REGARDING INSANITY

A London Physician Makes Observations on the Topic

"Half the great poets were insane," Genius and insanity are closely related," said Dr. F. W. Mott, F.R.C.P., F.R.S., who has charge of 20,000 lunatics in the London hospitals. "The poets were in many cases the sons of erratic, nervous parents. There is not much difference between the highly imaginative thought of the poet or of the genius on one hand, and insanity on the other."

"Heredity plays a great part in insanity, a much larger part than is generally realized," he said. "A pathologist to the London County Asylum I have charge of 20,000 lunatics. Cards show that over 3,000 of them are related. Of this number 750 are brother and sister, or parents and children.
Heredity is not all, however. Environment plays a big part. One member of a family by some chance meets with fortune and goes on to success and is respected. Another meets misfortune and goes down to his grave a suicide or dies in a madhouse. Much depends upon environment. Children of insane parents are taken out of the gutter by the Barnardo homes. Left alone they would grow up insane.
Under proper care they make a success of life. Of course, some of them are beyond hope. You cannot make good out of bad material, but you can prevent a great deal of good from being spoiled. In cases that I have traced I have found that insanity appears earlier in each succeeding generation until it reaches the stage where the child is born insane or becomes insane so early in youth that there is no marriage. In other cases marriage with strong strains wipes out the insanity in the following generations."

Recovered His Radium

The radium in one of the first bulbs that were received in London had a curious history. A physician in Portland Place was applying the bulb to a patient, when he accidentally let it fall, and a moment after crushed it under his foot. The value of the radium to the physician was very great.
He removed his boot from his feet and cut out a square of his valuable carpet. He had boots and carpet burned, and out of the ashes refined the original radium salt. It was placed in a new applicator, and is in use to-day.

Safeguarding Balloonists

The upper side of a dirigible balloon built for the British navy has been coated with aluminum dust to reflect the sun's rays and lessen the effect of their heat on the gas it contains.

MODERN DESPATCHING

Telephones Displacing the Telegraph
For the Actual Handling of Trains

The new system of despatching trains by telephone inaugurated by the Grand Trunk Railway between Montreal and Toronto has been in use long enough for a thorough and satisfactory test. It is intended eventually to despatch by telephone over the entire system.

The method followed is slightly different from the ordinary telephone line in that it is always under the direct control of the chief train despatcher so that the wire cannot be used by operators at way stations except through his office. It is a marked improvement on the old telegraph system which was subject to interruption while being used for transmitting train orders. The telephone is exclusively used for handling orders for the movement of trains, ordinary railroad business being still conducted by means of telegraph.

The old rules are still made use of.
All orders are repeated back to the despatcher by the operator for reference to the original copy before the signal "O.K." is given. The numbers of trains and engines, the stations, names of conductors and engineers and other important parts of orders are spelled out in full both in transmission and repetition.

During the summer months mothers of young children should watch for any unusual looseness of the bowels. When given prompt attention at this time serious trouble may be avoided. Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy can always be depended upon. For sale by all dealers.

JAPAN'S NATIONAL ANTHEM

Of all the national anthems, the Japanese, it is said, is the most poetical in expression. Here is a translation of it into English verse:

"Until this grain of sand, Tossed by each wavelet's freak, Grew to a cloud-girt peak, Towering above the land;
Until the dewy flake Beading this blossom's gold Swelt to a mighty lance—Age upon age unfold
Joy to joy manifold, Add for our Sovereign's sake."

HIS OWN DETECTIVE

Jeweller Disguised Himself and Succeeded in Tracing Stolen Pearls

Charles Gys, a Paris jeweller, who was swindled out of three pearl necklaces by a man named Braun, by his own exertions succeeded in finding the thief and recovering the pearls.

Braun pretended to Gys that he had a customer for the necklaces, but decamped when they were entrusted to him, ostensibly abandoning his wife and children. Mme. Braun exhibited great grief at being deserted, but M.
Gys had a suspicion that she was aware of her husband's whereabouts, so he had his hair dyed, donned a false beard and ragged garments and, completely disguised as a typical Parisian mendicant, posted himself outside her residence and shadowed her when she went out.

Three days passed, and then, with her children she went to the railway station and took the express for Vienna. M. Gys was in the same train, and on reaching the Austrian capital he saw Braun awaiting his family on the platform. He followed the party, and learning that, besides being a swindler, Braun was a deserter from the Austrian army, easily induced the authorities to issue a warrant for his arrest.

Captured after a vain endeavor to use a revolver, Braun confessed that he had pledged the necklaces for $4,300 to three Parisian moneylenders. Containing his breath, M. Gys found the bank in which Braun had deposited this money, secured evidence to show that the three moneylenders were Braun's accomplices, and had them arrested, and eventually traced the pearls.

"MY STOMACH IS FINE

Since Taking Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets"

Mrs. J. Markinger, Waterloo, Ont., enthusiastically recommends Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets. Her experience with them, as she outlines it, explains why.

"I was greatly troubled with my stomach," she writes. "I had taken so much medicine that I might say to take any more would only be making it worse. My stomach just felt raw. I read of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets, and a lady friend told me they were very easy to take, so I thought I would give them a trial and really they worked wonders. Anyone having anything wrong with his stomach should give Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets a trial, they will do the rest. My stomach is fine now and I can eat any food."

One of the many good features of Na-Dru-Co Dyspepsia Tablets is that they are so pleasant and easy to take.
The relief they give from heartburn, flatulence, biliousness and dyspepsia is prompt and permanent. Try one after each meal—they'll make you feel like a new person.

FORTUNE FOR A LABORER

Harbinger of Good Tidings Has to Chase His Man

How an agricultural laborer earning $3.75 a week at St. Ony, near Clacton, tried to elude a solicitor's clerk who brought to him the tidings that he had been bequeathed $100,000 is told in British papers.

This fortune was left him by an old neighborly who emigrated to the United States years ago, and died there recently. A representative of a firm of solicitors made a number of inquiries before he could find any trace of the man. Eventually he went into an inn, the landlord of which knew the lucky farm laborer.

Shortly afterwards the man passed the inn, and the solicitor's representative shouted to him. Instead of stopping he walked on more quickly.
When he was overtaken he explained that he thought the man was a defective, though why he could not tell, having nothing on his conscience.

If you are a housewife you cannot reasonably hope to be healthy or beautiful by washing dishes, sweeping and doing household work. You must get out into the open air and sunlight. If you do this every day and keep your stomach and bowels in good order by taking Chamberlain's Tablets when needed, you should become both healthy and beautiful.
For sale by all dealers.

CARE OF WORK HORSES

Some General Rules That Apply Either to City or Country

1. Start at a walk, and let your horse work very easily for the first half hour.

2. A heavy draft horse should never be driven faster than a walk, with or without a load.

3. Look to your harness. Avoid these faults especially: Bridle too long or too short; blinkers pressing on the eye or flapping; throat-latch too tight; collar too tight or too loose; traces too long; breeching too low down or too loose; inside reins too long, in the case of pairs.

4. Drive your horse all the time.
Feed his mouth gently. Never jerk the reins.

5. Take the horse out of the shafts as much as possible, and if you drive a pair or four, unfasten the outside traces while the horses are standing; they will rest better that way.

6. Teach your horses to go into the collar gradually. When a load is to be started, speak to the horses and take a firm hold of the reins so that they will arch their necks, keep their legs under them, and step on their toes. A loose rein means sprawling and slipping, often with one horse ahead of the other.

7. Water your horse as often as possible. Water in moderate quantities will not hurt him so long as he keeps moving.

8. Blanket your horse carefully when he stands, especially if he is at all hot. Repeated slight chills stiffen and age a horse before his time.

9. Bring your horse in cool and breathing easily. If he comes in hot, he will sweat in the stable, and the sudden stopping of hard work is bad for his feet.

10. In hot weather or in drawing heavy loads, watch your horse's breathing. If he breathes hard, or short and quick, it is time to stop.

11. Remember that the horse is the most nervous of all animals, and that little things annoy and irritate him. Remember that he will be contented or miserable accordingly as you treat him.

LOCKING UP THE TOWER

Quaint Ceremony Carried on Night in Old London

Very few people are aware of an ancient custom which is still kept up at the Tower of London. Just before midnight a beef-eater and the chief yeoman porter secure the keys from the governor's house to "lock up."

Having received the keys, they proceed to the guard-room.

"Escort for the keys!" calls out the porter, and a sergeant then marches off, and the sentries they pass issue the usual challenge of "Who goes there?" to which the answer is "Keys."

Arriving at the entrance to the Tower grounds, the Lions' Gate, the porter locks the gates, and the party returns to the guard-room, the sentry challenging as before and receiving the same answer. However, on arrival at the guard-room again, the sentry stationed there challenges him at the same time giving the usual challenge.

"Keys," replies the porter.

"Whose keys," the sentry asks.

"King George's keys," the porter answers.

"Advance King George's keys, and all's well."

The porter then says, "God bless King George," and all present respond with "Amen." The keys are then saluted, and returned to the governor's house, where they remain until the next night's ceremony.

Kaiser's Night Sign

The Kaiser has adopted a novel style of displaying the Royal Standard on his motor cars. A flag, on which is emblazoned the words, "God with us," is painted on transparent glass, which is electrically illumined at night when he is in the car so that it will be recognized from a long way off.

Noisless Shooting Gallery

Because residents living near by objected to the noise, the proprietor of a Hamilton, Ont., shooting gallery promised the City Council that he would equip his rifles with silencers, making an innovation in the form of a noiseless shooting gallery.

of the Brantford Street Railway in the East Ward was instantly electrocuted. Defective bond wires caused the trouble.
