

where he practised for seventeen years. During this time he was twice elected to the Ontario Legislature for West Simcoe. About 25 years ago he came to Toronto, where he followed his professional work till his death.

Dr. Wylie was very widely known and highly esteemed. He had a large practice among appreciative patients. He was a member of a number of societies. He will long be remembered for his unfailing kindness. He was ever ready to do a good turn to all who came to him for help.

T. G. WILSON.

Dr. Wilson died in Montreal three weeks ago at the age of 66 years. He had practised at Saint Placide for 40 years. For many years he was a well-known figure in the county of Two Mountains. His wife predeceased him by many years, but he is survived by two sons.

SAMUEL NASH.

Dr. Nash died at Bath, near Kingston, on 7th July, after a short illness. Dr. Nash was in his 82nd year. He was born at Milford, Ont.

THOMAS CECIL WELDON.

Dr. T. C. Weldon, of Thorold, died recently at the Minnawaska Sanitarium, Gravenhurst, where he had been ill for some time. The flag was at half-mast in Thorold, and the council held a special meeting to attend the funeral, and passed a resolution of sympathy with the bereaved family.

HARRY WILLIAMS.

Dr. Harry Williams, who was looking after the practice of Dr. Victor Ross, of Hamilton, was shot in the office of the latter by Hepworth Holmes. Dr. Williams was instantly killed. Holmes then shot himself and died soon afterwards. No explanation has been given for this action on the part of Holmes, unless it be that Dr. Williams had refused to treat Holmes, who was consumptive.

The late Dr. Williams was 45 years of age, and was a son of Dr. Williams, of Allenford, Ont., and a graduate of the University of Toronto, 1907. He later took the degrees of L.R.C.P. and M.R.C.S. While
