THE MODERN WAY TO FURNISH HOMES
In these days of Pullman sleepers, no one would think of using a prairie schooner to cross the country. With modern plumbing facilities, nobody takes clothes down to the river to do washing. The old way of doing things gives place to the new. It is the same way with furnishing a home. No one thinks of doing without furniture in the home. We make it possible to have not only the necessities, but what is modern and in good taste, at Amland Bros.' low prices.

Indignation Over Capt. Fryatt Case
London, July 28—News of the execution of Captain Fryatt of the British steamer Brussels, caused a painful impression at the British foreign office. Under the instructions of Viscount Grey, the foreign secretary, a note was dispatched immediately to the American embassy requesting that James W. Gerard, the American ambassador at Berlin, procure complete details of the affair.
The first intimation of the trial of Captain Fryatt was called to the attention of the foreign office by press reports on July 18 to the effect that he was to be tried as the result of finding on him a watch containing an inscription reciting his efforts to ram a German submarine. From inquiries made of the owners of the steamship Wrexham, which Captain Fryatt commanded when the alleged incident took place, the foreign office learned the captain had with him neither a watch nor a letter to the effect that he had attempted to ram a submarine with him when he was captured. Therefore officials here state the charge must have been based on press reports.
When the news that Captain Fryatt was to be tried was received the foreign office immediately sent a note to the American ambassador, Walter H. Page, requesting that American diplomatic representatives take all necessary steps to provide for his defense, calling attention to the fact that the Wrexham's act in steering towards the submarine and forcing her to dive was essentially defensive, and precisely the same if she had used the defensive arm which the United States and Great Britain hold to be an undoubted right.
No reply was received from Ambassador Gerard, but the foreign office is convinced he acted with his usual promptitude. Therefore, it is their theory that the trial and execution of Captain Fryatt was hurried even more than in the case of Miss Edith Cavell.
Besides the original inquiry, the foreign office sent two other notes on the subject to Ambassador Gerard.
Discussing the case with the Associated Press, Lord Newton, under secretary for foreign affairs, who, during the conversation, was summoned to Foreign Secretary Grey's office for a conference on the subject, said:
WORSE THAN CAVELL CASE.
"On the fact of the details of the report, as received by us, the execution of Captain Fryatt seems to be worse than the Cavell case. It is an extremely grave incident, the importance of which it would be difficult to exaggerate. It must be borne in mind that when the alleged ramming took place German submarines were attacking merchant ships without any warning whatsoever."
According to wireless messages from Germany, Captain Fryatt was executed "for a franc-tireur crime against armed German sea forces."
Officers of the admiralty were aroused to intense indignation when they learned of the affair. A naval officer said:
"The execution of Captain Fryatt is in violation of all law and all precedent at sea. It affects every merchant officer in the world, neutral as well as belligerent. There is no such thing known as a franc-tireur at sea. We have officers of German submarines, whom we have taken as prisoners of war, who rammed merchant ships without warning, and fired upon merchant ships without warning, but they are treated as prisoners of war. We also have naval officers who dropped bombs from Zeppelins on harmless and undefended towns and killed civilian inhabitants."
A "PIRATE DODGER."
In the cross channel service Captain Fryatt was known as a "pirate dodger" because on several occasions he had succeeded in eluding German submarines by skilful navigation.
When the capture of the Brussels was reported the Daily Chronicle said, in reference to Captain Fryatt:
"For a particularly brilliant exploit in March, 1915, he was presented with a gold watch, suitably inscribed, by the lords commissioner of the admiralty, together with their thanks on vellum."
"On another occasion, some twelve months before he surrendered the Brussels, according to the Chronicle, his vessel was chased for over an hour by a submarine while he was outward bound from Harwich to Rotterdam, but he succeeded in getting safely away. A few days later, when on the North Hinder Lightship, a torpedo was fired at his vessel, missing it by only a few feet."

THE ONE Rubber Heel that Combines All Advantages
All rubber heels have special talking points. Some are claimed to be exceptionally resilient. Others are featured for their lightness and ease. Some are said to have more than the ordinary wear qualities. Others are supposed to prevent slipping. But in the Cat's Paw we offer all these features combined—and each developed to the very highest degree possible. And in addition, we believe you will find that the Cat's Paw Rubber Heel has other advantages which you have never before seen in rubber heels.
CAT'S PAW RUBBER HEELS
Only the best quality of live rubber is used. But the Canvas Friction Plug gives it far better wearing qualities than the best rubber alone could give. And this Canvas Friction Plug prevents slipping on wet, icy or polished surfaces better than any other non-slip device.
Cat's Paw Rubber Heels at all first class dealers—50c attached. All sizes for both men and women. Inset on Cat's Paw—with the black cat on the heel and the Canvas Friction Plug in the heel.
