

ORLEANS FLASHES
 A Times-Man Fine—Flying Machine Experiments.
 London, July 7.—In the liberation of Andrew Atteridge against E. F. Knight, Sunday was correspondent of the Daily Chronicle and Times, of London, the jury awarded the plaintiff £1,000 damages. Knight wrote a letter accusing Atteridge of cowardice in remaining in the rear with the baggage and of selfish and neglectful conduct towards a colleague, Henry Garrett, who died of cholera in the Sunday on July 26, 1896. On Saturday July 7, the dispatch of the striking mill hands up the Escholtz, who were said to be preparing to march on this city 8,000 strong, to reinforce the strikers here, had an excellent effect. The mill hands and strikers have dispersed, and all is now quiet here.

IN BED FOR WEEKS.
 And Every Breath She Drew Was an Excruciating Pain—Rheumatism Had Exceeded Her Tolerance on His Prey—South American Rheumatic Cure Sought Her From His Grasp.
 "For fifteen years I had been troubled with rheumatism. It had settled in my back. At times the pain was so severe as to entirely lay me up for weeks at a time. I was just about discouraged when I had given up hope when I was recommended to try South American Rheumatic Cure. I did so. The first bottle enabled me to leave my bed, and in one week from the time I commenced its use I was completely cured. It is undoubtedly the best remedy in the world for rheumatism." Mrs. John Beaumont, Elora.

GERMAN INVESTIGATING COMMISSION MAKES ITS REPORT.
 Vienna, July 6.—The special commission sent to India to study the bubonic plague reports that in a majority of cases the bacilli enter the body through the skin, although they sometimes enter through the lungs or by the tonsils. The period of incubation is from four to five days. The rat appears to be the only animal spontaneously affected and it is not likely the disease will enter Europe under the present methods of supervision, except perhaps through rats in ships.
