The water was smooth and the moose came quite close to the boat. An effort was made to capture him, but owing to the calm, it failed. The moose would have a swim of about 26 miles to reach the island. He was swimming easily and would no doubt reach there safe. It is not uncommon for moose and deer to swim across the strait. About a year ago, Mr. Callendar of Kouchibouguac, while fishing off the shore captured a deer swimming to the island.—Richibueto Review.

That enterprising firm, The E. B. Eddy Company, Ltd., the largest manufacturers of matches in Canada, have put still an other new match on the market, "The King Edward." It is only about three months ago that their Headlight Parlor was introduced to the public, and today their St. John agents say that they are considerably oversold at this point, so popular has it become. Now comes this other new one, which from its name and attractive appearance, is found to prove a seller. The box holds about twice as many matches as the Headlight, is handsomely printed in foyal purple, and carefully sanded of the sides for lighting purposes. Since my name appears as auditor, it seems proper for me to write a few words with reference to the financial affairs. Of course, the coming investigation will bring out the facts; but this may occupy a considerable length of time, and in the meanwhile a brief explanation is desirable.

The institution does not belong to the managing committee. It was at first established and has been since conducted by Principal Woodbridge. The committee, originally appointed at his request by a public meeting of citizens, with power to

The greater part of the money used in The greater part of the money used in meeting the expenses is raised by collections and subscriptions. For this the principal is responsible. He appoints, directs and pays the collectors, receives and disburses the funds collected. Another large part of the money consists of the government grant and the county grants. These latter sums and these only pass through the hands of the treasurer, Mr. Henry Chestnut. Every cent of this money is properly accounted for, and if there is any irregularity anywhere the treasurer has

As to the rest, the auditor has not examined into the subscription lists, but has taken the net amounts received from this source (after the expenses of collecting have been deducted), with the total of payments by payments rests, etc. payments by parents, rents, etc., and has examined and compared all the itemized ccounts of expenditure. I believe a thor ough investigation will show that all the funds have been used with reasonable economy, as well as with regard to the interests of the school.
