SABLE ISLAND PONIES

A romantic interest has always invested Sable Island. Its position—jutting far out into the Western Atlantic; its wind-swept, desolate sand hills; its perpetual fringe of ever-lasting surf, with a sad story of many a drowned man or sea-wrecked ship, mingled with ghostly fable or truer tale of murderous plunder are full warnings for the deepest interest. Passing over the tragedies connected with the Island, we give a sketch of the ponies. When the breed of wild ponies was introduced there is no record. In an old print, over a hundred years old, they are depicted as being lassoed by men in cocked hats and antiquated habiliments. In 1858, they were divided into herds or gangs, each having a separate pasture, and each presided over by an old male, conspicuous by the length of his mane, rolling in tangled masses over eye and ear, down his forehead. Half his time seems taken up in tossing it from his eyes as he collects his outlying mares, and follows on the approach of strangers, and keeping them well up in a pack boldly faces the enemy, whilst they retreat at a gallop. If pressed, however, he too, retreats on their rear. He brooks no undivided allegiance, and many a fierce battle is waged by the contending chiefs for the honor of the herd. In form they resemble the wild horses of all lands; the large head, thick, shaggy neck of the male, low withers, padding gait, and sloping quarters, have all their counterparts in the mustang and the horse of the Ukraine.

There seems a remarkable tendency in these horses to assume the Isabella colors, the light chestnut, and even the pie-balds or paint horses of the Indian prairies or the Mexican Savannah. The annual drive or herding, usually resulting in old days, in the whole island being swept from end to end, and a kicking, snorting, half terrified mass driven into a large pond, from which about three dozen selected, lassoed, are exported to the city. This afforded fine sport, wild riding, and plenty of falls.

SUDDEN DEATH OF MR. FRANK ALCOHN

Mrs. Forrest Connell, Sr., received word of the sudden death of her nephew, Mr. Frank Alcorn, which took place at Bear River. Mr. Alcorn, at the time, was driving past Wm. Berry's and fell out of his wagon, dead. The doctor considered that he had a stroke and was dead before he fell. About four weeks previous he had a slight shock, but apparently got over the effects of it though his condition of health had not been satisfactory for the past twenty-five years back. The late Mr. Connell was a good father and an esteemed citizen in the community.

THINGS ARE NOT WHAT THEY SEEM

While a customer in one of our prominent stores on Seventh Street, I saw an unusually amazing incident. A lady of stupendous dimensions, stylishly attired, entered the store and seated herself to be waited upon. Soon a bald-headed clerk came up to serve her. After rejecting this pair and that, she decided on some brown Oxford. The clerk knelt down to lace them, and she gazed about the room. Suddenly she looked down and saw the bald head. Thinking that it was her rolled-topped knee, she modestly drew her skirt over it.

ADD ANOTHER NAME TO N. S.'S LONG ILLUSTRIOUS RECORD

Wellville.—The appointment of the Rev. Dr. H. P. Whidden to the chancellorship of MacMaster University adds another name to the long and illustrious succession of Maritime Province educationists who have been chosen for university headship. Dr. Howard Primrose Whidden is son of the late Hon. C. B. Whidden, of Antigonish, and brother of Councilor Dr. Graham Whidden, of Wolfville. He was born in Antigonish in 1871 and graduated in arts from Acadia in 1891. He pursued post graduate studies in Boston, Toronto and Chicago. He received a doctor's degree in divinity from Denison University in 1906, and was made a doctor of laws by MacMaster University in 1912. He was principal of Brandon College, Manitoba, for the past ten years and brought that institution up to a high state of efficiency. He is a man of fine culture and strong administrative gifts. He represented Brandon in the Federal Parliament during the late Union Government administration.

Should Dr. Whidden decide to accept the chancellorship of MacMaster, he will be the third Acadia graduate to occupy that position, the late Dr. Theodore Harding Rand, first Superintendent of Education for Nova Scotia, and Rev. Dr. O. C. S. Wallace, now of Baltimore, being the other two. A strong effort is now being made by people of Hamilton, Ont., to have MacMaster move to that city, and it is not unlikely that a policy of that kind may be announced in the near future.

INTERESTING LETTER FROM OTTAWA CORRESPONDENT

Mr. Editor:—

For some time I have been thinking of dropping you a line, to show you, the dear old Monitor is not forgotten at this festive season.

No, indeed! It comes very regularly, and scanned with the same degree of pleasure as ever. How refreshing for one so far from the homeland to peruse the correspondence from the various places, both in Annapolis and indeed in the Province generally.

It was very gratifying to me, to read the remarks made by Sir Henry Thornton, the new manager of the Canadian National Railway, in his speech at Halifax, stated that the Maritime Provinces had always been handicapped by the fact that you were isolated practically from the large Provinces of the interior, and since the tariff in the United States had been raised so high it practically prohibited trade with Uncle Sam, and hence you had to find an outlet for your surplus products in the Old Country. It is evident he intends to effect a remedy, I can truly say, "So mote it be."

We are right into Winter now, plenty of snow for sleighing, and pretty cold for the last 'no nights. It has been twelve below zero, but we don't mind that temperature as much as you would at ten above. It is certainly what is needed to make an all round Merry Xmas. Certainly everybody here has extended himself in patronizing our business firms, and surely the stores on our principal streets were never finer decorated, everything to attract the eye and the Rocket Book, which, as a rule, will be pretty well cleaned out.

The date of the opening of parliament has not been definitely settled yet, owing to the absence of the Finance Minister, Hon. W. S. Fielding, who has been absent in Europe since the last of October, negotiating trade treaties with different countries over there, and dame rumor says he has been very successful. He surely is an Asatute old statesman and all Bluesoes can justly feel proud of his clean career as a true patriot of this Canada of ours. It is rumored he may be selected as Ambassador to Washington, a position that would undoubtedly round out his long period of public life.

No doubt the session of parliament will be a lengthy one, and stormy, at times. A re-distribution bill is to be passed. A superannuation bill for the Civil Service, and other, which will produce heated discussion from the various groups.

In closing, I wish to make mention of the respected pastor of the First Baptist Church, Dr. A. N. Marshall, he is still as popular as ever and is regarded by the clergy and laity of the denomination as one of the ablest preachers in the city, and as an attendant of his church, I must say his discourses are truly inspiring. I am also pleased to state Mrs. Marshall's health is improving wonderfully and her large circle of friends are praying for her complete recovery. Trusting, Mr. Editor, that Santa Claus may reward you bountifully this Yule Tide. I remain

Sincerely yours,

H. W. N. C.

AN APPRECIATION OF BRITAIN

Walter H. Pagé, American Ambassador in London, during the war, sympathized strongly with the British and also faithfully upheld American claim. Selections of his letters have been published but they contain only a mere fraction of the wealth of material which is to be found in these two stately volumes, which are of abiding importance as historical documents, and of overwhelming interest to all of British race. For they give the verdict of a cool, dispassionate critic on our own selves in the terrible hours of sorrow which the war brought; and the verdict is full of enthusiasm and praise:

"As for the British" (he wrote in late 1915), "there never was such a race. It's odd—I hear that it happened just now to be the fashion in the United States to say that the British are not doing their share. There never was a greater slander. They absolutely hold the Seven Seas. They've sent to France by several times the largest army that any people ever sent over the sea. They are financing most of their Allies."

But it was the dauntless courage and quiet of the British that moved him most:

"No family in the land, from charcoal burners to dukes, hesitates one moment to send its sons into the army. When the news comes of their death, they never whimper. All the old stories from Homer down are outdone every day by these people. There is simply no end to the silly stories of their character. But when the real trial comes, they don't flinch."

He was moved as he saw our wealth melting, the vast savings passing into smoke and fire, to liberate the world, the enormous casualty lists swelling:

"Not a tear have I seen yet. They take it as a part of the price of greatness and of Empire. You guess at three grief only by their reticence. It isn't an accident that these people own a fifth of the world. Utterly unwarlike, they outlast anybody else, when war comes."

And again:

"You needn't talk of decadence in the British. All their great qualities are in them here and now. Every man, woman and child seems to be doing something. In the ordinary, daily life we see few of them; everybody is at work."

He felt that he was beholding heroism, and he loved the heroic people. His regret was great that President Wilson played so feeble a part; sometimes he feared that the resident would make war on the British because they refused to allow him to impose a peace of his own imagining on them.

MINNEAPOLIS HOLSTEIN CO. AT AUSTIN, MINN., HAS BROKEN THE WORLD'S RECORD FOR A YEAR'S PRODUCTION OF BUTTER. FOR THE 365 DAYS SHE GAVE 1,217.27 POUNDS OF BUTTER FAT, THE EQUIVALENT OF 1,521.6 POUNDS OF BUTTER, ACCORDING TO A. L. EBERHART, PRESIDENT OF THE COMPANY. THE FORMER RECORD OF 1,506.9 POUNDS OF BUTTER WAS HELD BY DUCHESS SKY-LARK ORMSBY, A HOLSTEIN THAT DIED IN MINNEAPOLIS A FEW YEARS AGO, HE SAID.

Why hens go on a strike!

The feed elements that make whites of eggs are entirely different from those that make yolks. When hens aren't fed both the white and yolk making elements, they can't lay.

Missouri Experiment Station tests prove that 100 lbs. of wheat, corn, oats, barley and kafir corn make (above bodily maintenance) an average of 224 yolks to 154 whites. Based on data from the same experiments, Purina formulas produce, (above bodily maintenance), as follows:

Purina Scratch Feed 247.45 yolks 142.11 whites

Purina Chicken Chowder 182.07 yolks 232.55 whites

Combined Ration 429.54 yolks 424.35 whites

These Purina feeds not only make a practically equal number of whites and yolks but more of both than ordinary feeds.

Note that Purina Chicken Chowder contains the necessary white-forming elements to balance up the yolk-making grain ration. That's why it makes hens lay so heavily. Instead of the yolks being absorbed by the hen's system, Purina Chicken Chowder makes the whites to complete the eggs and they are laid. Thus we can absolutely guarantee more eggs or money back on Purina Chicken Chowder if fed with Purina Scratch Feed as directed. You take no risk.
