Strong Resolution on This Topic.

Only an Afternoon Session Yesterday — An Old Indian Christian Makes His Bow — Resolutions to the Fore—Regulation of Superannuation.

Yesterday was a day of quiet with the General Conference, by contrast with the Stirring scenes and Speeches of Monday afternoon. A visible reaction from the previous session had set in. The interest was diffused and general rather than particular. A good index of this was furnished by the galleries, where the crowded pews of the uay before now held only their usual quota of onlookers. As the morning session of opsterday, and disc the previous evening's session, were omitted, in order to give Groups C and B respectively an opportunity of holding their builtain meetings, without embarassing or missing sitendance at the General Conference, There was nothing in particular transacted by these committees as yet, beyond a preliminary survey of the field, though the Committees on Education, Superannuation and Conference Boundaries, it is understood, had important business up for discussion. Very little of this, however, hay yet been submitted to the Conference, and until it is so submitted there is little use of confecture.

The Conference, having had three days now of comparatively easy times, were in a good mood for business, when they came together at the usual hour yesterday afternoon.

The Conference, having had three days now of comparatively easy times, were in a good mood for business, when they came together at the usual hour yesterday aftersoon.

The Million Scheme.

In the corridors and lecture rooms of the church the million-dollar fund is still the absorbling topic of the hour. On the whole the impression created by yesterday's session is regarded as favorable to the project, though a number think the discussion might have been better arranged. That there are stirring times ahead for the Conference over this same proposition is manifested by the warmth that is immediately infused into a discussion by any reference, however covert, to the ultimate disposition of the fund. One such scene occurred yesterday. In the course of a report from the Memorial Committee it was proposed to grant the Montreal Conference permission to raise $50,000 from the connexion to help pay off the debt of St. James' Church, Montreal. Dr. Potts wanted the matter referred to the Twentleth Century Frand Committee, but the proposal; caused grant excitement, as dimly foreshadowing a policy of dealing with the fund when raised. A determined opposition to this disposition of it made itself felt on the instant. "You can't make a man in Winnipeg enhuse over a project which aims at paying the debt of a church in Montreal," declared Dr. Sparling. And so the affair was smoothed over for the time being being laid on the table. At the same time various delegates, in conversation is made and the table. Some thought a larger commit-tee would have maintained the interest better, and it is the general pointon that the speeches yesterday should have been less rambling and more from a business point of view.

Mr. Kettlewell gave notice of the following motion:

"Whereas the Methodist church should more fully meet her responsibility for religious and moral reform by making social ethics more distinctively a department of her church work;

"And, whereas the prohibition of the liquor traffic, the observance of the Christian Sabbath and the promotion of social purity are reforms that largely stand or fall together; therefore, be it resolved, that this General Conference appoint a standing committee on religious reform, with a secretary, who under the direction of a committee shall give the whole of his time to this work; and, be it further resolved, that said committee shall supersede the existing standing committee on temperance."

mittee.

"Why are there so many healthy superannuated ministers walking around Toronto?" it had been asked, and the reply was that it was not their fault. In becoming old they had ceased to be up-to-date, and towns and cities therefore would not have them. As they could not, at their age, go back to the hardships of distant charges or rural circuits, they came on the superannuation list perforce,

No Ritual in Service.

The first report of the Memorials Commit-tee was received. It threw cold water on the proposal to introduce a certain amount of ritual into the church service. It recommended public baptism. It was this committee also that raised the subject of the debt of St. James' Church. The first two items were carried without contro-

Anglo-Saxon Amity.

Dr. F. H. Wallace and his seconder, Dr. Henderson, both spoke eloquently to the following notice of motion:

"That this General Conference, representing nearly a million of loyal British subjects, desires to record its gratitude to Almighty God for the peace and prosperity of the vast Empire to which, in the providence of God, it is our happy lot to belong, for the ever-increasing tendency to substitute arbitration for war in the settlement of international difference, and the dawning hope of a movement in favor of disarmament and universal peace among the great powers of the world.

"That we hail with profound satisfaction the amicable relations and deepening sympathies which now exist between the British Empire and the United States; that we regard a close and cordial union of these two great branches of the Anglo-Saxon race as the best guarantee for the spread of liberty, righteousness and the gospel of our Lord Jesus Christ throughout the world, and that we invoke the divine blessing upon the effort now being made to settle all differences between Canada blessing upon the effort now being made to settle all differences between Canada and the United States on terms of mutual advantage, respect and good-will."
"Carried heartily and with prayer and hope," said Dr. Carman, when the Conference passed the motion without a dis-

GROCERY SECTION FURNISHING EXHIBIT . AT THE FAIR

For several days we've been emphasizing the dry goods end of the business, telling of newness and novelty in Dress Goods, Mantle and Millinery, but the special interest loesn't end there. Competent critics tell us we have the best restaurant in town and the est grocery department, with an exhibit at the Fair that easily discounts all the others. All we ask is your judgment on these things. Good is good, but better beats it, and if we're best in many ways you ought to know it.

The Waiting Room for visitors won't spoil your good impression of the store. There's no suggestion of discourtesy or indifference about anything we do, and the more you realize that fact the more you'll be satisfied to spend money here.
