

December 4th, 1923.

Right Hon. L. S. Amery,
First Lord of the Admiralty, Whitehall, London, England.

My dear Colonel Amery:-

Let me acknowledge with thanks receipt of your letter of November 20th.

I shall at once get in touch with Commodore Hose and will help him in every way I can to fill any requirements of your Naval Medical Services.

We are all watching with a great deal of interest the political campaign now being waged in Great Britain, and more than one of us are giving you the credit for having forced the Prime Minister to fight this battle on the protection issue.

With all good wishes for your personal success and for the success of your policy, I am,

Ever yours faithfully,
