-yard breast stroke, already has forwarded his entry.

The swimmers will first compete in the Olympics and then are expected to go to England, where they will enter a number of events, after which they will go to Ireland for the Irish games. Paul Kennedy, who recently performed well in the shorter distances at a track meet at Notre Dame, also is asking to be placed on the American track team which will compete in the Dublin games.

Officials in charge of the games will make every effort possible to have the sports conform with those practiced in ancient times, when all the clans of Ireland assembled on the field to enter into friendly competition, forgetting their feuds and disagreements. All the old-time sports will be indulged in as well as the most modern. The Dublin Horse Show will be held during the Tailteann period and will be a part of the festival.

The city of Dublin will be richly decorated, and Croke Park, the national stadium, which comfortably accommodates 80,000 persons, will be burdened with flags and bunting. A leading part in preparing the festivities is being taken by Senator William B. Yeats, well known poet and litterateur, and winner of the Nobel prize of 1924.

The eighteen days and evenings on the programme promise to be well filled, and no one will be lacking in entertainment. During the day sporting events will be the centre of activity, but in the evenings literature, the theatre, singing and dancing will hold sway. A choir of 600 voices and massed bands from every part of the country will furnish the major portion of the music.

Entries already have been received for the sporting events of the game from Canada, England, Australia, the United States, Scotland, Wales, South Africa and the Argentine.

NOW NINE-HOLE COURSE.

The new nine-hole course at the Riverside Golf and Country Club was used for the first time on Saturday last, marking a long step forward in plans to make the course a regulation 18-hole affair. It is said the new layout adds several hundred yards to the total distance and that when measured the Riverside course will enjoy the distinction of being the longest nine-hole course in this section of Canada.

The phonograph industry has an annual output valued at more than $150,000,000.
