

A LIFE SAVED

AYER'S CHERRY PECTORAL

"Several years ago, I caught a severe cold, attended with a terrible cough that allowed me no rest, either day or night. The doctor pronounced my case hopeless. A friend, learning of my trouble, sent me a bottle of Ayer's Cherry Pectoral. By its use I had used the whole bottle, I was completely cured and I believe it saved my life."

RETRODIA.

Nov. 6.—It has been insufferably dull but there is promise of diversion in the shape of a few parties since Mrs. M. A. French "set the ball rolling" by entertaining a number of young ladies and gentlemen to a most enjoyable affair on Friday evening last. As it was not a large party, the dresses worn were not elaborate, though most becoming to the wearers. Miss Alice Trice wore a black dress with pink moire sailor collar trimmed with jet. Miss Eugenia Walsh looked well in a combination costume of fawn cashmere and silk trimmed with velvet.

The guests were—Mrs. McDonald, Miss Moore, Miss Trice, Miss Walsh, Miss Blakey, Miss Curry, Miss Smith, Miss Annie Smith, Mrs. McRae, St. John, Miss Keith, Miss Ayers, Miss Creighton, and Messrs. Smith, Colpitts, Jones, H. Smith, J. Jones, Hughes, Ryan, and Keith. Refreshments were served at twelve and the party broke up at one o'clock.

Mrs. and Miss Webster are visiting friends in Sussex.

Mrs. Edna and Mamie Trice entertained a few of their young lady friends on Saturday evening. The making was the chief amusement, though there was game afterwards. I hear such are best for that particular day of the year.

Congratulations to Mr. and Mrs. F. W. Emmerson on the arrival of a son.

KINGSFORD.

Nov. 5.—Dr. and Mrs. Doherty are receiving congratulations on the arrival at their home of a granddaughter, little Miss Jardine.

Miss McLeary who has been visiting her brother Dr. J. P. McLeary in St. John returned last week. Miss McKenna who is here renewing old acquaintances is spending this week with Miss Mamie Bower. The friends of Mr. Edwin Bower will be delighted to hear that his health is very much improved since arriving at Vancouver.

Miss Hackett, matron of the training school for nurses at Waltham, Mass., spent a few days here last week the guest of Dr. Doherty.

Miss Arlie Allen of Richmond is spending a day or two with Mrs. A. J. Girvan this week.

Rev. J. D. Murray and W. F. Foot spent last Monday afternoon here the guest of Mr. William Smith.

Mr. Geo. Robertson has purchased the "Keary House" in Bathurst and will move there in a short time. I hear Mr. John Robertson will remain here for the winter.

Mr. Neil J. Ross is visiting friends here this week.

Miss Johnson who has been visiting his sister Mrs. Girvan returned last week.

Mr. Allen Smith of the Merchants Bank at Halifax is expected here next week to visit his friends, we will all be pleased to see him.

Nov. 1.—The ladies of St. Paul church held a very successful supper in Chignecto Hall Wednesday evening. The sum of nine, seven dollars was realized. Mrs. Josiah Wood gave another five o'clock tea on Thursday evening. Miss Wood and Miss Emmeline Black assisted Mrs. Wood in receiving guests.

An enjoyable impromptu dance was held at the Brunswick House on Saturday evening. A dainty supper was served at midnight and the party dispersed soon after. Mrs. Horace Fawcett was chaperone and among those present were: Mrs. Casey, Miss Read, Miss Grace, Minnie, and Jane Fawcett, Miss Tait, Dorchester, Miss Willis, Miss Kalmie, Miss Carlisle, Dorchester, Miss Phinney, and Miss Estabrooks, and Messrs. Henderson, Copp, Fawcett, Wood, Walker, Chandler, Wilson, Harrison, H. Tait, Wallace, and Messrs. Black.

[Progress is for sale in St. Stephen by Master Ralph Palmer, and at the bookstores of E. S. Daggett, G. S. Wall and J. Vroom & Co. in Calais at C. F. Treas's.]

Nov. 6.—Mr. and Mrs. James G. Stevens gave a most delightful party on Friday evening at their residence. There were forty guests. What was the amusement of the evening, and the party was given for the pleasure of Mrs. John Black's guests.

Mr. E. Q. Hill, on Saturday evening, entertained at his residence in Calais a party of gentlemen friends, who enjoyed themselves greatly with what a fine supper was served at eleven o'clock. The gentlemen who were present at this party were: Messrs. W. H. Cole, D. M. Gardner, F. T. Fote, J. M. Johnson, C. J. Lyford, J. Webber, L. A. Gould, Stephen Gardner, J. F. Duren, C. E. Hayden, George Tarbox, Frank Waburn, Walter Pike, H. W. Gillespie, W. A. Waldon.

Collector and Mrs. Graham gave an exceedingly pleasant tea party at their home on Thursday evening last. After tea whilst occupied the rest of the evening. This pleasant party was in honor of Mrs. Simpson, Miss Simpson, of Charlottetown.

Through the invitation of Miss Nellie Robinson, a jolly party left town on Saturday to enjoy a hay cart ride to Oak Bay to the summer cottage of Mr. John B. Robinson. On their arrival, they partook of a delicious supper, and the evening was devoted to fun of all kinds—that was full of mystery and dread. It was a charming moonlight night; just the sort of a night witches and lives might abound, and at 12 o'clock, that witching hour, several young ladies visited a spring some distance from the cottage to look into its depths, to see if they might not see a water witch. Each lady went alone, and on their return were rather silent on what they saw, but one strong minded lively girl declared she saw nothing but the face of the "man in the moon," as it was reflected in the shining depths below. Several other thrilling bits of courage were made to decide their future, when it was suddenly announced it was time to return home, which they accordingly did, arriving here at an early hour in the morning. This was one of the most enjoyable outing that has been given for many weeks, and many pleasant comments have been made in regard to the charming manner Miss Robinson was of entertaining.

THINGS OF VALUE.

Christmas trees by the hundreds are being made up for harvest in Maine. In a few weeks the crop will be started toward New York and other cities.

Why suffer from weak nerves, want of appetite, and general debility, the loss of sleep and rest, and the blood, when such a really meritorious remedy as Northrup's "Kidney and Bladder Pills" is so easily obtained? This article is recommended by the highest members of the medical faculty in cases of indigestion, general debility, of appetite, and of nervous affections of all kinds. It is also especially beneficial to children, and delicate females and to business men, students, and to those who have much brain work. We would say, "Never be without it." It will strengthen you, keep your system in regular order, and enable you to successfully grapple with the work you have to do. It is a tonic to the heart and contains nothing injurious to the most delicate constitution. Remember to ask for Quinine Wine, prepared by Northrup & Leves, Toronto, and we are sure you will be satisfied that you have full value for your money. Druggists sell it.

The real object of education is to give children resources that will endure as long as life endures; habits that will ameliorate, not destroy; accommodations that will render the highest attainable pleasure, a pleasant, life more dignified and useful, and death less terrible.

Many people, when a little constipated, make the mistake of eating other drastic purgatives. This is all that is needed is a mild dose of Ayer's Pills to restore the regular movement of the bowels, and nature will be restored. They keep the system in perfect order.

It always grieves me to contemplate the initiation of children into the world of what is called "the struggle for existence." It checks their confidence and simplicity, two of the best qualities that heaven gives them, and demands that they have our narrow help; they are capable of entering into our enjoyments.—Dickens.

"Turn the rascals out"—the familiar party cry—may be applied to children as well as to men. The germ of disease that lurks in the blood are "turned out" by Ayer's Sarsaparilla as effectively as the old postmasters are displaced by a new administration.

The race of mankind would perish did they cease to add each other. From the time that the mother feeds the child's breast, till the latest that some kind assistant gives the brow of the devotee one, we cannot exist without one. All therefore, that need have a right to ask it from their fellow-creatures, no one who holds the power of granting or refuse it without a right to Sir Walter Scott.

Do not wear impure and tight-fitting shoes that constrict the blood vessels of the scalp. Use Hall's Hair Renewer occasionally, and you will not be bald.

Cholera morbus, cramps and kindred complaints usually make their appearance at the same time as the heat of the stomach and bowels. They are caused, and many persons are deterred from eating these tempting foods, but they need not abstain if they have Dr. V. D. Kellogg's Colicoid, Cordial, and take a few drops in water. It cures the cramps and cholera in a remarkable manner, and is sure to check every disturbance of the bowels.

A few squanders away, without credit or advantage to himself, more than a man of sense spends with his time, and never spends a shilling of the one, nor a minute of the other, but in some time that either useful or rationally pleasing to himself or others.—Chatterfield.

Fewer and fewer and Billions Derangements are positively cured by the use of Farnell's Pills. These pills cleanse the stomach and bowels from all bilious matter, but they open the excretory vessels, causing them to pour copious effusions from the blood into the bowels, after which the corrupt matter is thrown out by the natural passage of the bowels. They are used as a general family medicine with the best results.

Games not only keep a man in health, but give him spirit for his work; they teach him how to get on with other men; to give way to trifles, to give help and not to advantage to an enemy.—Sir John Lubbock.

Mr. Thomas Hall, Syracuse, N. Y., writes: "I have been afflicted with cholera morbus, and with the dread of disease, and at times with the heat of the stomach and bowels, and after trying all the remedies I could find, I tried one box of Farnell's Valuable Pills. I am now nearly well, and believe the pills will cure me. I would not be without them for any money."

Another of Dickens's famous London taverns is threatened with extinction. The old building which is the Old Bull's Head is mentioned in "Bleak House" as the scene of the inquest, has been boarded up prior to being pulled down.

Difference of opinion regarding the popular internal and external remedy, Dr. Tronzo's "Rough and Ready" does not so far as known, exist. The testimony is in favor of the remedy, and the article reviews the evidence, and shows that the remedy is an excellent remedy for pain and rheumatic complaints, and it has no narcotic or other unpleasant effect when taken internally.

The devotion of an onlie to his master is to be rewarded by a "wage" in Orpheus Hills Cemetery, Brooklyn. The dog was owned by J. George Burke, and when he died two years ago it with touching fidelity followed his master to the grave. So it was decided to reward the dog in statuary.

Dr. Carson's Stomach Bitters.

Mr. J. Martin, Notary Public, King St., East, Toronto, writes and says: I was suffering from Dyspepsia, Sour Stomach and torpid liver for years.
