Baltic Rum-running Shows Large Profits.

STOCKHOLM. — Legislation in Sweden against drunkenness and consequent heavy taxation on liquor about 5000 gallons from the Baltic crease of 400 from the tal waters with a cargo of spirits for sale. In order to establish the truth of this alleged rum-running, the correspondent of the Associated Press decided upon a personal investigation. With a friend he embarked on a six ton cutter for this German boat, which was expected off Sandhamn and after a pleasant sail in the moonlight came up with the vessel which was riding at anchor with the usual

SELLING ON THE HIGH SEAS. On hailing the vessel we were re quested to go aboard and were received cordially by the Captain. "Just waiting for someboay else," he said, "but you are very welcome anyhow." Asked down to the cabin, the vicitors explained that they were neithed buyers of alamon nor in the service of the customs, but only wanted to earn something first hand about relling spirits on the high soas. The Captain was a young Gerann, about 30 years old. "You take me for a smuggler," he said, "or bootlegger out for business beyond the law, but you are qu.to mistaken. My name is Ludwig Wolff, formerly of the German navy. I do business which cannot bear examination, and would not for anything in the world infringe says the health department. # Clergyman Now

LONDON. - Clergymen no longer have large families, the members of the Neo-Malthusian Birth Control Society were told by Professor Mac-Bride at a recent conference. Thirty years ago the clergy were reckoned among the most prolific members of the community, and rightly regarded as breeders of talent; but to-day road sweepers, dock laborers and people of that class indulge in large amilies, while clerical families consist of only one or two children. The Not so Easy as it Looks. It is the same ratio between accidents and vehicles obtained to-day as in previous years, so that in reality a big saving in life has been effected thru regulation of traffic and the closing of streets for play during certain hours of the day. Almost 12 persons per 100,000-numbering 684-died in falls, says the report; 103 from scaffolds and buildings and 138 from fire escapes and windows. In our judgment the defenders of Germany will do better to abandon every method of propaganda, anonynous or otherwise, for many years to come. It will be well for them to say little and "saw wood."
