

PACT SUCCESS STIRS POLITICS

Conservatives Say They Will Be Able to Go On With Disarmament.

Government to be Immensely Popular, Its Backers Declare.

British United Press. LONDON, Oct. 18.—Austen Chamberlain's success at Locarno has been greeted with the greatest enthusiasm in political circles here and the Conservatives believe that, whatever fate may befall Premier Baldwin over the coal issue, he will be able to point to the government's success in forming the first government that was able to achieve anything definite on the road to peace.

It is recognized, however, that there is going to be some opposition in the House of Commons when the ratification of the security pact comes up as well as in the country generally, owing to the fact that it finally puts the question on Britain's long maintained policy of splendid isolation.

There may also be some coldness displayed by the Dominions, and the government is quite prepared to meet the criticism that it has sacrificed the unity of the Empire for the sake of European peace. Baldwin and Chamberlain are confident, however, that they will be able to secure the endorsement of the Commons and ratification of the pact.

BEAVERBROOK IGNORED. So far as the press is concerned only Lord Beaverbrook has attacked the pact, but "Mercenary Max," as Beaverbrook is now generally called, owing to the letter he wrote last week to the Sunday Express, flouting his own critics by saying what a wonderful play "Mercenary Mary" is, has lost much of his influence lately, and the government is taking the line of ignoring him completely.

The government, however, is a little anxious regarding the decision of the Dominions, for if any Dominion explicitly damned the pact, opposition to it would undoubtedly be stimulated here, especially in the north. On the other hand, the government is going to make a vigorous effort to secure Dominion support, for then they will be able to reply to those who attack them on the score of having damaged Imperial unity, that the success of the pact is absolutely assured and that their criticism falls to the ground.

A. S. Emery Captures All-Comers Match

The M. D. No. 7 Permanent Force Rifle Association held its final shoot on the local ranges Saturday under very trying conditions, when some very fine scores were made in the all-comers match, which is for a beautiful medal donated by Edwin A. Ellis, and six dollars, this being won by A. S. Emery, of the City Rifle Club.

The Cadet match was also shot at 500 yards, which was won by Cadet F. C. DeVenne.

WON BANNER AGAIN

Mrs. C. O. Mutch and Mrs. T. H. McKinney, officials of the provincial W. C. T. U., who were attending the convention here last week, have returned home to Woodstock taking with them the banner won by their society for obtaining the most members during the last year. This banner was won by Woodstock the year previous and the ladies were very proud of the honor of taking it back for another 12 months.

It is a pretty banner with a blue scroll on a white satin ground, bearing the emblem of the W. C. T. U. and the motto, "For God and Home and Native Land." Touches of gold give it a very rich appearance.

THIS WEEK - CARROLL PLAYERS - A Real Treat

A PLAY THAT APPEALS TO EVERY MAN, WOMAN AND CHILD EVERYWHERE

"The GOOSE HANGS HIGH"

One of the Outstanding New York Successes of the Past and Current Seasons

The play has its locale in a small city in the middle west, and the story has to do with a pair of dotting parents who have sacrificed everything for their children's welfare. The two youngest members of the Ingals family are, undergraduates, irresponsible pleasure-seeking youngsters, devoid of any responsibility; and an elder son who is making his own way supposedly, but ever leaning on the older folks for emergency assistance. Then comes the crash in this happy household. When father gives up his political position, under pressure, and has no money and no prospects, his children emerge bravely from their day dreams of castles in Spain, to the world of reality. How they plan to come to the rescue and right the turmoil of their home, is delight told in the latter part of this delightful play, that with all its abundance of comedy, has its serious moments and above all a natural happy ending.

PROFICIENCY CUP WON BY ROTHESAY

Girl Guides' Field Day Here Was Concluded on Saturday Afternoon.

The second Rothersey Company of Girl Guides won the proficiency trophy on Saturday afternoon at the field day here. As announced on Saturday the St. Paul's company won the sports trophy in the morning.

The tests for the Guide Proficiency cup were held in the Army in the afternoon under the direction of Miss Dorothy Purdy, district commissioner, and Miss Irene Barber.

The judges were Mrs. E. A. Schofield, vice-president of the Girl Guide Association and L. L. Johnson, secretary of the Boy Scouts Association. The tests included company formation inspection, a march past, in which Miss Purdy took the salute, and a series of tests, including knot tying, signalling, and second class tests, and a cross and crane game.

The companies of longest standing were put through first class tests and the newer companies had tenderfoot tests instead.

The 2nd Rothersey company had won the Proficiency cup last year also. It is a handsome trophy presented by Mrs. Murray MacLaren, president of the Girl Guide Association of this district. St. Paul's company had second place in the proficiency cup competitions.

The Guides brought their lunches to the field meet and hot cocoa was served. At the close of the proficiency tests there was a brief period for refreshments then the Guides stood in horseshoe formation and the presentation of cups took place. The cups were presented to the winning companies by Mrs. E. A. Schofield. The Color Party of the 2nd Rothersey lowered the Guides flag and the field day was over for another year.
