BUCHANAN RESIGNED

President of Associated Boards Objected to Resolution

Trouble Arose Out of Discussion on Sun- day Law—Difficulty Was Finally Overcome

(Special to The Daily News)

Greenwood, March 15.—The boards of trade finished their session at Greenwood this morning at noon, adjourning to meet next year at Moyle. There were several important resolutions passed at the sittings of last night and this morning, including a drastic resolution against the enforcement of the Lord's Day Act in this province and giving wide scope to the executive of the associated boards to seek relief; another asking for an enquiry into the causes of the coal shortage; and a third asking for another taking up the whole subject of trails and roads recommending a definite program to the provincial executive for adoption. The resolution on the Lord's Day Act consumed not only the whole of last night's sitting but also a considerable portion of this morning's work, and was the occasion of a hard fight and at one time seemed to threaten the loss of president Buchanan; only the good sense of the assembled convention found a middle way for an apparently impossible impasse, threatening a serious loss to the associated boards on one hand and on the other the stultification of itself.

The first matter taken up at the Thursday afternoon session was a resolution emanating from Trail, moved by J. D.
Anderson and seconded by G. Weir, asking for an increase of the duty on pig lead to one cent per pound and that all manufactured leads be increased proportionately. This was practically the same resolution as was passed last year and was therefore passed without discussion.

A resolution asking for a survey of the various boards of trade to bring up at the next convention of the boards proposals for an extensive exhibit at the Alaska Yukon exhibition at Seattle and asking for an appropriation from the provincial government for such purpose.
This was moved by A. W. Dyer and seconded by F. W. Guernsey and after Mr.
Buchanan had spoken in its favor it was unanimously passed.

A similar resolution was passed in favor of an exhibit at the Franco-British exposition to be held next year at London, England. This was moved by J.
W. Cooke and seconded by R. Campbell.

A resolution asking for a better imperial news service and aid from the dominion government to establish the same in London was moved by Mr. Dyer and seconded by R. R. Hedley and carried after a short statement as to the reasons why such a service was necessary.

The next matter coming up was that of public telephones and the following resolution was placed before the meeting:

"That in the opinion of the Nelson board of trade it is in the interests of the people of the province of British Columbia that the government should enact legislation providing for the construction, acquisition, expropriation, maintenance and operation of a public telephone system or systems throughout the province so as to insure reasonable charges for the use of telephones and the more rapid extension of such telephone service throughout the province or in such districts as may be determined advisable."

This was moved by F. A. Starkey and seconded by Mr. Dyer. Mr. Starkey in speaking to the resolution said he favored the proposal on the ground of cheapness as well as upon other grounds.
Telephones were costing in Nelson $48 a year, whereas in the provinces of the middle west where the matter was already one of public agitation, the price was figured down to $12.

G. O. Buchanan thought the word "expropriation" should follow "acquisition." He was of the opinion that the time was coming for these things and it was cheaper to buy out telephones now than to buy them out later. Mr. Buchanan declared himself no socialist but there were certain things such as the postoffice, telephones and telegraphs that could well be taken over by the government.

The mover and seconder accepted the suggested amendment.

The conflicting Kaslo and Nelson resolutions regarding the proposed reclamation of Kootenay lands were then taken up and a compromise resolution presented which read as follows:

"Whereas, the prevention of floods along the Kootenay valley during its annual rise in the water and the conservation of a plentiful supply of water for navigation and industrial purposes during the low water period would be of great commercial benefit; and whereas, the legislature of the state of Idaho has approved of the expenditure of public moneys within the province of B. C. in order to protect settlers within the state of Idaho from inconvenience and loss by absence of control of such waters;

"Therefore be it resolved, that the dominion government be memorialized to have a preliminary investigation and report covering all the features of such undertaking," moved by Mr. Cooke and seconded by Mr. Hedley, and spoken to briefly by both gentlemen. On being put to the meeting the resolution carried unanimously.

The deferred resolution as to the reservation of lands in East Kootenay then came up and as re-drafted accepted the boundaries as laid down by Mr. Herchmer, of Fernie, and further petitioned the dominion government, to reserve a strip of land on the eastern side of the Rockies, facing the reservation within this province so as to make the whole of the summits of the Rocky mountains a reservation.

The question was put and carried.
The next resolution was the last on the Nelson list:

"Whereas the special reservations inserted by the C. P. R. in all deeds issued by it respecting railway grants in Kootenay and Yale impose unfair and onerous restrictions on purchasers and whereas no indefeasible title can be obtained to such lands under such deeds; resolved, that steps be taken to have all reservations eliminated in the provincial lands issued by the Canadian Pacific Railway company, except wherein they conform with reservations made by the crown when disposing of similar lands."

This was moved by Mr. Starkey who explained that the Canadian Pacific inserted certain provisions on selling lands with regard to timber, minerals and expropriation of portions at the same price as the original grant. The lands given to the B. C. Southern had to be sold on similar lines as those of the government. But the other grants now held by the Canadian Pacific were held without conditions, such as the Columbia and the Kootenay.

On a vote being taken the resolution carried.

E. O. Kamm moved a resolution of which no previous notice had been given asking the prohibition of the shipping of coal and coke to the United States when Canadian industries were suffering and closing down for lack of fuel.
He stated that the St. Eugene mine had suffered severely from the coal shortage. The mine had to close down for two weeks. In the meantime trainload after trainload of coal had been sent out to the United States for the benefit of foreign industries.

ing's session was the resolution moved

FIGHT A FINISH

Goldfield Star's in to Smash Industrial Workers

Merchants Close All Stores and Will Not Open Them Till Minors Secede From Union

Goldfield, Nev., March 15.—Goldfield is in a state of excitement following the action of the business men and Mine Owners' Association in fighting the Industrial Workers of the World by closing all business houses until the miners shall have seceded from the Industrial Workers of the World. Guards are everywhere in the city; hundreds of deputy sheriffs and constables have been appointed as patrols. There has not been any violence. All stores closed at noon today, but it is possible that the butcher shops will open for a short time in the morning. "Diamondville Jack" Davis and George Wingfield, wealthy miners whose lives have been threatened, are closely guarded by armed men.

APPOINTMENT CONFIRMED

Victoria, March 15.—(Special) —The surprise that R. A. Renwick would be appointed deputy chief commissioner of lands and works was well founded. Mr. Renwick today was introduced into the department and given an insight into the work he will have to perform, by Mr. Goepel. The appointment will likely be officially announced in a day or two. The appointment is one that will meet with universal approval. Mr.
Renwick is regarded as one of the most efficient officers in the employ of the government and everyone knows that under his charge there will be no more favoritism in the lands and works department.

be shown to exist. This was the ap-

that he might not concur with the views of others of the executive as to what am-which the delegates refused to change in one iota. The rider gave power to the executive to apply to the provincial attorney general for relief in the premises and to apply to the dominion parliament for amendments which should cover any hardships inflicted by the act, which might be shown to exist. This was the appointment of Mr. Buchanan, who withdrew his resignation; intimating, however,

endments were wanted.
