number of the best dwellings throughout the city, and in every instance gives the very best of satisfaction. It is the only water closet valve that thoroughly washes out the closet and leaves the trap full of clean water, thereby preventing bad smell in the house. Parties about making sanitary alterations would do well to see this valve before having their work done. Apply to THOS. CAMPBELL, Plumber and Gasfitter, 79 GERMAIN STREET.

I would like to see a game between these ro clubs. They should make arrange-ents before the season's programme is ade up, for I believe that was the excuse es Shamrocks gave last year. Prepared by G. A. MOORE, EVERYBODY SHOULD HAVE IT the Shamrocks gave last year.

I heard of a good plan, the other day, by which the boys expect to make a little money out of ball on the Barrack square. The idea is to have contribution boxes at the gates. They think that everybody who paid last year will contribute, and that will pay expenses, if nothing else.

I don't think anybody of any principle will want to see a good game of ball for a nothing, under these circumstances. All lovers of the game will not fail to drop a dime or a quarter, rather than see the junsors fall to pieces; for the boys are not all millionaires, and although they play for helic own amusement, as well as for that of the public, it is only fair that everybody bould share the expense.

SPORTS OF THE SEASON. The organization of the Carleton Amateur Athletic club—which ought to succeed and will, I think—was the only sign of activity that met my eyes this week. There isn't much news afloat just at present, though a good deal of interest attaches to the National league games, which began Wednesday. Our base ball brethren are exactly a month ahead of us, but we shall get there just the same. Anyway, April is too cold a month for outdoor sport, anywhere this side of Baltimore. Take my word for it, the leaguers would be mighty glad to keep off the diamond until the middle of May—but the cranks won't have it so.

The Thistles expect to make the junior clubs hustle this season. They are very anxious to meet the Shamrocks, and if the later do not have imported players, the Thistles will give them a good game.

The Thistles feel sore over the way they were treated by the Shamrocks, last year, and if what they say is true, have some reason to be. The Thistles had the Barracks for the 1st of July—one of the best paying days of the season—and the Shamrocks managed to play two games there that day. They promised, however, to give the Thistles a game later on in the season, but never did.

Mr. Shatford is already talking of a running meet, either just before or pince, and there is no reason why, it the games should take place, an earnest effort after the great Halifax meeting in June, a freedly feeling prevail as did a few years will attend him again.

July 1 and the day following are being looked forward to with much interest by horsemen. The baseballists have a list was pleasure to witness the port of the state of place of any player in a game of ball, and the work of the state that the state of player be disabled in the game of the solidals, in the day following are being looked forward to with much interest by horsemen. The baseballists have a list may be conditioned any state of the solidal and perhaps will run the horsemen hard for Dominion day. But at all times when local events are likely to conflict let them be coaled in state and local events are likely to conflict let them be coaled in state and local events are likely to conflict let them be coaled in state and local events are likely to conflict let them be coaled events are likely to conflict let them be coaled and said the would play himself, and be condition his arm was in The talk the was pleased to take the player be idealed in the player by reason of illness or ighted the base as best to could with the umpire was in the player and was the sole judge. Hackett was persuaded to take the player be disabled in the game to be sole judge. Haligonina we had been placed on first, instead of Dominion day.
