

JOHN CATTO & SON

DELIGHTED SHOPPERS

Still crowd
our exhibition of LADIES' NEW AUTUMN
MILLINERY
MODEL SUITS
COATS
OPERA CLOAKS
DRESS WRAPS
SILKS
DRESS FABRICS
TRIMMINGS
ETC., ETC.

Mail Orders Carefully
Filled.

Suit and Coat Catalogue on Request.

JOHN CATTO & SON
55 to 61 King Street East,
TORONTO.

Y.M.C.A. CONVENTION

Chairmen of the Various Committees
Are Named.

Preliminary arrangements are under way for the accommodation of the thirty-seventh International Conference of the Young Men's Christian Association, which is to be held Oct. 28-31, in Massey Hall. George A. Warburton, general secretary, announced the names of the chairmen of the different committees yesterday, as follows: John A. Torg, general committee; F. H. Deacon, vice-chairman; R. W. Eaton, publicity committee; T. Ferguson, finance committee; Chas. T. Stark, treasurer; Dr. W. Harley Smith, committee on meetings; John W. Turnbull, entertainment committee; A. E. Huestis, reception committee; W. M. Wallace, committee on places of meetings. Aid. Maguire and the members of the civic reception committee will co-operate with these gentlemen.

This organization only deals with the arrangements for holding the meetings and taking care of the delegates. The program is in charge of the international committee in New York, and this is not sufficiently advanced to enable any forecast to be made.

A new feature is to be added to the entertainment in the way of demonstration of physical work by a massed body of five hundred men. Circulars calling on men to join are being sent out.

"GOLD CRUST" BREAD
THE BEST YOU CAN BUY

We blend several flours, strong in gluten, and ferment the dough in a special way to produce the nutty, wholesome, body-building "Gold Crust" Bread at 5 cents a loaf.

And clean. Not a hand touches it after it is once mixed as dough. Made under the most sanitary conditions, and in the finest ovens, by skilled bakers, you'll find "Gold Crust" delicious and the best bread for growing children or hard-working adults.

Order to-day—Main 4372—and our driver will deliver you "Gold Crust" for a week. We know you'll keep on using it, because "Gold Crust" makes its friends as easily as it keeps them.

Main 4372
For Phone
Orders.

Nasmith's

THE WEATHER

OBSERVATORY, TORONTO, Sept. 15.—The weather has been fine to-day throughout the Dominion. It has been quite warm in the western provinces, with moderate temperatures elsewhere. Minimum and maximum temperatures: Victoria, 48-58; Vancouver, 51-61; Kamloops, 44-50; Calgary, 44-50; Edmonton, 40-52; Winnipeg, 44-54; Prince Albert, 38-52; Qu'Appelle, 44-54; Regina, 44-54; Port Arthur, 44-54; Sault Ste. Marie, 44-54; London, 44-54; Toronto, 44-54; Ottawa, 44-54; Montreal, 44-54; Quebec, 44-54; St. John, 44-54; Halifax, 44-54.

Probabilities.—Lower Lakes and Georgian Bay.—Light to moderate winds; fine; stationary or a little higher temperature. Ottawa and Upper St. Lawrence.—Light to moderate winds; fine; stationary or a little higher temperature. Lower St. Lawrence and Gulf.—Light to moderate winds; fine; a little higher temperature. Maritime.—Moderate winds; fine; not much change in temperature. Superior.—Moderate winds, mostly southwesterly; fine and warm. Manitoba and Saskatchewan.—Fine and quite warm. Alberta.—Fair and warm.

THE BAROMETER.

Time.	Ther.	Bar.	Wind.
8 a.m.	56	29.82	S.W.
11 a.m.	60	29.81	S.W.
2 p.m.	69	29.81	S.W.
5 p.m.	69	29.81	S.W.
8 p.m.	69	29.81	S.W.

Mean of day, 58; difference from average, 1 below; highest 72; lowest, 44.

STEAMSHIP ARRIVALS.

Sept. 15	At	From
Em. of Britain.	Quebec.	Montreal
Pomeranian.	Havre.	London
Corinthian.	Quebec.	London
Maureland.	New York.	Liverpool
Re d'Italia.	New York.	Genoa
Cambridge.	Liverpool.	Boston
Leinster.	Plymouth.	New York
P. F. Wilhelm.	Plymouth.	New York
Noordam.	Boulogne.	New York
La Provence.	Havre.	New York
Europa.	Naples.	New York
Carpathia.	Fiume.	New York
R. Adolbert.	Quebec.	Rotterdam
Corican.	Quebec.	Liverpool
Devon.	Quebec.	Glasgow

TO-DAY IN TORONTO.

Sept. 15.
Flicker Show, Allan Gardens, 7 p.m.
84th Highlanders' parade, Armory, 8 a.m.
West End Temperance Society re-union, 171 Bathurst-street.
Ladies—2 p.m.
Royal Alexandra—The Lottery Man, 8.
Grand—Thos. E. Shea in "A Self-made Man," 8.
Shea's New Theatre—Vaudeville, 2 and 8.
Star—Brigadier Burlesques, 2 and 8.
Cavety—Fads and Follies Burlesques, 2 and 8.
Shea's Yonge-street Theatre—Vaudeville, 2 and 8.
Majestic Theatre—Vaudeville, 2 and 8.
Public Library Board, 5.

BIRTHS.

ARMSTRONG—On Wednesday, Sept. 14, 1910, at 655 Markham-street, to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Armstrong, a daughter.

MCGRATH—On Sept. 13, to Mr. and Mrs. Jas. McGrath, 238 Havelock-street, a daughter.

WILLIAMS—On Sept. 15, 1910, at Corrado Hospital, Toronto, to Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Williams, a son.

MARRIAGES.

BLACKHALL-LEACH—On Sept. 14, 1910, at 332 Delaware-avenue, by the Rev. James Wilson, of Devon, Cecil Blackhall, of the firm of Blackhall & Co. late H. S. and Mrs. Leach, both of Toronto.

DEATHS.

MORRISON—On Thursday, Sept. 15, 1910, at the residence of David Whyte, concession 1, Scarborough, Cecil Morrison, in his 27th year.
Funeral on Saturday, Sept. 17, at 3 p.m., from above address. Interment at St. John's Cemetery, New York.

ROGERS—At Toronto, on Thursday, Sept. 15, 1910, Eliza Noble Selby, beloved wife of Elias Rogers, in her 62nd year.
Funeral private.

HOSPITAL ENQUIRY

Will Resume To-morrow—Fourteen Witnesses Summoned.

Fourteen subpoenas have been issued for witnesses to attend before Judge Winchester in the Isolation Hospital investigation at the city hall Saturday morning.

It is understood that hospital officials and the relatives of patients who have developed diseases inside the hospital walls on the list.

Northern Navigation Company.
Sailings from Sarnia, 3.20 p.m. every Monday, Wednesday and Saturday.
From Collingwood, 1.30 p.m., and Owen Sound 11.45 p.m., every Wednesday and Saturday.

Building, 10 Jordan St., Toronto 63
Harper, Customs Broker, McKinnon

DEFENDS HIS FAITH AND PRAISES EMPIRE

Continued From Page 1.

and mind and will. He might consult his authors, but if he misinterpreted them, they had nothing to say.

Three Vast Forces.
Our minds look on the three vast forces of mind, heart and will, a triple alliance that could not be broken, governed everything. They had met in their club, not so much for what they could do, but for what they could give. Their object was to promote the welfare, not of one part, but all parts of the living organism of the empire. They wanted to feel and to see that the flag of the empire was flying high, and in a crisp, clear, sunny atmosphere. This sentiment, ennobled in ringing tones, evoked loud applause.

Their empire was not only the greatest, but the most flourishing that the world had seen, he observed, and from whatever aspect, almost appealed to him by its vastness. But Phenicia, Carthage, Rome, were not to be forgotten, and the Mediterranean, which was but a lake around the empire of Rome. It was not in terms of wealth or commerce that they were to estimate the empire. They must not weigh it by what it possessed, but by what it was. A man was not to be valued for his bodily weight. He was only a ticket when he traveled, and a number in an hotel. A man is not what he has, or what he says, but what he is. (Applause.)

The empire would be what its individuals were, and the number of its upright and strenuous citizens would measure its worth. Their character dominated by lofty principles was the only thing that would stand the wear and tear of the fret and fume of our everyday working life.

They had nothing better to do than to build up their own individual characters.

It had been the ambition of his life to come and see the Dominion which had so shown its patriotism and loyalty and love for the mother that bore them.

Men of Character.
They all knew the character of Sir Wilfrid Laurier, of Sir Charles Fitzpatrick, of Sir Thomas Shaughnessy.

"I have many more—Robert Laird Borden, and last, but not least, Sir James Whitney," he proceeded as the applause graduated itself from Laurier to Shaughnessy.

Statesmen, men of honor, men of prudence, with nothing merely local, merely provincial in them, but with aspirations extending all around their world-wide empire, was his characterization of these gentlemen.

"You know there are dangers, and unless our sympathy goes forth expressing itself in service, service will never attain its highest in sacrifice," he advised.

"Any blooming idiot can be vicious, but it takes a hero to be good," was an explosive period that brought down the house. Then he quoted Joan Belling, "I guess once you get on this inclined plane everything is greased for the ascension."

Beware of Race Suicide.
"Beware of racial suicide," was the next point. Men might say what they would, and they would, but they would be accounted to hear a generation ago. They were told there was no such thing as sin. Men were told there was no more blame attaching to sin than for not reaching a high physical standard.

"When men and women pledged their word to their sacred and sublime, nay—sacramental duties. If they shook their fist in the face of the divine decree to multiply and replenish the earth, that was racial suicide, and that was 'constructive treason against the majesty of God.'"

"The grand thing in life, I tell you, ladies and gentlemen, is to let God have His way with you. Unconditional is the only way, asking for orders, and in earnest to carry them out. The doctrine of racial suicide is the doctrine for the empire."

The Object of Wealth.
He next spoke of riches. To-day no man was rich enough if another was richer still. The great object of riches should be, not to get, but to give. To give better to give their working people a living wage to-day than to sweat them now and build them palaces after death. A great danger to the empire was lack of religion, and that was a difference the old country presented to-day as compared with a generation ago.

He would not say there was not a great deal of religion in the empire, but was whether religion entered into life. If their characters were to be fair, sweet, strong and sublime, they must have the religion of the old, influenced and finished by religion.

He dare not tell them how few went to church in England. When they remembered that the birthrate had fallen from 38 to 24, they could understand that religion was falling. The religion that did not regard the sacrifice of Christ on the cross, not of much use. Only that that could men learn to fight their passions. Unless they had the strong arm of the Son of God to lean upon and His sweet heart to draw from, he did not think they were to do in a moment of trial and temptation.

"Getting" Religion.
"I can't get hold of it," was the complaint of a man he had spoken to about the Roman Catholic religion. "Never mind," was his reply, "let it get hold of you." What matter if the infant could not reach up to the mother, so long as the mother could reach down to the child.

"If I did not believe my religion to be the only true one I'd chuck it. In religion I'd have the best of notes to have to choose one, and it's an insult to me to suppose I would not choose the best. I have a very good taste in matters of religion gentlemen, was a quaint plea in popular tones which caused great laughter.

"I do not want to advocate one religion more than another, but I want you to live up to what you believe to be true. Take care when men tell you to live up to the moral law without telling you about a moral lawgiver. They are trying to do that in France to-day and the result is hell."

This statement approached a sensational climax and was greeted with laughter and applause.

Oldest and Greatest.
"Not only the oldest, but the greatest association on earth you will acknowledge, whether you like it or not, is the Catholic Church. She can't die. She won't die. She is youthful and vigorous. Let her do her work with her

Most everything you do is helped by it!

It is fine before eating! It gives appetite!
It is fine after eating! It helps digestion!
It is fine for teeth! It makes them clean!
It is fine for breath! It makes it sweet!

And it's the most soothing occupation known!

MADE IN TORONTO, CANADA
YOUR DEALER SHOULD SELL IT

Look for the Spear!

The Flavor Lasts!

Wm. Wrigley, Jr. & Co., Ltd., 7 Scot St., Toronto, Ontario

own. Patriotism is the finest bloom that rises from the tap root of religion; that is the essence of a strong appeal.

While Protestants from England came to Canada and showed their zeal and discipline and generosity, what they brought to their church, he advised, was a real and true religion, the religion of the world of God. We had a most delightful talk, and it was consoling to see their strong and simple Catholic piety. It would be well if those who talk of Catholicism as a "discredited system," as a "worn-out superstition," would go to this reserve and learn a lesson. I examined the baptismal register and found that the number of children did not oscillate between one and three, but between 15 and 25. They are children, true and loyal to the Catholic Church, and there are many tokens and relics of the times when the Jesuit Fathers, some of whom were massacred there, wooed them into the church.

Discussed Lemieux Act.
MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—The Lemieux Trades Dispute Act was the chief subject of discussion at this morning's session of the Canadian Federation of Labor, it being both commended and criticized.

Some of the delegates wanted the scope of the act extended so as to cover all classes of labor. Some delegates on the other hand, thought the act needed amendment in other ways, as it was, at present, cumbersome, and of very little benefit to the workmen.

SNEAK THIEVES ARE BUSY
Dr. Bruce Nicholls, a Loser—Rosedale Also Visited.

It cost Dr. Bruce Nicholls, 31 Admiral-avenue, over $50 to go to the theatre on Wednesday night. While absent his house was broken into and several articles removed.

Sneak thieves are busy in Rosedale, and an amateur burglar is operating on College-street, where he got away with about $30 worth of clothes.

It is said that two men are visiting houses pretending that they are sent there on orders from real estate firms for inspection, and that while ostensibly inspecting, they are either thieving or surveilling the ground.

Lumber Mill Burned.
MONTREAL, Sept. 15.—Hodgson's Lumber Mill and 400,000 feet of lumber were burned at Compton, on the Ottawa River, yesterday, causing a loss of $50,000, with only $20,000 insurance. The village of Compton was at one time in danger of being wiped out.

Trying to Stop Fight Pictures.
ST. JOHN, N.B., Sept. 15.—(Special.)—The moving picture license of R. J. Armstrong was cancelled to-night by Mayor Frink to prevent him showing the Jeffries-Johnson fight pictures, advertised for to-morrow night. Armstrong will show the pictures, unless the police interfere, for a test case.

The New Savoy Tea Rooms, 114 1-2 Yonge-street, over Blackford's. A special 25c lunch served in gentlemen's smoking room from 12 to 2.30 p.m. and from 5 to 8 p.m. Tea room open from 10 a.m. to 11 p.m.

Two Incidents.
"One thing one notices here is that the poor have more on them, and in them, and before them. One of the most delightful experiences I had in Montreal was to find three poor children from the slums of London. They had been waiting for a week trying to catch me. When they found me they flew to me, reminding me of my visits to the east end, of my preaching in the courts, and of my catechized instruction in the great church of Commercial-road. We all went for a delightful drive together.

"Another charming experience was at the reserve of the Chaudhewara Indians, where the chief, in war paint, surrounded by members of his tribe, received me into their tribe and gave me a name which means 'The carrier of the word of God.' We had a most delightful talk, and it was consoling to see their strong and simple Catholic piety. It would be well if those who talk of Catholicism as a 'discredited system,' as a 'worn-out superstition,' would go to this reserve and learn a lesson. I examined the baptismal register and found that the number of children did not oscillate between one and three, but between 15 and 25. They are children, true and loyal to the Catholic Church, and there are many tokens and relics of the times when the Jesuit Fathers, some of whom were massacred there, wooed them into the church."

Canada's Loyalty.
Sir William Grantham of London, speaking at the solicitation of his honor, declared that all his life he had been an imperialist and had held to the belief that England and the colonies would have to come to some form of union. Without that it would be impossible for England—little England—to hold out against the mammoth armies of Europe.

"As one of his majesty's judges," continued Sir William, "I have been precluded from taking any part in the political life of the day. It is because I have not liked the look of things at home, and it is because I have heard murmurs of treason in England, that the loyalty of the colonies was not as important to me as it is now. Here to know whether or not it was true that I should find loyalty burned in the hearts of our Canadian subjects."

"When I came out here I found the feeling of loyalty burned deeper into the hearts of Canadians than I had hoped or had reason to expect."

"When he went home he would say that Canada was entitled to different treatment, and," he said, "they will find in Canada that the fact, man-and-I might say the last woman—would shed his fast drop of blood on behalf of the empire."

Chamberlain's Imperialism.
"If there is one man who is more entitled to credit than any other for this grand imperial spirit throughout the empire, it is Joseph Chamberlain," asserted Sir William amid applause. Joseph Chamberlain showed how true he was to the country when he broke from his party on the home rule question and joined the Unionists, and was offered any post in the gift of the government, but refused to take any other portfolio than that of secretary of state for the colonies. Chamberlain had learned the lesson of bringing the colonies together and had foreseen the trouble in South Africa. He had endeavored to prevent the war.

"But when war was impossible, Joseph Chamberlain was the one who first accepted your services," declared Sir William, "and it is thru him that the colonial power of England has been developed."

The Empire's Foundation.
"So long as the empire is true and our sons are ready to come forward as they have done in the past, you can depend upon it that the Empire of Great Britain will last as long as the world lasts."

Bishop Taylor-Smith, chaplain-general, said he had come to Canada with great expectations, which had not been disappointed. He had met a warm-hearted, hospitable people. To the man under arms he emphasized the neces-

TRIBUTES TO FALLEN DEAD

Continued From Page 1.

by Indians with scarcely a white man's house from post to post. He did not think they died in vain. It was to restore law and order and the sovereign's control. As a result to-day, it was almost impossible to go over that country and even be beyond sight of a farm house or settler's homestead. There were cities and towns and villages springing up.

"These men died," he declared, "albeit they did not know it as we know it now, that the last Anglo-Saxon nation upon the face of the globe might be developed."

Underneath this is the following inscription: "For Queen and Country, in Memory of the Men of the Northwest Field Force, who fell in 1885."

Under the inscription are the names of the men who fell. At the bottom of the tablets are maple leaves in both corners, and the following inscription: "Erected by the Royal Grenadiers, 4th Highlanders and Queen's Own Rifles, Chapters of the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire."

When Archdeacon Lloyd returns to Saskatchewan, he will take with him a Union Jack, presented by Miss Chaplin, St. Catharines, to the Indian Children's Chapter of the Industrial Home at Battleford, which is maintained by the Northwest Territories, and overlooks a famous Indian battlefield.

HIGH PRAISE FOR Q. O. R.
(Canadian Associated Press Cable.)

LONDON, Sept. 15.—(Special.)—The telegraph, anticipating a great welcome for the Queen's Own in London, says: "Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance amongst those who have followed the really hard work of the Queen's Own in London, says: 'Every one, from the King downward, who has seen Sir Henry Pellatt's fine regiment, has admired his soldierly bearing. There is but one opinion as to his keenness, alertness and power of endurance