

GREAT $6,000 PRIZE CONTEST CLOSES SATURDAY NIGHT AT 8

Votes will be Counted at 5 p. m. Today and After This Count Ballot Box will Not be Opened Until Final Count by Judges, Saturday, June 8, at 8 p. m.

DOUBLE VOTES FOR SUBSCRIPTIONS

Be Sure to Mail Your Subscriptions and Votes in Time to Reach this Office Early Saturday--Do Not Trust to Slow Mails--Delay of a Few Moments May Cause You to Lose a Prize.

Be Sure and Send in All Your Votes -- They are the Yellow Slips.

The following named gentlemen will act as judges in The St. John Standard's great $6,000 prize contest: Charles F. Sanford, Roy L. Sippell, Eustace Barnes, Andrew W. Robb.

These judges will be present at 8 o'clock p. m., Saturday, June 8, the closing date of the contest, and they will take charge of the ballot box at that hour. They will count and check the votes polled by the contestants and determine who are the winners of the twenty-six prizes.

The final count will be absolutely accurate and the decision as to winners will be made impartially and final.

The contest will close at The Standard office, Get all your votes in as soon as possible after reading this. All votes and subscriptions must be in by 8 p. m., Saturday, June 8.

Do not think that all the votes to be had are already obtained. Of the many families in the territory of the contest there are still a few who are not taking The Standard. They will all be getting as soon as they see that all their friends and neighbors are taking it and they begin to realize that it is the only real newspaper in this vicinity. Get all these votes today. The votes will help you.

Those having promises to be redeemed will do well to get busy at once and not put off doing the necessary work until the last few hours.

THE RULES.

About Getting the Votes In.

Every facility will be afforded the contestants and their friends for getting their votes into the Standard office. Experience teaches us that there will be a crowd about the office when the close of the polls approaches. In spite of the warnings that have been given, it is certain that some of the candidates will put off getting in their subscriptions and votes until the last possible moment.

Everything is ready for the close of the fastest circulation campaign St. John has ever seen.

Contestants who fail to win a prize will be paid ten (10) per cent. cash commission on the gross amount of subscription money which they turned into the contest department during the campaign. If they have been active workers to the end of the contest.

The rules governing the closing of the contest are printed below. Read them carefully:

Contestants cannot be too careful about sending in their ballots--the yellow vote certificates--so that they will reach the contest department before 8 p. m., Saturday, June 8, 1912, and as a matter of precaution every one of them should read and weigh each line of what is printed here.

The Standard would like to see any candidate lose a single vote because of the excitement which is sure to occur during the last few hours of the contest, or because of some misunderstanding on the part of any contestant. It is impossible for you to exercise too much caution in arriving at a full understanding of the rules and conditions governing the close of the contest.

First--All votes and remittances, no matter at what time mailed, must be received at the office of the contest department, The Standard building, St. John, N. B., before 8 p. m., Saturday, June 8th, or they will be worthless and will not be counted.

Second--All remittances and votes mailed after noon, Friday, June 7th, should bear a special delivery stamp.

Third--All remittances should be addressed to the contest manager, The Standard, and not to individuals. This is to prevent confusion.

Fourth--No personal cheques will be accepted on the closing day, unless certified. Postoffice or express money orders, drafts or certified cheques or currency will be accepted in payment of subscriptions. Please note this carefully and do not present personal cheques in payment of subscriptions on Saturday, June 8th, the closing day of the contest.

Look over the above conditions carefully. Do not jump at the conclusion that you understand any particular one until you are absolutely sure of its full meaning. If the precaution of careful reading is taken there should be no vain regrets concerning votes rejected because they did not conform to the rules of the contest. If in doubt concerning any point, ask questions until everything is clear. It is extremely dangerous to remain in ignorance of any of the rules which govern the closing.

The votes will be counted as usual at 6 o'clock, Friday afternoon and the result printed in The Standard, Saturday, June 8th. After this count, the votes will not be opened again until the final count is commenced at 8 p. m., Saturday, June 8th.

Get your remittances in early Friday or Saturday, so you will not miss any of them. Do not lose any of them, for there will be no way of getting duplicates at this late period of the contest. Do not trust to slow mails. A delay of a few hours may lose a prize for you. Mail them in time to reach this office early Saturday, June 8th or you are apt to lose out.

Go in today, tomorrow and the next day to win or forever hold your peace. The race is now up to you and your friends.

Do not ask to have vote ballots issued on subscriptions without the name of the candidate for whom they are to be voted written thereon. The request cannot be complied with.

All votes must bear the name of the candidate for whom they are to be voted before they are accepted. Scratched, torn or altered vote certificates will be promptly discarded.

Often times a few votes will win or lose a prize, and it is a satisfaction for one to know that they have lost by putting off their final effort until the last hour. Go out at once, send your best to bring your warring friends who promised you a subscription, into line. If you put it off until the last hour they may be out of town or changed their minds--just do it now.

The battle of the ballots will be more furious as the end approaches, and every candidate is preparing for the struggle which must take place between votes and 8 p. m., Saturday, June 8. Indications point to a strenuous finish and many subscribers will be added to The Standard list before the close. Claims and counterclaims of the contestants and their friends indicate that the outcome is everywhere in doubt and the interest will be at white heat.

But it will all be over in a few hours, even though it has been a warm race, the good feeling will be so prevalent that the losers will be helping the winners celebrate. Everybody will be happy and those who have worked the hardest will be the happiest of all.

No information regarding the reserves polled--to be credited after the close of the ballot box will be given anyone, so do not hesitate to bring in your remittances as early as possible. Do not forget that votes in this contest are not transferable and that every vote issued must have the name of the contestant written thereon. Any votes coming in showing alterations or erasures, unless the same are made by the contest manager, will be cancelled at once. The contest closes Saturday, June 8, at 8 p. m. sharp.

Votes allowed on all subscriptions between the dates of Tuesday, June 5, and Saturday, June 8, inclusive.

The leading characters in the impeachment hearing of Judge Robert W. Archibald before the house judiciary committee are the Boland brothers of Scranton, Pa., who are said to have set the trap for the judge; J. H. Jones of Scranton, who negotiated the sale of the culm bank property to Archibald; and E. J. Williams, the principal witness against Archibald, who testified that he made the judge a present of $250 for a note accommodation; and E. J. Williams, the principal witness against Archibald, who testified that he made the Boland brothers used to induce Archibald to go into the culm bank deal.
