RESULTS OF AGRICULTURAL EXPERIMENTS AT LACOMBE

Superintendent Hutton has prepared the following partial results of the sea son's operations on the Dominion Experimental Farm, Lacombe:

The spring opened much earlier than in 1907 and seeding was finished this year before it was commenced one year A heavy rainfall in June stimu lated a strong growth, but ripening was delayed by cool weather during the last of July and August. All compara-tive grain tests were sown on Timothy scd except the winter wheat which was sown on brome sod. In both cases a crop of hay was taken in 1907, then the land was plowed and prepared for winter wheat and spring crops. In the case of grains the system of cultivation insures an earlier harvest but a lighter crop and with the winter wheat a dual Mansfield. crop and with the winter wheat a dual crop, i.e., wheat and grass seed. This season further experiments are being conducted with winter wheat on a summer fallow, brome sod and timothy sod, while as a complement to the test, baking results will be secured by the Cereal-Claude ing results will be secured by the Cerealat the Central Experimental Farm Nugent required to produce one crop or in the case of summer fallow for winter wheat.
