SERIOUS-MINDED MILITARY MEN SAY WAR IS NOT NEARLY OVER

The Systematic Retreating of the Boers Simply Means Guerilla Fighting in the Future—Kruger's Personal Status—All Honors for Roberts.

London, June 2.—Popular opinion has proclaimed the advent of victory in South Africa. The nation has made up its mind that the war is over, that the prestige of British arms is restored, that President Kruger is vanquished, that priceless territory has been annexed, that humanity has not been staggered, and that, led by that little Sir Galahad "Bobs," Great Britain's army has fulfilled the most optimistic expectations. It is scarcely surprising in view of the bewildering rapidity of Lord Roberts' progress during the past week, that the troubles still ahead of the army in South Africa receive only a passing thought.

It Means Guerilla Fighting.

Nevertheless, among the few more serious-minded, who have intimate knowledge of the Boers and the plans of the War Office, there exist grave apprehensions of developments in the near future. In the systematic retreat of the Boers they see a possibility of long-drawn-out guerilla fighting, treks into Rhodesia, internal disorganization in the Transvaal, due to bandits, and a thousand and one lawless elements that evolve themselves from a heterogenous army after it ceases to become an organized body.

Carrington's Work Only Begun.

Some of the most acute authorities on South African matters say Major-Gen. Frederick Carrington's work in Rhodesia may only begin when Lord Roberts finishes. Such speculation, however, can only be left for time to prove, and this war so far has abounded in surprises which have completely upset the surmises of those best fitted to express opinions. Probably the most reasonable forecast of immediate developments in the Transvaal can be gained by reviewing the events in the Free State, or Orange River Colony. There, the country is formally annexed, and is subjected to a winnowing process by a long line of British troops, certain opposition still exists. The preponderance of numbers is bound to eventually reduce the inhabitants to subjection, and so it will be, probably, with the Transvaal, the ocupation of Pretoria and Johannesburg being followed by operations similar to those uninteresting movements now undertaken by Gens. Rundle and Brabant in the Orange River Colony.

Kruger's Personal Status.

The personal status of President Kruger since he left the capital is creating some discussion. A representative of the Associated Press learns that Lord Salisbury will consider him to be President of the South African Republic until Lord Roberts is ready to annex that territory. Hence, wherever President Kruger may be, even if he goes into Portuguese territory, and any communications which he might make to the British or other Governments, looking to a cessation of hostilities, would receive official recognition and be answered, tho it is safe to say Lord Salisbury would merely refer President Kruger to Lord Roberts. Some such message from Oom Paul is now expected at the Foreign Office. If the indicated line of procedure in answering it is carried out, it can result in nothing, unless President Kruger is willing to assist Lord Roberts in persuading the people to lay down their arms.

Kruger Must Get Out.

On one thing the British Government is determined, i.e., President Kruger cannot stay in the Transvaal. In the event of his capture, he must be transported, not necessarily in durance, but he must be got out of the territory which Lord Salisbury expects shortly to be part of the British Empire. Every effort will be made to capture President Kruger, but the Government officials are inclined to believe he will manage to get into Portuguese territory, where the British will be unable to touch him.

Poor Buller!

One of the most curious features of the closing chapters of the great war is the oblivion into which Gen. Buller has fallen. Gens. French, Hamilton and others are all more frequently talked of and cheered than the former commander-in-chief, who seems to have become a negligible quantity in the shadow of the Biggarsberg.

Honors for Roberts.

Words fail to describe the national gratefulness to Lord Roberts. Wellington never was to England what Roberts is to-day in the eyes of the general public. A dukedom and the Order of the Garter, at the Queen's disposal, thru the death of the Duke of Argyll, are the least rewards that could be bestowed on him. Already people are talking of the scenes which will mark his homecoming. Conscientious military critics occasionally try to bring on Lord Kitchener's name, but their efforts have small effect on the popular sentiments.

Roberts and Wireless Telegraphy.

One evidence of Lord Roberts' capability is the uses to which he put wireless telegraphy. While Buller, White and other generals failed to develop the plant sent out to them and looked askance at the innovation, relying solely on the old-time heliograph, Lord Roberts always has with him a body of wireless telegraphists by which he keeps in constant communication with the various units of his enormous army. Several messages have been sent over 60 miles. The reports of naval experiments with this device are also satisfactory. The British battleship Hannibal, while under way, clearly read the battleship Jupiter's messages at 32 miles distance. Other severe tests have resulted favorably to Marconi.

An Extraordinary Incident.

An extraordinary incident in connection with the battering of the coast defence ironclad Belle Isle by the battleship Majestic has just leaked out. It appears that the loaded bow torpedo of the Belle Isle was discharged by the effect of the shells of the Majestic, and only smart manoeuvring on the part of the modern warship saved her from being blown up by the self-released projectile of the old hulk.

Royal Residence in Ireland.

The fact of the Duke of Connaught having taken Lord Francis Clinton Hope's Castle Blayney, County Monaghan, for the season with the option for five years, seems to indicate the establishment of a royal residence in Ireland. But whether the Queen will occupy the residence which May Yohe (the American actress), otherwise Lady Hope, has just vacated in order to fulfil theatrical engagements in Australia, it is impossible to say. But Castle Blayney is one of the finest properties in Ireland, and it is understood that if the Duke and Duchess of Connaught are satisfied with it they will take it for a longer time.

Inverary Castle for Rent.

The Duke of Argyll announces that Inverary Castle, with its immense domain, is for rent.

Usual Children for a Bluff.

A most remarkable case came up this week when Mrs. Brinkworth sued the estate of the late William Beckett, a former member of Parliament, for compensation for herself and her alleged children. Mr. Beckett was head of one of the wealthiest private banking firms in England, and eminently respected in Parliament and in society. It now transpires that Mrs. Brinkworth lived as his mistress for many years, and the couple amused themselves by buying children which they passed off as their own, as Beckett wished to use the children to "bluff" his own family into consenting to the payment of large sums to his mistress. Mrs. Brinkworth was non-suited, and criminal proceedings may be commenced against her for trying to pass off the children as Beckett's.

The executor of the estate sued is Mr. Ernest Beckett, son of the man who lived such a double life. He is also a member of Parliament, and owns one of the finest houses in Piccadilly.

Pembroke, Ont., June 2.—The convention of the Conservatives of the North Riding of Renfrew was held in the Town Hall here at 1 o'clock to-day. Mr. Edward Dunlop, of the firm of Dunlop & Co., Pembroke, was the unanimous choice of the convention. Mr. J. P. Whitney addressed the gathering. Despite the bad weather, a large crowd of the supporters were present.

Little Foxes Rescued by Their Parents.

Cincinnati Enquirer: Some weeks ago a den of foxes was discovered on the bank of the Miami River near Redbank, by three boys, John Bain, Lewis Shumate and a boy named Lloyd. Young Lloyd took two of them to his father's place, near Redbank. They were fastened to a kennel with stout cords attached to collars. It is stated that persons in the vicinity frequently heard the old foxes bark at night, and on Saturday night last Farmer Lloyd, hearing a commotion in the barnyard, went out and saw the parent foxes scurry away. He then went to the kennel and found that the cords which had confined the young animals had been chewed in twain and the little ones were missing. It is the supposition that the parent animals released their young and carried them away in their mouths, as a cat does her kittens.

A neat and useful feature of the Massey-Harris and Cleveland bicycles seen on the boulevards and roads of Toronto, and, in fact, all over the country this season, is the gear case. This is doubtless due to this introduction on these very popular wheels by the Canada Cycle and Motor Co.

SIR CHARLES AT PICTON

The Veteran Leader and Mr. Henderson Addressed the Electors in the Opera House.

VERY LARGE CROWDS TURNED OUT.

Bouquet Presented by a Little Girl and an Address by Conservative Association.

Picton, Ont., June 2.—The visit of Sir Charles Tupper to Picton was characterized by a great deal of enthusiasm. The distinguished leader was accompanied by Mr. Harry Corby and a large party of friends, which included Mr. W. B. Northrup, ex-M.P., Mayor Johnson, N. B. Falkiner, W. C. Mickel and others of Belleville; Mr. Henderson, M.P., of Halton, besides a number from Trenton and Deseronto, who arrived on Mr. Corby's yacht, Skylark. The party were met on their arrival here by the Citizens' Band and several carriages, for the accommodation of the veteran statesman and his guests. A procession was formed, which paraded the principal streets, and finally landed at the Royal Hotel.

Meeting in Opera House.

At 2 o'clock the meeting at the Bijou Opera House was largely attended; indeed, the hall was far too small to accommodate the hundreds who sought admittance, and as large a number were turned away as gained access to the hall.

Mayor W. H. Williamson occupied the chair, and in a few remarks introduced Mr. Henderson, M.P., who at considerable length referred to the betrayal of principle as practised by Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Government, in the framing of the tariff, showing how great had been their professions before their accession to power, and how they had failed to carry out their pledges. His remarks were attentively listened to, and duly appreciated.

A Bouquet and a Kiss.

Little Miss Bernice Young, daughter of Mrs. E. M. Young, presented the chieftain with a beautiful bouquet of flowers. Sir Charles accepted the tribute, and kissed the little girl who presented it.

An address was also presented from the Conservative Association, couched in words of praise for the loyalty of the great leader and the work he is doing in the interests of the country, and of the Empire. Sir Charles delivered a most able address on the public affairs of Canada. The practices compared with the professions of the present Government were thoroly discussed, in no spirit of angry criticism, but in a fair, dispassionate manner. As point after point was made against the Government, the remarks of the great statesman elicited much applause.

Other incidents followed of a more or less local character, and the proceedings closed with the usual cheers.

MAIMED BY A JAGUAR.

Woman Animal Trainer at Newark, N.J., Badly Lacerated by the Beast.

New York, June 2.—Madame Louise Maurela, an animal trainer, had a terrible encounter to-day at Newark, N.J., with a jaguar and was badly injured before she was rescued. She entered a 50-foot circular cage to train a new jaguar and snapped her whip and stamped her foot to urge the animal to get up. The jaguar sprang at Madame Maurela and his forepaw was landed on her shoulders. She tried to shake the brute off, but he knocked her down. Her screams brought help. When the woman was finally rescued she was found to have been shockingly mutilated about the breast, shoulders, arms and back. She fainted while her injuries were being dressed. It is not believed that she was fatally injured.

L. G. McCARTHY, M.P., MARRIED.

The Bride Was Miss Muriel Campbell—Quiet Ceremony at St. James' Cathedral.

In St. James' Cathedral at noon Saturday Miss Muriel Campbell, daughter of Mr. A. H. Campbell of "Carbrook," Queen's Park, and Mr. Leighton Goldie McCarthy, M.P. for North Simcoe, were united in marriage.

The ceremony, which was very quiet, being witnessed only by immediate relatives of the families, was performed by Rev. Canon Welch.

The Cathedral was beautifully decorated with white flowers and palms. The service was in part choral, the choir being present. Dr. Ham presided at the organ. The bride was attended by her sister, Miss Frances Campbell, and the groom was assisted by Mr. John H. Moss.

The bride wore a simple tailor-made gown of white duck, with a vest of white chiffon and lace. Her hat was of white straw, covered with chiffon and chrysanthemums and she carried a large shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. The bridesmaid wore a white tailor-made gown and a white hat with yellow flowers. She carried a bouquet of pink roses.

Mr. and Mrs. McCarthy left on the steamer Toronto and will sojourn for a month in the Eastern Provinces.

The Third Girl's Answer.

They were discussing the subject of whether or not the skin of the girl with the Auburn Hair was more affected by tan and sunburn than that of her raven-haired sister, when the third girl appeared. On being asked to decide the question she answered concisely, "My dears, it would all depend upon which of you had used Campana's Italian Balm." 155

NO GROUND FOR THE STORY THAT LORD SALISBURY IS TO RETIRE

Sir Howard Vincent Says Such a Move Would Be a Calamity to the Universe—But the Premier Has Never Mentioned the Contingency.

London June 2.—When England is not talking of peace in South Africa and the manner of its accomplishment, the topic of the days is the dissolution of Parliament and the retirement of Lord Salisbury. Sir Howard Vincent writes to The Times, declaring that the Premier's withdrawal from the field of activity would be nothing less than a calamity for the universe. The Spectator surmises that Lord Salisbury will give up the Ministry of Foreign Affairs, contenting himself with being Premier only, and suggests that Mr. A. J. Balfour, the Government leader in the House of Commons, and First Lord of the Treasury, should be given his uncle's portfolio and be made a Peer, while Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, the Secretary of State for the Colonies, should succeed the Marquis of Lansdowne as Secretary of State for War and become Government leader in the House of Commons, these hypothetical changes to come after the dissolution, which The Spectator recommends should occur this year, and insists must be followed by a thoro reconstruction of the Cabinet. Other weeklies and dailies also refer to the possibility of Lord Salisbury's retirement.

Not the Slightest Ground for it.

Enquiries made by the Associated Press reveal the fact that there is not the slightest ground for believing Lord Salisbury contemplates retiring from the Ministry of Foreign Affairs or the leadership of the party. He has never mentioned such a contingency, and his spirits are good, even to the point of what, for him, is unusual jocularity, while his interest in home and foreign affairs is keener than ever.

Premier Will Stay in.

So, it is safe to say that if the Conservatives are successful at the forthcoming general election, Lord Salisbury will once more pilot the fortunes of the country and party.

The Outlook keenly diagnosed the Premier's recent remarkable speeches, whereby he has gained the reputation of thinking aloud, when it describes him as "looking with a half-amused, half-pitiful gaze on the hurly-burly." His utterances this week were saved from being a mere collection of platitudes by the frank declaration that "not a shred of independence" could be left to the Boer Republics. This was intended to be taken as an answer to any peace-seeking message that President Kruger might be contemplating.

Chamberlain Wants Early Appeal.

A decision anent the date of dissolution is still in the air. Mr. Chamberlain favors an early appeal to the country, but Lord Salisbury will not formally discuss the matter until Lord Roberts so shapes the military aspect of South Africa that there cannot be a shadow of doubt as to the completeness of the British victory. In the meantime, the rank and file of the Unionists are clamoring for an early appeal to the electors, while the Liberals wrathfully dispute the morality of an attempt to sweep the country on a "khaki platform," or, in other words, of making political capital out of military success. As the Government was severely attacked over its initial military failure, the logic of the Liberal protest is not quite apparent.

DUTCH REBELS IN CONGRESS TO CONDEMN BRITISH ACTION

They Claim That if the Republics Are Annexed the Peace of the Country Would Be Irretrievably Wrecked—Delegates Coming to Canada.

Graaf Reinet, Cape Colony, Thursday, May 31.—The People's Congress opened here to-day. Of those present many were Dutch clergymen, Commoners and bondites. Mr. De Villiers, brother of Chief Justice De Villiers, presided.

Mr. Pretorius a member of the Legislative Assembly, offered a resolution, declaring that, in the opinion of a majority of Cape Colonists, the chief immediate cause of the war was the unwarranted intolerable interference of the Ministry in London in the internal affairs of the South African Republics. A member, speaking in support of the resolution, said it would be impossible to hold out the hand of friendship after the war.

The chairman advised moderation in all the speeches.

The resolution was adopted unanimously.

Other resolutions presented affirmed that if the Republics were annexed the peace and prosperity of the country would be irretrievably wrecked, and that in order to insure lasting friendship and prosperity the settlement must include the restoration of unqualified freedom and independence to the Republics and the colonists be allowed a voice in the appointment of the Governor of Cape Colony, thus obviating the necessity for keeping a standing army, as the Republicans would be prepared to assist the colonists to resist any foreign inroads in South Africa, unity would be insured and loyalty to Great Britain cemented.

A delegation was appointed to visit Great Britain, Canada and Australia to explain the views of those represented at the Congress.

Mrs. Cronwright's Prediction.

Graafe Reinet, Cape Colony, Thursday, May 31.—Before the close of the People's Congress, Olive Schreiner (Mrs. Cronwright), sister of the Hon. W. P. Schreiner, the Premier of Cape Colony, made an impassioned speech, in which she predicted that the South African Republics would regain their independence.

LORD ROSEBERY'S MESSAGE

Comes Rather as a Disappointment to the Associated Press Correspondent.

THE CHINESE QUESTION PROMINENT.

Yet Lord Salisbury Does Not Think the Boxer Trouble is Serious.

London, June 2.—Lord Rosebery's latest utterances, contained in his message of congratulation to The Plymouth Mercury on the occasion of its 40th anniversary, as cabled to the Associated Press, June 1, comes rather as a disappointment, as it had been heralded as being a manifesto of his views and plans, instead of which he merely repeated the generalisms contained in his recent public speeches. These might either indicate a desire to assist the cause of Imperialism in the role of a private individual, or achieve the same end by the active leadership of a political faction. While the letter to The Mercury in no way exposes his hand or prevents him from consistently adopting either of these alternatives, there is reason to believe that Lord Rosebery is only biding his time. If the internal matters of the Liberal party resolve themselves as he expects, he hopes he will be found leading the Opposition when the Government goes to the country. But in this event, the anti-Imperialist section will have become either a nonentity or a separate organization. The latter is probable.

The Chinese Question.

The Chinese question is attracting much public interest here, yet the ravages of the Boxers and the landing of British and other armed parties have scarcely caused a flutter of excitement, for Lord Salisbury, the Associated Press learns, does not believe the latest outbreak will result in anything serious. That it will bring up acutely the question of the partition of China is a possibility at present considered too remote for any expression of opinion. The attitude of the British Foreign Office may be described as nothing less than phlegmatic. "Everything is left in the hands of Sir Claude MacDonald, our Minister," said one of the officials, "responsible for the conduct of these affairs." He is empowered to requisition the men and guns he needs from the China squadron. All the Ministers at Pekin seem to cooperate harmoniously. We know practicaly nothing of the local conditions existing there, and never heard of the Boxers till the other day. I am inclined to believe we shall not hear of them agin in the near future.

Newfoundland and Canada.

A colonial question, which has come up prominently during the last few days, is the reported desire of Newfoundland to be federated with Canada. All the British organs favor the project, but some of them express doubt if the French-Canadian Premier will be willing to shoulder the French shore controversies.

Amateur Charitable Performances.

Encouraged by the remarkable success of the amateur charitable performances of the past winter, London society women, wearied of other forms of excitement, propose to appear on a music hall stage, which will not only afford themselves entertainment, but will give the public a chance to view the fashionable gowns which are ordinarily restricted to Ascot or the Sunday Park parade. The idea had its inception with a Mayfair modiste anxious to display costumes of her making. She met with a hearty response from her fashionable customers. The manager of the Empire said:

"I expect that when the new play 'Seaside' is produced next week we shall have at least a dozen west end ladies on the stage. Of course they will not be expected to speak, but their presence will undoubtedly add greatly to the beauty of the scene, and while their names will not be announced we guarantee they will be bona fide social leaders."

BOER DELEGATES AT BUFFALO.

They Have Visited Niagara Falls, But Only Saw the Sights From the U.S. Side.

Buffalo, N.Y., June 2.—The three Boer delegates, Messrs. Wolmarans, Fischer and Wessels, visited Buffalo for a short time this evening, returning to Niagara Falls, whence they came and where they will probably remain over Sunday.

The delegates were met on arrival by a citizens' committee, of which former Representative Mahany was chairman, and escorted to the City Hall, where they were given a cordial welcome by Mayor Diehl. Delegate Fischer, responding to the mayor's invitation to speak, expressed himself in much the same form as upon other occasions since the arrival of the envoys, placing considerable emphasis on the assertion that peace was their mission, that the two republics had been driven to war, that they yet desired arbitration and would abide the decision of an impartial arbitrator.

Leaving the City Hall the party were driven to several points of interest and back to the station, where they took a train at 6.30 o'clock for Niagara Falls.

The delegates reached Niagara Falls this morning direct from Springfield, Mass. The day was spent in sight-seeing. All views, however, were taken from the American side, none of the three being willing to cross to the Canadian shore.

Cleveland will be the next city visited and then Chicago.

Miller's sentence is for a term of 10 years.

OTTAWA LABOR TROUBLES

Plasterers Will Strike if They Do Not Get More Wages After a Month's Notice.

STONE CUTTERS GOT THEIR DEMAND.

Cheques Will Be Given By the Ottawa Relief Committee for Lumber and Furnishings.

Ottawa, June 2.—The labor organizations of Ottawa are asserting themselves. Three unions are interested. One threatens to strike on July 1, one has already struck and one got its demands granted without striking. Altogether the laborers of Ottawa are asking for their rights in a way that cannot be pushed aside.

Plasterers Want More Money.

The Plasterers' Union is the latest to come out with a demand for a share of the prosperity of "the growing time," in the shape of an increase in wages. Plasterers now earn $2.25 per day, and they have decided to demand an increase of 25 cents, making their pay $2.50 per day. In the winter they notified the contractors they would strike on 12 hours' notice if an increase was refused on May 1. The demand was not pressed at the beginning of May because the building trade was at a standstill at the time on account of the conflagration. The plasterers do not now intend to strike on 12 hours' notice, but have decided to give the contractors a month's notice, that is till July 1. If the demand is not agreed to, the plasterers will strike.

Builders' Laborers.

The Builders' Laborers' Union decided Friday night to strike, because the contractors refused to grant them an increase to 20 cents an hour in pay. They now earn $1.50 per day, and they want to make $1.80. All necessary arrangements as to pickets, etc., have been made, and the strike is on. The local union has a membership of 170 and enough funds to hold out for weeks by themselves.

The Stone-Cutters.

The stone-cutters on some of the buildings which are being erected in the city, among them the men engaged on the extension of the Bank of Montreal, Wellington-street, Friday morning asked their bosses to give them a raise in wages and Saturday afternoon off. The men had been receiving 33 1-3c an hour, and worked nine hours per day six days a week. This made $18 for 54 hours' work. They asked for 36 cents per hour, and a holiday Saturday afternoon. This would not give them more than $18, but would mean that they should only work 50 hours per week. The contractors at first would not give in to the demand, and the men quit work. At noon, however, it was decided that the stone-cutters should have what they wanted, and the men returned to their employment.

Cheques to Be Given.

The Executive Committee of the Ottawa and Hull Fire Relief Fund notify claimants that instead of giving orders for lumber and house furnishings they will, on and after Monday next, issue cheques. Claimants will be notified by postcard when they can get their cheques, which will be issued only between the hours of 9 a.m. and 1 p.m. Claimants need not apply until they are notified by postcard.

RIOT AT A FUNERAL IN PARIS.

Workman Who Shouted for Loubert and the Republic Was Beaten by Nationalists.

Paris, June 2.—The funeral service at the Church of the Madeleine to-day of Maitre Falateuf, M. Deroulede's counsel before the High Court, was made the occasion of a noisy demonstration by a body of Nationalists. After the funeral service M. Coppee, who represented M. Deroulede, insisted on delivering a speech under the porch of the church. He denounced the High Court (Senate) amidst shouts of approval from 30 Nationalists, including Mm. Barillier, Gaston, Mery and a number of other leading municipal councillors. M. Coppee drove away in a cab, brandishing his hat in the air, his supporters crying "Vive Coppee," "Vive Deroulede." The crowd present looked on wonderingly and in dead silence, but a workman responded with cries of "Vive Loubet," "Vive La Republique," whereupon the partisans of the Nationalists rushed upon the manifestant, beating him over the head with sticks and fists. In an instant the man's face was covered with blood and he was with great difficulty rescued by the police. The Nationalist who struck the first blow was arrested. He is a brother-in-law of M. Marcel Habert, condemned with M. Deroulede to ten years' banishment.
