

Happenings

Gallery Connexion is currently displaying installations by two women: PRO-Creation by Kimberly Snider of Sackville and Femme en emergence by Elaine Amyot of Moncton (See article in Entertainment). The exhibition runs until the 26th. Gallery Connexion is located downtown at the back of the Justice Building (Queen St.), and is open - Tues - Fri 12-4pm and Sun 2-4pm. Please call 454-1433 for more information.

January 20 sees the opening of the first exhibition by Twyla Rae Andersen at the Faculty Lounge in Edmund Casey Hall, STU. Entitled "First Impressions" the presentation includes works in acrylic paint, pastel, and black ink. The Faculty Lounge is open from 4-9pm Mon-Fri.

The UNB Art Centre presents two exhibitions opening January 19 in Memorial Hall. Craig Schneider; Re-Emergence - the artist's first solo exhibition. Sixteen clay sculptural pieces incorporating found objects make up this presentation. Craig is best known for his brick carvings such as "Executives Ascending" in Barker House on Queen St.

R.M. Vaughan; Decorative Flair - also the first solo exhibition by this artist, it incorporates elements, textures, and effects gleaned from his observations of interior design and ornamentation.
