

A Column Which Is Supposed To Be Of Interest To Women

Herein are Related Facts and Fancies Concerning the Activities of Individuals and Organizations, the Home, Fashions and Other Matters.

About the Kitchen.
In these days of kill and plaited skirts the ironing problem is greatly helped after pressing each plait in exact place, that it be clinched through the two under thicknesses by one of the little spring clothespins. Each plait will hold its place firmly while the others are being ironed and when the skirt is ready for the clothes frame, it will not have the loose, mussed appearance so often noticed from handling over the ironing board.

When mixing blue in hard water, add a cupful of milk to a tub of water. This prevents the clothes from bluing unevenly and in streaks.

Russian Blue.
Do you know all about the latest shade of blue? It is called Russian blue, is of a greenish cast and is ultra-smart when made into frocks of chiffon or tulle or of the two materials combined. One model in tulle has a tight sleeve ending above the elbow, and is eked out to the wrist with exaggerated puffed undersleeves of chiffon matching a prominent collar joined low on the chest with a self-bow. Another costume in Russian blue tulle consists of a ruffled-collared skirt and an 1830 basque carrying collar and sleeve ruffles in chiffon. It is the blue of the hour and hard to find in moderate priced fabrics.

Fancy Underbodices.
Do you know how to make the latest thing in fancy underbodices? This novelty is substantial, but it is not practical—if you object to having such garments cleaned instead of laundered. For it is made chiefly of sash ribbon, the broadest that comes in heavy weight. A strip of ribbon long enough to encircle the bust is built up several inches by a width of lace joined across the matching mesh over which trail tiny flowers in satin. There is an invisible joining for the fronts of the ribbon which is fitted to the waistband by cluster pleatings in groups of three. Any girl with a taste for doing fancy work could easily make one of these bodices for herself.

Women's Institutes.
New Denmark, W. I.—A social half hour is always held at the close of each monthly meeting. Another branch to make a collection of useful articles to sell during the summer, the proceeds to be spent on Canadian prisoners. A school committee has been appointed to purchase articles necessary to keep the school hygienic and sanitary.

Smiths Creek and Newtown, W. I.—Although small in numbers, this branch utilized two webs of cotton in Red Cross work during the winter and recently shipped their second lot of socks to the proper authorities. Some papers on "Gardening," "Uses of Glycerine," and other interesting topics have been written and ably rendered by several of the members.

New Maryland, W. I.—Some excellent recipes for cake and puddings were exchanged at the March meeting and arrangements made for a basket to be raised towards a hall the institute anticipates having built in the near future. The receipts from the basket social $65.00 were banked for this worthy purpose. The boys of the 104th sailing from New Maryland were each presented with two pairs of socks.

Nashwaaktsi, W. I.—A public meeting was held in March, twenty-seven responding to roll-call with a quotation. Miss Jennie Burpee read an instructive paper on "The Benefits to a Community of Having a Women's Institute." A collection of $20.00 was taken up for the Prisoners' Relief Fund. The sick in the neighborhood were remembered with flowers and fruit at Easter.

Newcastle, W. I. is making rapid strides in the work. The six afternoon lessons in cooking the week of April 3rd were largely attended, and the money taken in from fees and selling food more than paid all expenses. The members of the Town Improvement League were invited to be present at the May meeting and a fair representation was on hand. An animated discussion took place, covering such subjects as the observance of the anti-tobacco laws for minors, the attendance of children under age at the moving picture shows, fire escapes at the picture theatres, the nuisance of unsightly and unsanitary old buildings, the use of vacant lots, the condition of the schools, etc. The gentlemen took an active part in the discussions, the Mayor being the chief speaker. Several civic cobwebs were unravelled and the Improvement League unanimously promised to support the Women's Institute in their noble endeavors. The ladies invited the gentlemen to meet with them on Saturday, who is a student at the Seminary, and who will spend her vacation at her home here.

Baked Indian Pudding.
Heat one quart of fresh milk to the boiling point, sprinkle in gradually 1 1/4 cups of fine granulated meal, stirring constantly. When thickened, cool a little, then add 3/4 cup of rich molasses, 1-2 teaspoon of salt, two teaspoons of ginger and beat until smooth. Butter a stone pudding dish, using plenty of butter; pour in the batter and add 1 quart of cold milk. Bake at once in a very slow oven for four or five hours. Serve with hard sauce or cream.

WHEN TIRED, ALL USED UP, THINK WELL OF THE CAUSE.
You're discouraged and played out scarcely enough energy to think, and less to work on. The reason? You are run-down, blood is thin, nerves are like Indian rubber, not like steel as they ought to be. Use Perzone and the tired feeling will go—it can't stay because rich nutritious blood and the bodily vigor Perzone makes, crowd out weakness of every kind. Use Perzone and you'll feel like a fighting king—full of energy—filled up with ambition—ever ready to work. No strengthening tonic so potent. No sleep not a day longer. All dealers sell Perzone in 60c. boxes.

TODAY'S LITTLE JOKE
A small girl used to play a good deal in school, but one day she had been so good that the teacher said in praise—
"Ethel, my dear, you have been a very good girl today."
"Yes," responded Ethel, "I couldn't help it. I've got a stiff-neck."

Corner Getting More Interesting.
Halfpenny Point, N. B.

Dear Uncle Dick:—
It has been quite a long time since I have written to you, but I have been very busy going to school every day. I have a lot of lessons to learn and have to look after the flowers and birds as they come.

From my niece,
Elsie Urquhart.

Reeds Point, N. B.

Dear Uncle Dick:—
I would like to join the Children's Corner. I have read the Corner every week, and I think it is great. I know a lot of children that have written to you, so though I would write too, I am eleven years old. I go to school every day. I am in Grade four.

Dear Uncle Dick:—
I did not go to school today. We go picking flowers and get white and blue violets. Yesterday I was away for a holiday. I had a fine time, and a lot of other girls were picking flowers in the woods. There was a friend of mine went away to Scotland today. Guess I will close.

Your loving niece,
Anna Stapleford.

Dear Uncle Dick:—
I have worked out the sentence in the St. John Standard. I am not a member of the Children's Corner, but I should like to become one.

I remain your truly,
Mary K. Lauder.

SUPPOSING.
If I were you and you were me. Oh my! 't would be so funny. My dad would be as rich as rob. Just loaded down with money.

While yours would be so poor, you see. You'd hardly have a toy—just one doll with a broken arm. That would not give much joy.

While I would have packs of things—A dolly and a pram—and yet I don't know but I'd just as leave be who I am.

For if I were you and you were me, I'd have no mother then; For yours, dear Rose, is now in heaven, And won't come back again.

And so I am quite satisfied, To be just poor, you see, And have a mother, kind and true, To love and care for me.

George Beban and Myrtle Stedman in Auto Accident.
What will probably turn out to be the most remarkable motion picture of an automobile accident ever displayed on the screen, were secured by cameraman Homer Scott of the Oliver Morosco Photoplay Company, when a car containing George Beban, Myrtle Stedman and John Franklin, the chauffeur turned an almost complete side-somersault.

A scene for "Pasquale" which will be seen here later, showing a speeding motor-car turning a sharp curve on a mountain highway just outside of Los Angeles, was prepared and the cameraman in position to take it. The car came at high speed and on turning the curve broke the steering knuckle on the front inside wheel, taking the machine off its course with a side lurch directly in the path of the cameraman. Upon turning over, the car instantly shot into flame. As if fascinated, the photographer remained at his post and secured pictures of the entire accident, the machine turning over several feet in front of the camera.

Had it not been for the steel-framed hood, the passengers would hardly have escaped more serious injuries than they did. Both Miss Stedman and Mr. Beban escaped with several bruises while the chauffeur who sat near the wheel that gave way, suffered from a broken wrist and was taken out of the wreck unconscious.

The scenario of "Pasquale" has been revised so as to embody the pictures of the accident secured by Cameraman Scott, thus offering a thrill of actual realism to the production which aside from this scene, offers several spectacular incidents in the way of battle scenes and other big dramatic offerings. "Pasquale" is the best Morocco release on the Paramount Program and presents Mr. Beban in the title character.

Mr. Beban was recently seen here at the Opera House, as "The Alien."

Eugene Nowland Joins Troupe.
Eugene Nowland, until recently a member of the Edison forces, has been engaged by Metro as an assistant director. He will be associated with John H. Collins, and his first work on the Metro program will be seen in "The Flower of No Man's Land," in which Viola Davis is starred. Mr. Nowland had many years of training as an artist and draughtsman before he went into motion pictures, and is also a musician of rare ability. He studied the violin in Berlin and Vienna, and upon his return to this country toured the United States and Canada on the concert and lyceum stage.

Mary Pickford in Madam Butterfly.
A new and hitherto unsuspected Mary Pickford is revealed in the Cho-Cho-San which she so admirably plays in the Famous Players Film Company's magnificent photoplay version of John Luther Long's classic, "Madame Butterfly," which is the Paramount picture at the Opera House, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

The great mass of admirers of Mary Pickford who have followed her throughout her motion picture career have been accustomed to see their favorite as a little blonde curly-haired beauty will be astounded to find her thorough Oriental. It is not a matter of make-up alone, but of real histrionic ability. From the delightful little accidental girl who has flirted, smiled and wept her way through many adventures and romances, they found that Miss Pickford had become an entrancing, powerfully emotional Japanese girl whose portrayal of the deserted wife, though exacted with the utmost dignity and force, is at the same time far above anything that she has ever attempted in sympathetic treatment.

One would never suspect Iva Shepard, the famous "vampire" of Gaumont-Mutual feature productions, to be the most pleasant young woman imaginable off the screen. Away from the studios, Miss Shepard spends most of her time in her cosy home on the upper West Side of New York.

HARRY HILLIARD
DIRECTION WILLIAM FOX, INC.

Strange, for one of Miss Shepard's profession, she abhors publicity and keeps out of the limelight, as much as possible.

Incredible.
"I was talking with Professor Hoozils last night. You know he's just back from an exploring expedition to central Africa."
"Did he make any important discoveries?"
"Well, he says he found a race of people so uncivilized that they had never even heard of moving pictures."
—Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Curtain Flashes.
"Mother" Mary Maurice is going to have a birthday soon. She only declines to tell how many years young she is. There are many dark and festive preparations going on!

Mr. and Mrs. Sidney Drew are as funny at work as they appear to be on the screen. They do not employ a

GYPSY MOTH PERIL
IN NEW BRUNSWICK
The gypsy moth peril has appeared this spring in several counties of New Brunswick and efforts are being made to destroy the nests. Last season a great many nests in the province were destroyed, but the pest was evidently not exterminated. In the City of Moncton it is said that many beautiful shade trees are in danger of destruction. The city government is being urged to destroy the state gypsy moth commission, with considerable success. In some localities property owners are forced to pay a moth tax to cover the cost of having their trees trimmed and sprayed.

The Call of Patriotism.
The Chinese tent in connection with the patriotic carnival at Seaside Park on June 10th is exciting keen interest. The Mandarin, assisted by bewitching young ladies, will be on hand in native and gorgeous costumes and will furnish refreshing tea and will also have a display of rare articles for sale.
