PATRICK MURPHY KILLED ON FARM AT BLOOMFIELD

Former Saint John Co. Man Victim of Kick by Horse

HAMPTON, Sept. 13.—Patrick Murphy, 62, single, formerly of Wood Lake, St. John County, is dead at Bloomfield as the result of being kicked by a horse at noon today. Murphy, who had been with Hugh Ryan of that place as a farm hand for the last two years, had come in from working about the farm with Mr. Ryan's brother. The brother had left him to put the horses in the stable before they went to their lunch and returning a few minutes later, about 12:30, found Murphy lying dead behind one of the horses. The mark of a kick was found behind his ear.

Dr. Leatherbarrow of Hampton was summoned but the man was beyond human aid. On his return to Hampton Dr. Leatherbarrow got in communication with the coroner, Dr. Wetmore, who decided that an inquest would be unnecessary.

The unfortunate man is survived by two sisters, Mrs. Hugh Cain of Upland, Kings County, and Mrs. Francis Reynolds of Lexington, Mass. One brother, Frank, last heard of in Portland, Oregon, also survives.

The funeral is tentatively arranged for Thursday morning, pending word from the sister in Massachusetts.

Don't Have To Sign For W. U. Telegrams

In an endeavor to give the public a faster service, the Saint John branch of the Western Union, starting yesterday morning, abolished the necessity of the receiver of a telegram, except in case of a death message, signing a receipt slip.

William J. O'Rourke, cashier of the Saint John office, said last night that the local branch had been selected by the company to carry out an experiment of this nature for the Maritime Province territory.

The paramount object in the experiment, Mr. O'Rourke said, was to save time and, consequently, give the public a better service. Although the time taken up by a messenger boy, waiting at the place of delivery to have the receipt slip signed, may be only a few seconds, it amounted to considerable in the long run where so many thousands of telegrams were delivered, Mr. O'Rourke continued.

He also said last night that the abolition of the necessity of signing a slip would do away with a lot of work which formerly had to be attended to by a staff of clerks in the office.
