On this page are presented scores upon scores of the letters that have come to The Advertiser within the last two days. And the end is not yet. To carry all of the letters would require several full pages. That the publication of their letters (and the forwarding of them to Santa Claus) has been a delight to the children, is evidenced by the steady stream of missives that has poured into this office since the announcement was made. What a cornucopia of dolls, rocking-horses, trains, blackboards, skates, sleighs, miniature grocery stores, tools, dresses, hair ribbon and what act could be considered. and what not could be poured out, were all of the gifts asked for by the hundreds of children put together! What a labor the writing of the letters was! It was the literary effort of most of the children's lives! What pathos and childsh humor have touched the hearts of the thousands of parents and other adults who read the letters! What a reflection upon the bachelors! There have been few cases where outside assistance was required, yet scores of people have volunteered to help in case there was need. It has been necessary to suppress several of the letters owing to the personal character of the circumstances. A little boy in a well-known family wrote: "Send my daddy a Bible for he Then there were several requests that would not have been creditable to their writers. For instance, all one girl wanted was "a harum skirt," and all another wanted was "a red switch." Any letters received today will be printed before Christmas. After today it will be necessary to close the postoffice at The Advertiser, although any letters received will be forwarded to St. Nicholas, even though they are not printed.
