Perhaps the most extraordinary success that cen achieved in modern medicine has been attained been achieved in modern medicine has been attained by the Dixon treatment for catarth. Out of two housand patients treated during the past six months fully munty per cent have been cured of this stubborn malady. This is none the less start-ling when it is remembered that not five per cent of patients presenting themselves to the regular prac-titioner are benefited, while the patent medicines and other advertised cures never record a cure at all. Startling with the claim mow generally believed by the most scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living parasites in the tissue. Mr.

by the most scientific men that the disease is due to the presence of living parasites in the tissue, Mr. Dixon at once adapted his cure to their extermina-tion—this accomplished, he claims the catarrh is practically cured and the permanency is unques-tioned, as cures effected by hi if wo years ago are cures still. No one class has ever attempted to cure extarth in this manner, and no other treatment has ever cured catarrh. The application of the remedy is simple and can be done at home, and the present season of the year is the most favorable for a speedy and permanent cure, the majority of cases being cured at one treatment.
