Tarriff Commission Coming to St John-Laurier and Provincial Subsidies-General News.

REGINA, Saskatchewan, Dec. 12.-J K. McInnis, editor of the Standard who was arrested on a charge of criminal libel at the instance of Premier Scott, applied yesterday for prelimin ary hearing and was remanded until today. In discussing the charge by McInnis of attempted bribery yesterday, Hon, Mr. Scott said: "I declare positively that in my whole conversation with McInnis I never in the most remote way suggested what could or would be done with the charter, depending on McInnis's support of the liberals. If you will read his charges more carefully, you will see that while they are intended to give that impression, he is careful not to say specifically that I do so. I also positively deny that I named the sum of $12,000 in the conversation. I shall completely clear myself of the charge or permanently retire from public life. I have lived nineteen years in Regina. not believe that any man in Regina can or will say that I ever gave my word to him and broke it. My personal character and reputation are more to me than political success. To carry on the election fight to polling day is a duty I owe to the liberal party, and to the people of Saskatchewan. Once election day is passed my first duty will be to clear up this infamous charge and to prove that McInnis is a contemptible libeller."

MONTREAL, Dec. 12.—Hon. Lomer Gouin, who will leave shortly to take up his residence in Quebec, was made the recipient of a complimentary banquet last night by supporters and admirers. The affair was a brilliant success, several hundred guests, including many prominent politicians, being of education in Quebec, and declared the intention of his government to make that one of the chief points of their platform. He also dealt at considerable length with the question of provincial subsidies, declaring the arrangement made at the time of Confederation was not satisfactory to th provinces, which now asked the act to amended so as to allow the provinces to secure increased subsidies to meet the growing demands upon them. Sir Wilfrid Laurier, in the course of his reply to the toast of Canada, intimated he could not hold forth any hope in the near future.

MURRAY, ESQ., OF CAMPBELLION.

On Monday morning about one o'clock occurred the death of Charles Murray of Campbellton, after an illness of over six days. On Sunday morning, the 26th ult., Mr. Murray attended church as usual, and in the afternoon complained of being unwell. The next day he was unable to attend to his business duties and medical aid was summoned. Towards the end of the week he rallied somewhat, and it was hoped that he was on the road to recovery, but Saturday morning his condition was pronounced serious and he grew gradually weaker until he passed peacefully away on Monday morning, aged 85 years.

He was born in Yarmouth, N. S., Sept. 6th, 1820, and removed to Hallfax in early years, where for some time he was bookkeeper to the late firm of Fairbanks & Allison. He married Miss Story of that city, who was the daughter of the late John Story, naval architect of H. M. dockyard. He afterwards moved to Campbellton, N. B., where he has resided up to the time of his death.

Mrs. Murray died about four years ago. Mr. Murray was one of Campbellton's most respected citizens, taking a prominent place in benevolent and public matters of various kinds. He was president of the Rural Cemetery at the time of his death, which position he has held for a number of years. He was also American vice consul, and a justice of the peace for the parish of Addington.

The deceased was a life-long member of the Episcopal Church, to which he held the office of church warden at the time of death. Mr. Murray also belonged to the Order of Free Masons, and was probably the oldest Master Mason in the Dominion, having joined St. Andrew's Lodge, Halifax, sixty-one years ago.

The funeral took place Wednesday afternoon at two o'clock, the remains being taken from the residence of his son-in-law, W. W. Doherty, to Christ Church, where an impressive service was held, the rector, Rev. R. J. Coleman, officiating. Mr. Coleman in the course of his remarks referred to the exemplary Christian character of the deceased, being foremost in all bene-volent enterprises, and a liberal supporter of the church of which he was member. In fact, it was largely due to his energy and indomitable courage that the church building was erected here some twent, seven years ago. The funeral was one of the largest seen in Campbellton for many years. Interment took place in the Rural Ceme-The pall-bearers were W. A. Mott, J. H. Taylor, Thos. Wran Wm. Parker, John McAlister, J. S. Benedict, J. Bradshaw McKenzie and Oswald justice today in the premier's office the and asked for a Sunday observance bill this time the St. John river was in disat the next session of parliament.

Dr. Potts introduced the delegation that the alliance were advised by counsel that the supreme court and judicial committee held that the dominion must legislate, which was contrary to the view held by the government when an application of this kind was made two years ago. The alliance represented a varied constitution, it represented all the churches, Protestant and Catholic. Recently the archbishops presented a statement to the minister of justice, which gave their views and which were embodied in the draft bill handed the government some two years ago. The question of jurisdiction being decided in favor of the dominion, delegation was there to ask for legislation on the lines of the draft bill. Rev. Mr. Shearer pointed out the special need of such legislation on account of the very meagre and unsatis-factory Sunday laws of anti-confederation days. He said that in Montreal there was an attempt to legalize Sunday theatres. In Winnipeg and Vancouver it was said by competent counthat there were no Sunday laws. The alliance did not think that this was right. Mr. Shearer pointed out the broad character of the legislation. All controversial points were left out. These points were left to anti-confederation laws. It was of the utmost importance that legislation should be brought on early next session.

Mr. MacPherson dealt with the aspect of the question supporting the view that it was the dominion and not the provinces that should legislate, Mr. Fitzpatrick was personally of the opinion that the provinces had the power to legislate to at least a considerable extent. At the same time he held the draft bill was a broad and liberal one and thought it might be dealt with without serious difficulty

Sir Wilfrid Laurier said it was an mportant matter and would have to referred to the cabinet and he could not give a definite answer. He would invite them to an interview later on. As there was not likely to be an early session of parliament they would have time to fully consider the whole ques-

Doan's Kidney Pills CURED HIM

Mr. Thomas Fitzgerald, Hazeldean, Ont., writes us as follows: "I was a great sufferer from kidney trouble for eight months. I had terrible pains across the small of my back. I would have to stay in bed for three days at a time and could not do any work. I tried several remedies but of no avail, and also plasters but they were of no use.

One day a neighbor of mine advised me to try Doan's Kidney Pills. I was so much discouraged I told him I was tired of trying remedies, but he urged me to try one box so I purchased one, and before I was through using it, I found a change for the better so I got five boxes more, and I have had no trouble with my kidneys since. I would not be without Doan's Pills in my house."

ST. JOHN RIVER IN HISTORY

Interesting and Valuable Historical Wor Has Just Been Published by Rev. W. O. Raymond.

Those who have followed with pleasure Rev. Dr. Raymond's interesting serial history of the St. John River as published in the Telegraph will be glad to learn of its issue in book form. The new volume which contains 370 pages and numerous illustrations is a valuable contribution to the historical literature of the province and demands a place on the bookshelves of every New Brunswicker, Its great mass of information and the interesting handling of it combine to claim for the book a permanent place in the esteem of all to whom the lives and work of the men who made this province what it is, seem worthy of remembrance.

The book begins with a comprehensive sketch of the early history of the province preceding and subsequent to its first exploration. The struggles between the early settlers and the Aborignes and the Anglo-French wars form conquest of Canada in 1759. All pute between England and France. The French strove to retain possession and explained the subject. He said built forts at Menagoueche (the name they applied to St. John), and at Woodman's Point at the mouth of the Nerepis. The Abbe le Loutre and Commander Boishebert strove to maintain the French ascendency against Governors Shirley of Massachusetts, and Lawrence of Nova Scotia, but in vain. The French were expelled from Acadia soon after the fall of Louisbourg, and became for a time the foot ball of fortune. On the 20th of September, 1759, Colonel Robert Monckton landed at St. John and took formal possession of Fort Menagoueche, which he rebuilt and renamed Fort Frederick. With

As the record approaches modern times the interest increases, the business and governmental troubles of the people being fully described. Brief sketches are given of the founders of the families, Beckwith, Quinton, Jones, Burpee, Palmer, Nevers, Perley, Peabody, Barker, Atherton, Garrison, Coy, Estey, Estabrooks Darling, Kemble, Sterling, Glasier and others.

Dr. Raymond gives a chapter on the early religious teachers who labored on the St. John, commencing with the French missionaries, treating also of those in connection with the Church of England, Congregational, Methodist, Baptist and Presbyterian bodies. The closing chapter on the coming of the Loyalists fills nearly thirty pages and gives with more fullness of detail and accuracy, than has yet been attempted, the story of the Loyalist emigration. The voyages of the spring eet, the June fleet and the autumn fleet are described in detail, and the hardships endured by the founders of St. John and Fredericton told in a realistic way. The book may be obtained at a very oderate price of Barnes & Co., and is also on sale at the principal bookstores, Special arrangements will be made with teachers and those engaged Shilon in educational work.

Of 17,000 Farm Laborers Two Members of Pauline Who Went From East

Only Between 8,000 and 9,000 Are Returning to Their Homes.

(Winnipeg Telegram.)

Of some 17,000 harvesters from the eastern provinces who came to the west this year to help garner the largest wheat crop in the history of the country, it is estimated that fully 50 per cent, remained here. Now that the time during which the return tickets of the excursionists were valid has expired ,all those who will not remain in the west have returned, and the return slips of their tickets have been eccived at the passenger departments of the Canadian Pacific and the Canadian Northern railways. Not all of these have yet been received from the points along the branch lines, but the returns so far show that at least half the harvesters will remain here.

ARE EXPERIENCED FARMERS.

"What this means to the west is but ebly expressed in the number who have decided to cast their lot with the provinces of Manitoba, Alberta and Saskatchewan. Nearly every one of these newcomers is a trained farmer, who has learned the ways of agriculture in the east and who takes up the work here with a stock of experience on hand that promises a rapid development of the country," said an official of the provincial immigration department the other day. "Men such as these are worth more to the west just now than many times the same number of foreign immigrants without the experience. They know just what to made. The most reliable theories point do and how to do it. 'Many of them too, are well off. They came out to see first hand what the country could produce. To even the most sanguine the crop of 1905 was a revelation; they remained. Of those who returned many will come here next year to stay."

Another interesting feature of the season's influx lies in the fact that many of the newcomers are European immigrants, who have spent at least a year in Ontario or Quebec. they first struck Canada the high wages of the east induced them to hire with the farmers there.
