

CONTENTS.

	Page.
Habitations and dress	539
The house	539
Clothing, dressing of the hair, and tattooing	554
Social and religious life	561
Domestic occupations and amusements	561
Visiting	574
Social customs in summer	576
Social order and laws	578
Religious ideas and the angakunirn (priesthood)	583
Sedna and the fulmar	583
The tornait and the angakut	591
The flight to the moon	598
Kadlu the thunderer	600
Feasts, religious and secular	600
Customs and regulations concerning birth, sickness, and death	609
Tales and traditions	615
Ititaujang	615
The emigration of the Sagdlirniut	618
Kalopalng	620
The Uissuit	621
Kiviung	621
Origin of the narwhal	625
The visitor	627
The fugitive women	628
Qaudjaqdjuq	628
I. Story of the three brothers	628
II. Qaudjaqdjuq	630
Igimarasugdjuqdjuaq the cannibal	633
The Tornit	634
The woman and the spirit of the singing house	636
The constellation Udleqdjun	636
Origin of the Adlet and of the Qállunait	637
The great flood	637
Inügpaqdjuqdjualung	638
The bear story	638
Sundry tales	639
The owl and the raven	641
Comparison between Baffin Land traditions and those of other tribes	641
Science and the arts	643
Geography and navigation	643
Poetry and music	648
Merrymaking among the Tornit	649
The lemming's song	649
Arlum pissinga (the killer's song)	650
I. Summer song	653
II. The returning hunter	653
III. Song of the Tornit	653
IV. Song of the Inuit traveling to Nettilling	653
V. Oxaitoq's song	654
VI. Utitiq's song	654
VII. Song	654
VIII. Song	654
IX. Song of the Tornit	654