The Standing Of Cadet Corps

The following is the standing of the Cadet Corps in the province as inspected by Lt. Col. A. B. Snow:—

Table with 2 columns: Cadet Corps Name and Points. Includes Rothsay College (84), Knox Church (88), St. Andrews Church (88), Klittle (84), Grand Falls (82), Normal School (77), St. John High School (75), Fredericton High School (75), Aberdeen High School (73), Boys' Industrial Home (67), Dorchester High School (64), Sackville High School (60), King George School (60), Chatham Grammar (59), Shepody (57), Woodstock (55), Sunny Brae (55), King Edward (53), Winter Street (53), St. Malach's (52), St. Peter's (52), Harkins' Academy (51), Alexandra (51), West St. John (50). As Rothsay, Knox and St. Andrews are not eligible for the Strathcona Trust prizes, Klittle, the Victoria School of Moncton comes first in the place for the money awards. The awards will be made as soon as possible. Next year it is expected that many more Cadet Corps will be organized throughout the province as the result of the School Teachers and Cadet Instructors' course held here through the summer, and it is expected that all corps will make a better showing.

CLIFTON HOUSE, ALL MEALS 60c.

FAST SELLING MARKS THE BIG BLOUSE SALE AT DYKEMAN'S. Notwithstanding the pouring rain, which might have been expected to prevent people coming to the store, the F. A. Dykeman Co. have been very busy selling waists. This is undoubtedly due to the extraordinary nature of the sale, the remarkable feature being the beautiful quality of the waists which is far above the average used in waists and the exceeding low prices. While the 9c. blouses are all sold there are still hundreds of the better ones left at $2.95 and $2.49. Sale continues today.

Mrs. H. A. Austin and Miss Edna Austin who have been spending some weeks at Sand Cove, Nova Scotia, have returned to St. John.

Tells of Her Work In the Far West

Miss Millie Stewart is in Charge of the Home Economics Department of Normal School at Camrose, Alberta.

In view of the great interest taken in the Home Economics Department of the Vocational Classes in St. John last winter, the experiences of Miss Millie Stewart who is present in St. John visiting her mother, are of interest. Miss Stewart, whose home was formerly at Hampton, is in charge of the Home Economics Department of the Normal School at Camrose, Alberta, and has held that position for four years, having organized the work at the opening of the institution. The school has a permanent staff of eleven and with the assistants the entire staff numbers twenty-two.

Miss Stewart was a teacher of Home Economics in Calgary and started the first night classes for women ever held in that city. She was asked to form night classes in cooking and went to the School Board of Calgary asking them to have the classes under their auspices. From that small beginning, the number of pupils increased until four nights a week were taken up with the work and later the city of Calgary sent for J. S. Kildner to take charge. Calgary now has splendid classes attended by hundreds for vocational training under the direction of W. G. Campbell who is Technical Director of the Province of Alberta.

Miss Stewart has also been at the head of the economic department summer school for vocational training for several years and while in New Brunswick taught classes at the summer school held recently in Woodstock taking up as her special subject the problem of the Rural Schools and how to adapt vocational teaching to their needs.

Speaking to the Standard yesterday Miss Stewart remarked upon the opposition which she met with in the introduction of vocational training. Some persons seem to feel, she said, that it was taking away the trade of milliners and dress-makers. This is a wrong impression for, as Miss Stewart pointed out, it is the specialist who is always consulted in the long run. Home nursing may be taught, and in cases of real illness it is the trained nurse is sent for. We teach women to cook at home but for special occasions the chef or competent cook is needed. Skilled dress-makers' services will always be required although girls should learn to make and make over their own clothes.

Miss Stewart showed that Home economics teaches pupils to make the most of the materials at hand and in dressmaking, millinery and cooking women are led to use what is in the house. In cooking they are taught many dishes from Left-Overs and economy is always inculcated. In dressmaking the science of "making over" is one of the important subjects dealt upon.

Miss Stewart graduated from the Normal School at Fredericton and taught for some time in New Brunswick. She then took a course at Macdonald College and studied her special subject at Columbia University and at the University of Chicago. From the latter University she holds the degree of Ph. B. She is the daughter of Mrs. Margaret Stewart, who recently returned from Montreal to take up her residence in St. John with her daughter, Miss Louise Stewart and a sister of F. McAuliffe Stewart, Montreal, Rev. Westra Stewart and Percy Stewart.

In consideration of her long services Miss Stewart was granted leave of absence from her school duties but she expects to return to Calgary shortly.

Police Court Cases Yesterday

A charge of fighting on C. N. R. property was preferred against William Cochran and Albert Bennet in the police court yesterday. Cochran pleaded guilty; Bennet is in the hospital with a sprained ankle and did not appear. Five drunks were remanded. William Bell was charged with being drunk in Union street and with keeping liquor for sale in his licensed beer shop at the corner of Union Alley and Union street. He pleaded guilty to the first charge and not guilty to the other. Sergeant McAleese testified that he arrested Bell in Union street last night about 10:50 in consequence of information given by one Pine, he and Detective Biddiscombe went to the shop of the accused and made a search. He said they found two whiskey cases containing some bottles partly filled with whiskey and some empty. Another ordinary beer bottle was found with a cork screw in it. Some glasses were also found and were said to have a strong smell of whiskey in them. A quantity of corks were found as well as broken glass strewn over the floor. Detective Biddiscombe corroborated the evidence of Sergeant McAleese as to the search.

Policeman McNeil testified that he had arrested Pine, who told him that he had been served over the counter with whiskey in Bell's shop. He also testified that he had seen another man who was also arrested last night on drunkenness charge, in Bell's place of business earlier in the evening. Bell was remanded. Five prisoners were remanded on drunkenness charge.

An adjourned case of Norman Sanction was taken up. He was charged with refusing to stop when ordered to do so at the foot of King street on Wednesday, August 4. F. R. Taylor, K. C. who appeared for Mr. Sanction, pressed for a dismissal on the ground that no violation of the law had been proved. The case was dismissed.

Dr. William McIntosh, Curator of the Natural History Society, returned yesterday from Sussex. Mr. McIntosh conducted the Nature Lessons branch of the Summer School of Sciences, which concluded its course at Sussex, Tuesday.

Jewelers Assn. Formed Yesterday Employ Floating Grain Elevators

Representatives Present from All Over the Province—Officers Elected—Banquet at Bond's—Delegates Welcomed by the Mayor.

The jewelers of the Province met in the Board of Trade committee rooms yesterday afternoon for the purpose of forming a New Brunswick branch of the Canadian National Jewelers' Association. Representatives were present from all parts of the Province and M. C. Ellis, President of the Dominion Association was in attendance to assist in the organization work. H. C. Page, of this city, acted as chairman of the meeting. Hon. R. W. Wigmore, Minister of Customs and Inland Revenue, arrived from Ottawa on the noon train yesterday. He brought back with him a plan to relieve the berthing congestion next winter. Mr. Wigmore's idea is to employ floating grain elevators so that the loading of the grain steamers could be carried in the stream and thus throw open the berths to other steamers. Mr. Wigmore said that he had been negotiating with the Montreal harbor commission in regard to the issue of several floating elevators for this port. He will meet the mayor and the harbor committee this morning and will put the matter before them.

To prevent the undertow which has made the berthing of vessels berths 15, 16 and 17 an almost impossibility and to provide a foundation for the extension of the breakwater, he has made arrangements with the department of public works to have the large stone now being removed at the Courtenay Bay works transported to the west channel. They will be dumped between the island and the end of the breakwater. Mariners have experienced great difficulty in coming into the harbor because of this undertow, and this announcement of Mr. Wigmore's should be welcome news.

Mr. Wigmore said that still further improvements were planned. Last winter there was considerable agitation which had its aim the placing of a wireless station on Partridge Island to help mariners in getting their bearings. He announced last evening that $25,000 had been set aside for the building of such a station on the island. In regard to dredging the Fielding has completed its work and tenders are now being asked for some 25,000 yards of dredging that the Fielding could not do.

Provincial. H. C. Page, St. John, chairman. A. H. Melanson, Moncton, vice-chairman. A. W. Clogg, Moncton, secretary-treasurer.

St. John District. J. A. Sharpe, St. John, chairman. A. A. Shute, Fredericton, vice-chairman. E. A. Ellis, St. John, secretary-treasurer. Jas. A. Gibson, Woodstock, director.

Moncton District. C. F. Gilmore, Moncton, chairman. H. R. Humphrey, Campbellton, vice-chairman. J. H. Brown, Moncton, secretary-treasurer. W. H. Williston, Newcastle, director.

A dinner was held at Bond's in the evening. H. C. Page, presided and the guests of honor included Mayor Schofield and M. C. Ellis. After the excellent menu provided had received full justice and the King honored, the chairman called upon Mayor Schofield. The Mayor expressed the pleasure of the invitation to be present gave him the more so when he understood that the jewelers had just completed a provincial organization. He felt sure that they would find it a distinct advantage to be linked up with the other members of their trade throughout Canada. He spoke of the pleasure it gave him to welcome the visiting delegates to the city and put himself at the disposal of the visitors if they wished to inspect the different harbor improvements under way here.

M. C. Ellis, president of the Canadian National Jewelers' Association and vice-president of the firm of P. W. Ellis and Co., Toronto, was the next speaker. In opening his remarks he expressed his appreciation of the kindly manner in which the visitors had been welcomed by the Mayor. This was his first visit to St. John, within many years, and he was pleased to hear of the projected harbor development. He had noticed that the city had made substantial progress since his last visit. He wished to assure the people of this city that there was a great feeling in Toronto that the ports of Halifax and St. John should be generously dealt with. They are the gates of Canada and nothing can keep them back. Canada is more known than ever before and a wonderful future is in store for her. She occupies the highest place among the young rising nations of the world. This place has been won for her by our heroic Canadian soldiers. We owe a stupendous debt to them and should never forget it. The war has generated a national spirit throughout the Dominion—a spirit of progress and pride in our own country that is most gratifying.

The eyes of the young manhood of the British Isles are on Canada. A wonderful period of expansion is before us and our population will increase by leaps and bounds. However, we must be careful in our immigration and keep out those elements that will make for discord in the country. Referring to the Maritime Provinces and to the assertion that the people down here are slow he would say this, they may be slow but they are sure. The business men are most reliable and less losses are experienced by the manufacturers and wholesalers in their trade in the Maritime Provinces than in any other part of Canada. This speaks highly for New Brunswick and, people by such a class of citizens as that the province is bound to go ahead. He referred to the great natural resources of the province and said that the one thing we needed here was greater attention on the part of our leading men and energetic work to bring the resources of New Brunswick to the notice of the rest of the world.

He referred to the successful organization work that had been completed in the afternoon. The Canadian National Jewelers' Association is unique as it includes within it all branches of the trade. Its object and aim was to banish all small trade practices, to get all classes of the trade together and work to put the jewelry trade, in the place it belongs. It is one of the most essential trades in the country and the jeweler is absolutely necessary. The excise tax had hit the trade heavily during the war period but the burden had been borne without a murmur and the jeweler meets his obligations today patriotically and with optimism. He concluded, reiterating the pleasure it gave him to come to New Brunswick to assist in the organization work and felt sure that the jewelers of this province would find that the benefits accruing because of their organization many and varied.

Short addresses were also made by M. C. Ellis, H. C. Page, secretary of Moncton and David Crowe of Fredericton, who pledged their support to the new association.
