WHY?

Why does Lieut. Gov. Wood retain as one of his advisers a gentleman who is not a member of the legislature, and therefore not responsible to the people? Have we abandoned the principles of responsible government?

BE READY FOR IT.

A dissolution of the legislature is among the possibilities of the not distant future. Many people assert that the government will hold on to office as long as possible, but the fact that there is a minister of public works who is not a member of the legislature, and that even the present audacious outfit at Fredericton cannot permit this situation to continue much longer, makes it clear that there must soon be a by-election or a dissolution of the house. Where could a by-election be held with any more success than in Westmorland? Obviously in no constituency in this province. It is therefore quite within the bounds of possibility that a general election may be decided on by the government or forced by the Lieutenant Governor, as the best way out of the difficulty. It is therefore of the utmost importance that the splendid work of organization which has been begun by the opposition be carried on with increased vigor in every constituency. Special attention should be given to parish organization. There is to be a fight for better government, and whether it takes place next month or next year every preparation should be made without delay.

THE WAR NEWS.

Russian reports say that nearly half a million Austrians and Germans have been killed, wounded or taken prisoners on the eastern front alone within a month. The prisoners are said to number 285,000. Add to the Russian figures the losses on the western front and it is clear that the total losses suffered by the Central Powers in a month exceed half a million. Even the power of Germany cannot stand many such months of loss. It cannot be expected, however, that such victories at those of Russia during June and the first week in July will be continuous. There must be periods of slower progress and consolidation of territory won, and resistance to fierce counter attacks by the enemy.

The news from all fronts, however, continues favorable. The Russians are still advancing. The French and British have made some further slight gains and are heading back the German counter attacks. The Italians have compelled the Austrians to withdraw from more of their advanced positions. German and Austrian reports admit reverses on both eastern and western fronts.

The tremendous pressure on all fronts and the heavy losses sustained by the enemy make it impossible for them to concentrate for a successful drive at any point. They have lost the initiative. They no longer have the advantage in men or guns. The Kaiser is said to have commended his generals in the west to defeat the British at any cost, but the task is beyond them. If the Allies have a sufficient supply of shells they will steadily blast their way forward in the face of all opposition.

LLOYD-GEORGE AND GREY

The appointment of Mr. Lloyd-George as secretary for war will be hailed with satisfaction by the people generally. They have confidence in the man who has done so many things so remarkably well since the war began. Before the war the big business and financial interests were suspicious of his radical tendencies, but they were very soon ready to sit at his feet and learn lessons in national finance. When it became necessary to organize the industries of the country for the production of munitions, Mr. Lloyd-George was the man for the task, and he performed it with great success. In the settlement of the Irish question he also rendered notable service. His versatility is amazing and his energy boundless. Success goes with him. As secretary for war he will command the confidence of his colleagues and the people at large, and we may be sure that the high traditions of that office will not suffer at his hands. He is one of the great outstanding men of this crisis in Imperial history.

Sir Edward Grey, upon whom an earldom has been conferred, is another of the great men of the hour. His conduct of the negotiations with Germany and other powers prior to the outbreak of the war, the dignity and firmness with which he upheld the honor of the Empire, his keen penetration and unclouded judgment in every matter dealt with by the foreign office have marked him as a worthy successor of the greatest foreign ministers in British annals. The very opposite of Lloyd-George in temperament, he is not less effective in action, and when the history of the war is written the part played by these two colleagues of the great prime minister, Mr. Asquith, will be conspicuous for ability, energy, and unflinching devotion to the highest interests of the British Empire. Both have had their critics, but that is inevitable. Perhaps the highest tribute that could be paid to Sir Edward Grey is the bitter hatred with which he is regarded in Germany.

UP TO THE GOVERNOR

Lieut. Gov. Wood must be doing some hard thinking at the present time. He would not like his term of office as lieutenant-governor to be remembered as one in which the government of the day flouted the principles of responsible government. The struggle for responsible government made the fame of men whose names will live forever in the history of New Brunswick. There is now in office a government which throws those principles to the winds, and retains at the head of its chief spending department a man who is not a member of the legislature, who has been defeated in his own constituency, and who could not be elected in any constituency in the province. Lieut. Gov. Wood cannot be ignorant of the situation. Why does he hesitate? It is said, and we can readily believe it, that he is considerably perturbed over the situation. He cannot have failed to observe that there is a rising sense of indignation all over the province at the high-handed action of his advisers, and also that public sentiment is running more and more strongly against the Clarke government, and in favor of a complete change in the conduct of provincial affairs. His own county of Westmorland furnished so striking an example that the situation cannot be misunderstood by any thinking man. Lieut. Gov. Wood is not concerned in the success or failure of any party. He is concerned about the good name of the province, and the principles of responsible government. Ought he not therefore to insist that all of his advisers be men who are responsible to the people for their acts? Hon. P. G. Mahoney is responsible to no one. It is up to Lieut. Gov. Wood.

CHINA AND RELIGION.

We have got a long way from the New-point-of-the-old-time preacher who pictured the people of China as living in heathen darkness and depravity, and at death to be cast into deeper darkness if we failed to send them a missionary. We still send the missionary, but we are not so sympathetic about the depravity. Mr. Crocker told his hearers at the Y. M. C. A. yesterday that vice is not excited in the temples of China, and that the higher classes of the people are honorable citizens of education and refinement. That the adoption of real Christianity improves them does not admit of doubt, since it involves the principles of sacrifice and service for men in a world of men; but we can well believe they are most impressed by the practical religion which takes the form of brotherly sympathy, social service, the application of science to social and national needs, and campaigns against the white plague and for the conservation of resources. They are far less concerned about theological disputations than about the awakening of China to a new ambition for the uplift of the people and the strengthening of the republic; and they are first attracted to the work of Christian teachers by the appeal made to their intelligence as citizens seeking the way to improve conditions in the China of this world. When they get behind the work of the missionary workers to the motive by which these are actuated, they are at once ready to recognize the value of a religion which produces such results. It may be that if they knew how often the countries which send out the missionaries fail to profit by that which they offer to China they would be more skeptical; but perhaps in the centuries to come the Chinese themselves will give the rest of the world a demonstration of a nation really Christian. They will then be able to send missionaries to some countries which are now professedly Christian, but which need to be taught many lessons before the conduct of all the people will square with their profession. It is quite certain that the civilizations of the orient will to some extent react upon that of the western world, as indeed they are doing now.

Russia and Japan have signed a treaty to maintain peace in the far east. Behind the treaty is the desire and ability to carry it into effect.

There has been a revival of German submarine warfare. If it is renewed on a large scale, and as urged by one section of the German press, it will give President Wilson a new opportunity for note writing.

Pronunciation of Verdon

A St. John subscriber writing to a Montreal paper asks how the name of Verdon should be pronounced, as if spelled Verdon or like the word Burden with the accent on the first syllable. The answer given is: The correct French pronunciation is Val-dun, each syllable having equal value.

LIGHTER VEIN.

Johnson, a bachelor, had been to call on his sister, and was shown the new baby. The next day some friends asked him to describe the new arrival. The bachelor replied: "Um, very small features, clean shaven, red faced and a very hard drinker!"

The young bride was doing the family marketing for the first time. She stopped at the fish stall and looked over the array of sea food. "All perfectly fresh, me'am," said the dealer ingratiatingly. "O, dear," exclaimed the bride. "That's what everyone says. I wish I could find some stale fish. You see my husband has indigestion and the doctor won't even let him eat fresh bread. I'm sure fresh fish would be even worse for him."

Brown had come home very late one night after a convivial evening at a smoking concert, and had consumed more cigars and refreshment than was good for him. It was midnight when Brown reached home, but he did not know it. "Ah!" he muttered. "If the church clock would only strike I should know the time. It's too dark to see."

But hark! Just as he spoke the clock began to strike. Breathlessly Brown counted. "One, two, three, four, five, six, seven, eight, nine, ten, eleven, twelve."

But at that moment another clock began. "Thirteen," counted Brown, fourteen, fifteen, sixteen, seventeen, eighteen, nineteen, twenty, twenty-one, twenty-two, twenty-three, twenty-four, twenty-five, twenty-six, twenty-seven, twenty-eight,
