ARNILL AFEIDAVIT TISSUE OF LIES, DECLARE CONTRACTORS MERRITHEW AND SMITH

(Continued from page 1) HAVE KNOWLEDGE CONCERNING THE OTHER MEMBERS OF THE FIRM I DESIRE TO SAY THAT PREMIER CLARKE HAD NO KNOWLEDGE IN ANY WAY OF ANY PAYMENT MADE BY ME OR ANY MEMBER OF THE FIRM TO MR. CROCKET, AND THAT MR. ARNILL'S STATEMENT IN THAT CONNECTION IS FALSE.

That I desire to say here in connection with the whole transaction detailed by Mr. Arnill in his dec-5. That I desire to say here in connection with the whole transaction detailed by Mr. Arath in the dec-laration that the firm of Smith & Merrithew never had a contract with the government of New Brunswick or any member of it, never had any business dealings with the government or any member of it, never made a contribution to the party funds, was never asked for any such contribution, and never received any intimation that any contribution would be desirable or would be accepted.

And I make this solemn declaration conscientiously believing it to be true, and knowing that it is of the same force and effect as if made under oath and by virtue of the Canada Evidence Act. E. LORNE MERRITHEW.

Lucas, in Yale, stood a chance of winning this morning, but he is now defeated. The soldiers' vote might turn the scale for Lieut. Mo-Kenzie, in Delta, and possibly two others, which would run the Conserva-tive opposition in the house up to ten. That will mean at least 37 Liberals are returned.

That will mean at least of Aberas are returned. Until tonight it was thought that Captain W. W. Foster, Conservative, had been elected in the Islands con-stituency. Late returns, however, give the riding to Jackson, Liberal, with 317 votes, a majority of 33. Premier Bowser will presumably hold office until the official returns are made, about October 15. The soldiers' political vote will be counted on October 12. but on prohibition the soldiers will continue to vote until the end of the year. overcome. The majority for pionisation tion is from seven to nine thousand. The Probable Cabinet. From a semi-official source the fol-lowing cabinet state for the Liberals is outlined:

ericton Gleaner, of which Mr. J. H. Crocket is editor, said last evening: On an affidavit made by R. J. Arnill, until recently a member of the firm of Smith & Merrithew, the St. John Telegraph today bases one of its characteristic political articles. The Carleton county by-election is in progress, and the Telegraph is one of the opposition's chief agencie slander and miserable innuendo. There is, of course, no substantial truth in the affidavit of Arnill, whom Smith & Merrithew declined the ago to continue as a member of their firm. The references to the Hon. George J. Clarke are absolutely false, and are made and published in the closing days of an election campaign for no other purpose than to mislead the electorate. Premier Clarke, as the public will read ily understand, had nothing whatever to do with the transaction re ferred to by the Telegraph, nor did any member of his government have even the slightest connection. It was not a political affair. As for Mr. Crocket's connection, he did not go to the firm of Smith & or any member of it; but one member of the firm, Mr. E. Lorne Merrithew, came to Mr. Crocket with his story of his firm's position with the Hibbard Company. He came to Mr. Crocket believing him to be a personal friend of the manager of the Hibbard Company. The dispute or difficulty, If there was any, was between the Hibbard people, as subcontractors of the St. John and Quebec Railway Company, on the one hand, and Smith & Merrithew, as sub-contractors of the Hibbard Company on the other. The government were in no way interested. The Smith & Merrithew claim against the Hibbard Company for settlement of contract was somewhere in the vicinity of $25,000, and they wanted the money. This claim was practically admitted by the Hibbards, but, as there were claims of other sub-contractors which the Hibbards disputed, they decided not to pay any until all were adjusted, and so notified the Smith & Merrithew people. Affairs were in that position when Mr. Merrithew came to Mr. Crocket, as a personal friend of the manager of the Hibbard Company, represented that his firm wanted to invest in othe ways the money due them, and asked him to intercede with the manager on their behalf. Mr. Crocket, who was also friendly with the members of the Smith & Merrithew concern and had been so for years, re plied that he would see the manager and have a talk with him. About a month or so later Mr. Merrithew again came to Mr. Crocket, who had not in the meantime had the opportunity to interview the manager on account of absence from town, and asked If he would make it a point to see him at once, even if a trip to Montreal were necessary to get in touch with him. Finally, Mr. Crocket met the manager at the Barker House and presented the Smith & Merrithew side of the case, and after one or two later conferences, the manager reluctantly, but in a spirit of friendship, agreed to give an order on the Quebec and St. John Railway Company for the moneys due Smith & Merrithew In settlement of the claim, to be paid out of the moneys then in the possession of the St. John and Quebec Rallway at the credit of the Hibbards. And the claim was paid, Some days following the settlement, Mr. Arnill came to the office of The Gleaner and said that the firm were to make a contribution of $2,500 to Mr. Crocket in recognition of his interest and success in getting things adjusted with the Hibbards; and he would bring in his

"Mr. Crocket reported to us that be had succeeded in having the menoy "arranged fon." As a matter of fact, Mr. Crocket, who was out of the province at the time, did not know until Arnill told him on his return that the businese had been adjusted and the cheque issued; and it was he (Arnill) who said that "he (Crocket) had done better than our "solicitors had done." Again, in his affidavit, Arnill solemnly declares that his share of the alleged contribution was $600, "as that was as "much as I could afford to give;" and yet, in another paragraph of his affidavit, he swears, "and I gave Mr. Crockst my cheque for the differ-"ence, making $833,33," and that he colemnly sets forth in an affidavit published in the St John Telegraph, which beastingly prints an alleged fac simile of the cheque showing, not $853,33, as he solemnly declares in one instance, nor $600, as he swears in another was arranged as his share, but $607.50. share, but $607.50.

During all of the so-called negotiations, Mr. Crocket never spoke to Premier Clarke on the subject nor communicated with him in any way about the matter. Premier Clarke had neither authority, discretion nor influence in the matter. It was purely the private business of two firms of sub-contractors

Further comment is unnecessary. Arnill's affidavit is air lished as false, and deliberately so, with the single exception of his statement that he made a contribution to a personal friend who had Interested himself in getting his claim with a private company of con-tractors adjusted to his satisfaction. Arnill's grievance has its origin in the fact that the Smith & Merrithew firm declined to permit his continue as a member, and also afterwards to give him work as on the payroll of the company. In his disappointed frame of mind and cha-grined, Arnill was really made the dupe of the notorious affidavit hunters and blackmailers whom the crocked St. John Telegraph has taken affectionately to its bosom, and in whose products it delights to revel to the disgust of all men of respect.

The business was undoubtedly a personal and friendly business transaction between two private firms of contractors, and any money that may have been involved was a pure contribution from the private funds of the firm deeply interested and satisfied with the outcome; and no other funds could possibly have been affected nor in any way inter-ested. Of course, the design was to endeavor to involve Premier Clarke in some way or other; to associate his name, if possible, with ne irregularity, and to herald it broadcast in Carleton in these last days of the by-election in that county. Their efforts having failed, they resort to the falsehoods aiready established as contemptibly base and wholly unworthy of any man of honor. Premier Clarke has been one of the most consistently honorable of the premiers of New Brunswick; and as such has inspired confidence throughout the whole province, where honorable and honest administration of public affairs held to be the first consideration. Let the man who thinks he can play the game of Pugsley and the old government on Premier Clarke try it; and we venture to say he will never make bold enough to attempt it a second time.

Premier Tisza inserted a personal issue into the discussion when he said he regretted his "foolishness" in re-commending to Baron Burían, the Austro-Hungarian foreign minister, that he confidentially discussed the state of affairs with Rakovsky. The premier called the criticisms of the army leaders by the head of the peo-ple's party as "well polsoning." Count Apponyl declared that the army leaders by the head of the peo-ple's party as "well poisoning." Count Apponyi declared that the three chief questions needing discus-sion were the foreign policies, the military situation and the food supply. The harmony and unity needed for considering these three problems. Count Apponyi said, were endangered by the introduction of other ques-tions, such as Premier Tisza's attempt to bind Hungary economically to its allies for a long period of time. Discussing the military situation, Count Apponyi said it was, of course, out of the question to think of a change in the leadership of the army, which is now regaining the strong confidence of the people. When, how-ever, the Entente leaders, he said, had made a mistake guarantees always had been offered that the mistakes would not be repeated, and he insist-ed, therefore, that Austro-Hungary should also have such guarantees. The Speaker had to order a tem-porary adjournment to silence Count Apponyi. On the re-opening of the session Rakovsky argused Premier Tisza by ropeating what he had learn-ed in his conferences with Baron Bu-rian as representative of the oppo-sition, and he severely criticized the foreign office leadership.
