Inself.

Cornelius Ketel painted his pictures with his thumb, and it is still the picture-cleaner's safest tool. When sawing was rendered easier by the invention of the thimble or thumbell, as it was originally called, that useful article was worn upon the thumb, not the finger; and the Japanese dentist, disdaining any but nature's appliances, finds his thumb and finger all sufficing in the extraction of the most stubborn of aching teeth.

Here is an incident from the South—Mississippi, written in April, 1890, just after the Grippe had visited that country. "I am a farmer, one of those who have to rise early and Removal of the Cottage Meeting. Since last July the cottage meeting has been held in the store adjoining the Academy of Music, but it has been found inadequate for the purpose in many respects, and conserved the purpose in many respects. quently the workers were forced to look for PETER J. BRIALS, Jr., Cayuga, Hines other quarters, which they were fortunate enough to get, at the corner of Queen and Simcoe-streets, the store lately occupied by ex-Alderman Carlyle. For a mission there ex-Alderman Carlyle.

Is no better position in Toronto, and it is hoped that the work which is now so well known will take a fresh start, although the hoped that the work which is now as the known will take a fresh start, although the past winter has been the best in its history. The meetings are bright and attractive, with good singing and simple addresses, and many have dated the commencement of a better life from the time they began to attend them. The newly-appointed assistant at the them. The newly appointed assistant at the Church of the Ascension, the Rev. R. Renison, will give the first address at the opening of the hall this (Friday) evening, to which all are invited.

A Wonderful Timepiece. [From The St. Louis Republic.] Japan is said to possess a timeniece ex-hibiting remarkable mechanical genius in its feet wide and 5 feet long, representing a noonday landscape of great beauty. In the foreground plum and cherry trees and rich plants appear in full bloom; in the rear is seen a hill, gradual in ascent, from which il, gradual in ascent, from which seen a hill, gradual in ascent, from which apparently flows a cascade, admirably imitated in crystal.

From this point a thread-like stream meanders, encircling rocks and islands in its windings, and finally losing itself in a far-off stretch of woodland. In a miniature sky a golden sun turns on a silver wire, striking the hours on silver gongs as it passes. Each hour is marked on the frame by a creeping tortoise, which serves the place of a hand. A bird of exquisite plumage warbles at the close of each hour, and as the song ceases a mouse sallies forth from a neighboring grotto, and scampering over the hill to the garden is soon lost to view.

valuation and not by arbitration. The learned judge dismissed the appeal with costs.

Mr. Justice Robertson delivered judgment in Hendrie 3-The Belt Line Railway Co., restraining Mr. Wragge of the Grand Trunk from acting as arbitrator in the dispute between the contractor and the Belt Line Co. It was agreed when the contract was entered into that all disputes between the contractor and the company, should be decided by Mr. Wragge. A dispute arose as to some $80,000, and Contractor Hendrie asked to have Mr. Wragge restrained from acting, on the ground that at the time of the contract he was not aware that the new Line was to be handed over to and operated by the Grand Trunk Company.

The master in ordinary yesterday declared a further dividend of 5½ per cent, in the matter of the Central Bank. The creditors was not willing, as some litigation is pending and some money must be retained to meet opossible expenses in connection therewith. From Times of Old the Rule of Thumb Has Prevailed.

From Chambers' Journal.

To say a man works by rule of thumb is to reproach him with exactness; but when exchequer tallies were in use a notch the width of a thumb represented exactly £10.

When drapers employed the clothyard wand, the possession of a narrow thumb was an advantage to an aspirant to the counter, as in measuring goods the buyer gained a thumb's width in every yard, but the adeption of a measure imbedded in the counter, as in measure imbedded in the counter deprived sim-fluggered ones of their advantage, and the draper's customers of their "thumbs."

It is by the thumb the miller tests the grinds: grant of the counter and gualities: of the counter and gualities: of the counter of the counter

A Chilian merchant used to defy forgery by placing one thumb on the paper he wished to sign, and tracing its outline; then he placed the other thumb across, outlined that, and his signature was complete.

The Chinese have long been aware; that the impressions of no two thumbs, even of the same individual, are alike; and impressions of every criminal's thumb are taken by the police and numbered for reference. He may disguise himself as he will, make up as he can, but a comparison of the impressions of his thumbs with that in the police archives settles the identity of an old offender beyond doubt.
