JOHN OLIVER HOBBS DEAD.
Brilliant Authoress and Dramatist Passes Away in Her Sleep.
London, Aug. 14.—Mrs. Pearl Mary Teresa Craigie (John Oliver Hobbs), the authoress and dramatist, died in her sleep yesterday morning of heart failure.
Her death was totally unexpected, she having been apparently perfectly well when she retired Sunday night. Mrs. Craigie had been spending a fortnight at her home, Steephill Castle, Ventnor, Isle of Wight, which she left Sunday afternoon to keep an engagement in London. She was 39 years of age.
Sketch of Her Life.
Mrs. Craigie was a native of Boston, Mass., her father being John Morgan Richards. She was married when 19 years of age to Reginald Walpole Craigie, by whom she had one son, now 16 years of age. Though of Protestant parentage, Mrs. Craigie joined the Roman Catholic Church in 1892. Her interest in the land of her birth continued throughout her life, and she made several visits to the United States after her marriage, the last one being in November of last year, when she lectured on literary subjects. After her return to England she lectured there on "American Worship of Wealth."

INDIAN CHIEFS SEE KING.
Make Gifts to Queen and Say They Have No Complaints.
London, Aug. 14.—(C. A. P.)—A large crowd of people, many with cameras, assembled yesterday afternoon in front of the Canadian Government offices in Victoria street, the rumor having got about that Lord Strathcona, was to leave for Buckingham Palace accompanied by three Canadian Indian chiefs, at present in London, but the crowd was disappointed. Lord Strathcona did not go to the palace.
The Indian chiefs were received by the King, to whom they presented a document owning allegiance to the late Queen, and not to His Majesty. They presented three beautiful Indian work-baskets to Queen Alexandra, one basket containing the picture of the son and daughter of Chief Koe Caplano.
The chiefs were delighted with their reception by the King. The C. A. P. asked Caplano what he thought of the King.
"Oh, he's a good man; he speak so softly."
The chiefs had no grievance whatever to put before the King. Minister of the Interior Oliver had an interview yesterday which lasted several hours with Lord Strathcona.

ARRESTED FOR BIGAMY.
George Burling of Essex County Arrested While Courting.
Detroit, Mich., Aug. 14.—While waiting on a street corner Sunday night to keep an appointment with Miss Stella Brady of Maldenstone, a small town in Essex County, George Burling, aged 39 years, was arrested on a charge of bigamy, and was taken to Windsor.
A year ago Burling married a young woman at Cottam, Essex County. He deserted her after a time and came to Michigan. At Albion he married again. He deserted the second wife, and wandered back to Essex County.
While working on the farm of S. M. Brady, near Maldenstone, three months ago, Burling and Brady's 21-year-old daughter Stella came to Detroit together, and the girl says they were soon to be married. It is said that there is still another woman in Essex County to whom Burling was married.

STILL UNCONSCIOUS.
Miss Jones of Owen Sound, Assaulted on Road, Worse.
Owen Sound, Aug. 14.—The condition of Miss Louise Jones, who was found unconscious near her home on Sunday morning, after lying all night on the road, was worse last night. She rallied somewhat in the day and mumbled a few incoherent sentences, which throw no light on the assault.
The police are working industriously on the case, but have not the slightest clue to the identity of the assailant. The recovery of Miss Jones is expected to reveal a description of the party.
Italians For the West.
Ottawa, Aug. 14.—One of the results of the Canadian exhibit at Milan has been to induce the Emigration Department of the Canadian Government to send a special officer to look over the display, interview the Canadian representatives and report on the suitability of Canada as a residence for Italians of the agricultural class.

Accquitted, Dies on Way Home.
Winnipeg, Aug. 14.—Tushwege, the Cat Lake Indian, who was tried at the spring Assizes at Kenora on a charge of murder and dismissed, died on the way to his home in the North Country. He died suddenly when within sight of his hunting grounds on the Rat Portage, on Cat Lake.

Cured at St. Anne.
Ottawa, Aug. 14.—Mrs. William Post of Hintonburg, a suburb of Ottawa, has been cured of lameness, and claims this as the result of one of the miracles at the famous shrine of St. Anne de Beupre. She walked to St. Mary's Church Sunday without crutches for the first time this year.

Lost Bank Funds in Speculation.
Birmingham, Ala., Aug. 14.—Officials of the First National Bank yesterday announced that Alexander R. Chisholm, paying teller of that bank, is $100,000 short in his accounts. Chisholm says he lost the money in speculation. He is under 30.

ATTRACTIVE STYLES.
Handsome Embroidered Collar and Cuff Sets—Flower Stoles.
Turnover collars and cuffs embroidered by hand are still with us, and more beautiful than ever. The chief difference between those of the present and past seasons lies in the great depth of the cuff, which is adapted to the long, close sleeve, instead of the old time wristband. Offered in fine lawn and the finest linens, handsomely embroidered and inset with lace, are both these types of cuff. For the deep ones heavy linen is more practical than the very fine kind, which gets crumpled as soon as the cuffs are adjusted.
The latest accessory to smart dress is the stole made of flowers. Hitherto stoles have been seen in fur, crepe de chine and taffeta chiffon, but now the flower stole is all the craze. It is fashioned of silk, muslin, chiffon or fine silk and it is very lightly put together in the form of roses, daisies, buttercups, snowdrops or poppies. Between the flowers is an intervening arrangement of latticework, made of narrow satin ribbon of the same color as the flower. The edge is finished with a fringe of ribbon.

Some simple lingerie petticoats for morning wear are made of the favorite broderie anglaise, and are innocent of any supplementary frills. These are very economical from the laundry point of view, as they are not nearly so difficult to iron as the many frilled ones.
Veils seldom receive sufficient attention. Each time they are removed from a hat they should be pulled out and rolled up. The cardboard tubes which are used for sending photographs by post are excellent for this purpose, and many people cover these with wadding and again with silk, so that the veil may be pinned firmly when it has been stretched round it. Crumpled and limp veils may be successfully stiffened by dipping them in a little gum arabic and water.
Very smart is the pelierine ruche pictured. White chiffon ruffles edge the lace puffs, which in turn are finished with gathered black satin ribbon.
JUDIC CHOLLET.

WHAT IS WORN.
Agiacourt, a New Shade of Gray.
Flechu Bodice Smart For Maslins.
Gray is a very fashionable color this season, and the newest tone of this shade is called agiacourt.
Taffeta or china silk slips are easily made at home, and give the possession of several of these, one's wardrobe may be made up in an unlined style and worn over black, white or colored lining at will.

The fichu bodice is the correct thing for informal wear, and many delightful confections are fashioned in sheer fabrics of the season.
Undervests of Italian silk, embroidery and lace trimmed, can be had in white, pink and blue.
An attractive girl's frock for cool summer days is made of white serge. The long waisted French blouse is inserted with heavy cream lace.

An Ancient Captain.
The columns of The London Times recently contained the announcement of the death at Longford, Tasmania, of Capt. Edward Dunderberg, in his 104th year. This officer, whose life was so extraordinarily prolonged, was invalided out of the Bombay army in 1827, after less than nine years' service. His nomination as a cadet by J. B. Taylor, a director of the East India Co., was dated Dec. 15, 1818; on the 30th of the same month he was appointed a lieutenant in the 5th Bombay Regiment, at the age of sixteen years and six months. He was promoted captain in September, 1826, and on April 25, 1827, was retired on a Lord Clive's fund pension, which he drew for seventy-nine years, less only a few days. The certified cause of death of this invalid of 1827, on April 23, 1904, was "weakness due to old age."

Greenland's Glory.
The largest mass of ice in the world is probably the one which fills up nearly the whole of the interior of Greenland, where it has accumulated, since before the dawn of history. It is believed now to form a block about 600,000 square miles and a half in thickness. According to these statistics, the lump of ice is larger in volume than the whole body of water in the Mediterranean, and there is enough of it to cover the whole of the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland with a layer about seven miles thick.

Had Diarrhoea so bad he had to give up work.

HAVE YOU EVER BEEN IN THIS POSITION?

If you have not been, but ever do be, remember that Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry is nature's specific for all Bowel Complaints.

It has been on the market for 60 years. Surely this is reputation enough as to its efficacy.

Mr. Henry Voll, Carthage, Ont., writes: "I have used Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry with the best of results. Last summer I had the Diarrhoea so bad that I had to give up work. A friend of mine persuaded me to give Dr. Fowler's Extract of Wild Strawberry a trial, which I did, and can say that it cured me entirely. I can recommend it to all who are troubled with Diarrhoea."

Be sure and ask for Dr. Fowler's and take no substitute. All dealers sell it.

Prehistoric Canoe.
An ancient canoe, measuring 27 feet in length by 3 feet in width, has been found in a bog at Trehook, near Redhills, County Cavan. It was hollowed out of a trunk of oak, and contained a rudder and spaces for oars.

THE READY REMEDY.
When trouble after you doth chase,
Why, turn and stare her in the face
And smile.
And she will hurry from your sight;
A smile will fill her full of fright,
So smile.
When worry hastes after you
And dyes the world a sombre hue,
Just smile;
A grin will drive her far away.
So let your laughter muscles play
And smile.

INSATIABLE PLAYGOERS.
Curious Patrons of Theatres in "Dear Old London."

The managers and box-office keepers of London theatres tell strange stories of the eccentricities of their patrons.

A certain gentleman, for instance, has never missed a single performance at the Vaudeville theatre since the first day of "The Belle of Mayfair." The curious point about him is that he always takes two stalls, reserving one of them for his hat and coat. At Daly's theatre there is also a patron who for many weeks has never missed a performance, and has intimated that he wants the seat—in the dress circle—reserved until his leave of absence from his regiment in India expires.

At the Gaiety theatre there is a pit customer who, ever since the theatre was built, occupies the same corner each Friday night, and for some years before did the same thing at the old Gaiety. When the old Gaiety was in existence a man used to sit in the gallery every night until a certain lady in the company left to go on tour, when he, too, left to follow her silently round the country. Recently when she appeared at another London theatre for a short engagement this distant and devoted admirer appeared in the gallery.

Another well-known patron of the play-houses is a tall, reserved man who goes to every matinee of the newest musical comedy. He arrives without fail, and punctually at half-past four leaves the theatre and drives away in his carriage. This continues every week until another musical piece is produced, when at once he transfers his custom.

Last year during the Covent Garden opera season a colonial ex-Premier arrived one evening in ordinary walking costume, and when he found that evening dress was indispensable he borrowed a white tie from the management, and keeping on his overcoat took his seat. He went to the opera many times afterwards, and always insisted on borrowing the white tie.

Mr. Lewis Waller at the Imperial theatre had a misadventure that left his theatre half empty one Saturday night. Through carelessness the "House Full" boards were not taken away after the matinee, with the result that people arriving in the evening turned away and went elsewhere in search of amusement.

Morency is in the Toils.
Toronto, Aug. 10.—On the complaint of medical men and others, that certain individuals were taking orders for a family "Encyclopaedia of Health," called "Medicology," and representing that the medical faculty of Toronto endorsed the distribution of the book, which was false, W. W. Morency, the agent for the book, was yesterday arrested by Detective Sackett, and is being held on a nominal charge pending the investigation of his enterprise.

Wine Grand Handicap.
Hamilton, Aug. 10.—At the Dominion of Canada Shooting Association's tournament yesterday, W. P. Thompson, Hamilton, won the Grand Canadian Handicap of fifty targets with a score of 49. Harry Scane and W. Hewing had the high average of the day, each getting 190 out of 200.

He who persists in genuinities will increase in adequacy.
