

CO-EDS CLICK, COP CONTEST

Campus Roundup

Following the trend of American universities, McGill, Toronto and U.N.B. are forming flying clubs, which will enable students to become qualified pilots. Dal, too, has its flying club, down at Cathedral Barracks—the boys were sure flying at Acadia!!!

On Queen's last visit to Toronto, where they played the powerful Varsity squad, the visiting supporters decorated the staid U. of T.'s buildings of hieroglyphics that reflected on the ancestry of the Toronto players, back to the third and fourth generations. Warden Kilroy of Varsity, took a dim view of this rustic type of art that adorned the walls and protested vigorously to Queen's saying that they would have to pay the cost of having the said buildings scraped. The president of the Kingston university has threatened that a repetition of this will cause a cessation of Queen's intercollegiate sport. One Varsity wag quipped, "Queen's finally got caught with their Paints down."

Taken from the Western GAZETTER:
With graceful feet, a maiden sweet
Was tripping the light fantastic,
Suddenly she tore
For the dressing-room door,
You can't trust this post-war elastic!
—Shakesbeer.

Two years ago, a rookie came up to the Toronto Maple Leafs, who annoyed the veterans no end by speaking more, in fact, considerably more than the two words a day prescribed for rookies. This also irked coach Happy Day, who loved to play jokes on the neophytes. One day, on his first trip to New York, the rookie entered the hotel after an extensive sight-seeing trip and encountered Coach Day, who was sitting in the lobby with some other players.

"Well," said Day, with a scornful grin, "did you buy the Brooklyn Bridge?"

"No," said the brash youth with a glint in his eyes, "but I went into one of those automats. One guy put a nickel in the slot and a piece of pie came out. Another fellow put in a nickel and out came a cup of coffee. Well, I sneaked over, when nobody was looking, and put in a slug."

"Yeah," said Coach Day, in a derisive tone, "and what came out."

To the consternation of all the rookie almost doubled up with glee and replied "The Manager." —I was benched for a week.

Oxford Theatre

Fri., Sat.
"LOVER COME BACK" with George Brent, Lucille Ball and "THEY MADE ME A KILLER" with Robert Lowery, Barbara Britton Mon., Tues.
"DEVOTION" with Ida Lupino, Paul Henreid and "SHADOWS OVER CHINATOWN" with Charlie Chan Wed., Thurs.
"ONE MORE TO-MORROW" with Ann Sheridan, Dennis Morgan and "HER ADVENTUROUS NIGHT" with Dennis O'Keefe, Helen Walker

Dal Girls Bowl Over Edgehill

"They also serve who only stand and (run)"

DALHOUSIE hit a winning stride last Saturday as the Varsity Co-eds handily defeated Edgehill in an exhibition Ground Hockey match at Studley Field. The Dal girls showed a GREAT DEAL OF FORM in posting this decisive win and special credit is due to Nancy Jones, Pat Godfrey, and Joyce Hart for their fine performances. A feature of the game was the savage checking of the Dal defence, who literally bowled over all opposition by a delicate twist of the hip.

Cubs Hold St. Mary's Scoreless

Once again it has been proven that teamwork, and only teamwork, is the essential in any game. On Saturday, Oct. 26, Dal. Cubs fought St. Mary's to a scoreless tie. St. Mary's had full control of the scrum, plus an efficient line, but the expert blocking, kicking and tackling of the Cubs made the line ineffective.

In the first half St. Mary's had the edge on the play, but could not make the touch. However, Graves of St. Mary's caused the Cubs many anxious moments with his clever running.

Throughout the second half the teams were holding the play near each other's lines. The expert heeling of Burke was a decided advantage for St. Mary's. Hartling of Dal. was injured early in the second half and was replaced by MacAuley. Prime and Graves of the Cubs deserve special mention for their playing and both teams showed spirit and exercised great sportsmanship.

St. Mary's: Preston, Burke, Woods, Trainor, Jackman, McLellan, Graves, Hemoworta, Mann, Reardon, McManus, Starton, McDougall, McComes.

Dal.: MacIntosh, Weir, Nicholas, Graves, Reynolds, Hartling, Cochrane, Mingo, Prime, Leverman, Ferguson, McKelvey, Willis, MacAuley.

feeling may not be mutual. There are many reasons for their poor showing which have no connection with the players. I have not stressed them, because I felt that first things should come first. I promise them that before the year is out I will get to these factors, unless improvements are forthcoming.

A large crowd was on hand to witness the contest and the Dal rooters exhibited an exuberance of spirit. They even 'invented' some inspiring yells for the opposition, to prove that they were examples of true sportsmanship—
'Knit one, drop four!
Edgehill! Score! Score!
'Knit one, pearl two;
Edgehill! — Woo! Woo!

When the smoke had cleared away from the preliminary skirmishing, Pat Godfrey was discovered, uncovered, in front of the Edgehill goal. Nancy Jones immediately made a pass at Pat, who pushed it beyond the outstretched fingers of Goalie Phyllis Harris and Dal was one up at the five minute mark.

Edgehill fought back with tooth and nail but received the cold shoulder treatment from the Tigress defence. At this stage of the game, the girls took time out for some golf, with two of them swinging at the ball at the same time, although giving each other the required notice—1, 2, 3, FOUR, and ball and players took off in varied directions.

Dal again took control of the play and swept down the field, on spectacular rushes by one of the Jones' girls, had a little tete-a-tete with the Edgehill defence, convinced them, and then (the ball) took off for the right hand corner of the net, only to be stopped in flight by the outstretched limb of Miss Harris. Pausing to glance at the scenery, the ball returned to Nancy, who pushed the reluctant pill right back and Dal led 2-0.

At one point in the game, time and Marie Bruce (plus her broken war club) were taken out, and Patty MacKinnon was taken in. Having taken a deep breath, the game gathered up its courage, and its skirts, and finished out the half with no major casualties.

Time Out For Tea

Due to the presence in the Dal line-up of some Hall girls, time out for tea was allowed. After
(Continued on Page 8)

On The Sidelines

BY DON HARRIS

The following remarks appeared in an editorial column of the McGill Daily recently: "... editorials interpret—that is, they point out the vital and perhaps hidden significance of what has been reported and view the news as it affects the readers of the particular paper... attempt to lead from cause to effect, showing the reasons why certain things have occurred." That is, has been, and will continue to be, the guiding policy for any statements, views and opinions appearing in this column during this college term which brings us to the weekend activities.

Dal went from the sublime to the ridiculous during the past few days. The Dal Cubs put on their best show of the season, holding St. Mary's to a draw. The Cubs fought their strong opponents to a standstill and once again showed that they have that something which their big brothers the Tigers seem to lack, except on certain occasions, and that is a fighting spirit which makes up for their lack of skill in some degree. The much neglected Intermediates even received some student support, which is an encouraging sign.

The Dal Co-eds put on an excellent show, as they handily defeated Edgehill in their ground hockey match. I hope they will not be put out at the writeup which appears in this issue, as the writer actually feels that they win a well-deserved victory and hopes to see them repeat that performance very soon against Acadia and again against Edgehill. Congratulations, Gals!

Saturday was a banner day in the Dal sports world, as the Tigers came through with a win, and a well-earned one at that. For the first time this year they lived up to the form which they had flashed occasionally during the season. They could do no wrong, Saturday, as their passing, tackling and kicking was up to the standard which they should have maintained all year, and which proved that they have all the necessary assets for a winning combination, but the right formula has to be used in mixing these assets.

Part of the credit for this win belongs to Mel Sheppard, who seemed to inspire the team to their best efforts all through the game, by appearing in the lineup during the first half. Their new sweaters also seemed to lend the players new confidence, but above all, they decided to make their best efforts as a team rather than as individuals. This resulted in giving them the fighting drive needed to win a game.

Because of this showing quite a few people may expect an apology from this writer for the column which appeared two weeks ago. They will wait a long time as I stand by the statements and ideas contained in that column, as regards the situation at that time. I feel that no apology is necessary, unless it be from the players, for their showing at that time, and from those others concerned in that "Lost Week-end."

This brings us to Wednesday's game against St. F. X. Congratulations are in order to Father McKenna's boys for their win and good luck to them in their quest for the title.

As for the Tigers—if it wouldn't be too hackneyed, I would ring the entire page in black. Several of their players did give a good exhibition, but the team itself "should of stood in bed." I have been told by a certain writer of letters that the Gazette should be a propaganda sheet, and not come out and say that the team made a bad showing, when they did so. He felt that the cheer leaders were the ones to be chastened for the defeat, and this column had dealt too harshly with the team, tearing down its morale, as he stated in his letter.

Perhaps I have the wrong slant but I feel that it is the job of this column to tell the truth, not just sit back and praise bad faults or hide them. Furthermore, I am in possession of many more facts, which I am quite willing to give at the semi-annual meeting of the D.A.A.C. next Tuesday, if the majority of the students feel that they are required to back up the statements and ideas expressed in this column, to date. They won't make pleasant hearing.

One more thing, and that is, that I have no personal grudge against the team, although this Presenting..

A BENDABLE, DEPENDABLE COLORED LEAD

Imagine a lead so flexible it will bend like a bow!

Imagine a lead that will take a point in the dulltest sharpener... and make over 4,000 check marks before it needs re-pointing!

10c each, less in quantities.

