WILL ENFORCE THE TIME LIMIT

Income and Property Returns for 1920 Must Be in on Time, Says Chairman of Assessors' Board.

Forms for the return of income and personal property statements by residents of the city are being prepared by the board of assessors at City Hall and will be sent out on January 2. The forms, which is practically the same as in previous years, must be filled in and returned to the board of assessors by February 10.

The chairman of the board of assessors said this morning that the same course will be followed this year with regard to individual returns, that is, the taxpayers will make returns in all cases except where return for all employees is made by the firm for which they work.

He also said that the time limit according to the act will be strictly adhered to this year and that delinquents will not be given the long extensions of time which ruled last year, but that the returns would be checked up in the month of March, and a return to the city authorities.

The Returned Men.
Mr. O'Brien said that he had no instructions with regard to returns by returned soldiers next year, but that the matter would likely be dealt with by the mayor. The 1919 taxes were eliminated in the cases of men who received their discharges in 1919 and a reduction was made on the amount on which men who returned the previous year were taxed. It is expected that further arrangement will be made next year.

OPENING OF NEW PROTESTANT ORPHANS' HOME BUILDING IN CARLETON
erment for war hospital purposes, is large, airy and sunlit from sunrise to sunset. It has a splendid new heating plant, a regular hotel kitchen with storm sashes, screens for summertime, splendid floor coverings and divided up to suit dormitories and divided up to suit dormitories and divided up to suit dormitories.

On the ground floor are the matron's reception room, a board room, public parlour, large front hall-way with staircase, consultation room, dining room, very large play-room—also to be used as a school-room—and the kitchen. Unusually large front porches are connected to a nursery or infants ward, which is in charge of Miss Powers, a St. John who received her education and experience in child work in larger cities.

Mrs. Land, the matron, a lady familiar to many as a former teacher in the St. John schools, has her apartments on this floor also. In the wing of this second floor most of the sleeping quarters are located, the rooms being furnished with white enameled dormitory beds warmly supplied with bedding and each room fresh from the hands of painters.

The building abounds in separate rooms, special playrooms, cloak rooms, storage of all kinds and a whole upper floor for expansion. Two of the third-floor rooms have been made ready for renovators as a hospital should any of the children contract the usual ailments of youth, this floor being separated from the second by a partition at the stairway. In fact the building is ideal for segregation in case of infectious illness.

Throughout the structure painters, electricians and carpenters have made a most inviting and cheerful home for the parentless little ones of the province, and to the complete satisfaction of the board's medical advisers. It is expected before the winter is past the present number of inmates will be more than trebled. There are forty-five in the original British street institution and, as stated before, twelve in the Carleton annex. Five of the new children in the West St. John orphanage are from Moncton, the institution being provincial under the scope of its charter.

Numerous gifts have been bestowed upon the new home, including the complete fitting up of the nursery, including the beds, bedding, coats, baby baskets, floor coverings, etc., by Mrs. James Sterling of King street east. This equipment is sufficient for twelve babies. Linoleum for the girls' dormitory from the Chapter, I. O. D. E., dining room furnishing from Hon. J. B. M. Buxton, carpet from Hon. J. B. M. Buxton, and several hundreds of dollars worth of furnishings from T. E. G. Armstrong and William S. Allison; outfit of crockery from Mrs. James Foley, East St. John; furnishings for girls' room from True Blue Lodge of Orangemen, Moncton; similar gifts from other lodges; donations of money for furnishings from the Newfoundland Society and Loyal Orange Lodge, No. 8, pictures, chairs and smaller items from numerous others. There is still room for more gifts of this nature.

The orphanage directorate received a most generous offer of assistance recently from a body of commercial travellers who are in town for the holiday season, who will make a quick whirl about town among those who have not yet been called upon in regard to their annual subscription to the institution. This short, sharp campaign to wind up the finances of the orphanage for the year, it is hoped, will greatly strengthen the hands of those who have the work in charge. The gentlemen who are to assist are: Robert S. Sime, Arthur Golding, Leon Keith, Fred C. McLean, William A. Wetmore, Joseph Frichard, J. Pope Barnes, Thos. J. Gunn, M. Henry Dunlop, Reginald Schofield, Wilfred Cookson, J. McMurray, Reid, Arthur Stilwell, Daniel McKinney, Fred Connell, Arthur Ward, Ralph M. Fowler, George D. Ellis, Walter R. Stewart and J. E. Fleetwood.

CASE OF STOWAWAY.
Peter Guernonprez, a young Frenchman who was charged with being a stowaway on board the Canadian Ranger, was dismissed from the court this morning by the magistrate. The immigration authorities have the matter in hand and are considering what is to be done but it is quite probable the lad will be allowed to remain in Canada.

MET OVERSEAS; WED IN HAMPTON

Soldier and V. A. D. Married This Afternoon and Will Make Home in West.

A wedding of interest to many friends was solemnized this afternoon at three o'clock in St. Mary's chapel, Hampton, when Miss Betty J. Adams, daughter of Captain and Mrs. James Adams, was united in marriage to Charles H. Mullin of Outlook, Saskatchewan, by Rev. Captain C. Gordon Lawrence, assisted by Rev. J. Roy Campbell, D. D. The bride party entered the church to the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march. The chapel was prettily decorated in green with cut flowers and with the Christmas decorations was especially attractive.

The bride, who was given away by her father, was becomingly attired in white satin with an overdress of embroidered net with veil and orange blossoms, and carried a shower bouquet. The bridesmaid, Miss Gladys Smith, looked charming in a gown of black and silver and carried a bouquet of roses. The ushers were Miss Margaret Adams, a sister of the bride, in a yellow tulle gown with black and white and silver hat and carried a bouquet of roses. The bridesmaid, Miss Gladys Smith, looked charming in a gown of black and silver and carried a bouquet of roses. The ushers were Miss Margaret Adams, a sister of the bride, in a yellow tulle gown with black and white and silver hat and carried a bouquet of roses.

After the ceremony, the bride party was entering the vestry Miss Treva L. Smith sang "O Promise Me," with G. Kenneth. On account of both the bride and groom having seen service overseas, the wedding took executive form and a guard of honor of members of the G. W. V. A., under the leadership of Captain Neil Morrison, formed an arch of swords outside the church, under which the party passed.

At the bride's home a reception was held and a dainty wedding luncheon served. Mr. and Mrs. Mullin left on the evening train, amid showers of confetti and many hearty congratulations and good wishes, for Peterborough, Ont. to visit the groom's parents, after which they will go to Outlook to make their home. Many beautiful presents were received, including china from the Hampton Court Chapter of the I. O. D. E., of which the bride was an active member.

The bride was one of the most popular young ladies in Hampton and had a distinguished record overseas. She was over in 1917 with a detachment of V. A. D.'s under command of Mrs. G. A. Kurling and served in the military hospital at Ripon, Yorkshire, until after the armistice.

The groom enlisted in 1914 with the Lord Strathcona Horse. He was afterwards attached to the 11th Battalion, with which he proceeded overseas. He was transferred to the 8th Western cavalry and served in France until the second battle of Ypres in 1915, when he was severely wounded and taken prisoner. He finally recovered sufficiently to attempt the crossing but was unsuccessful. Two weeks before the armistice, and after five attempts to escape, he reached Holland from there was sent to the military hospital, Ripon, England, where his bride was on duty and they were reunited. The romance which culminated in yesterday's happy event.

Captain Adams, the bride's father, returned after having seen service as a lieutenant-commander in the R. N. V. R. The out of town guests to attend the wedding were: Miss Mildred Hardman of Montreal, Miss Margaret Barnes and Terrell of Halifax, Miss Ann Parks, Miss Eileen Coughlin, Miss Helen McLeod Corbett, Miss Madeline Barnes and Adrian Richard of St. John; Roy W. Smith of Pictou, and Lloyd Taylor of Salisbury.

THIS MORNING'S SESSION OF BOYS' PARLIAMENT

At this morning's session of the Boys' Parliament, in St. David's church, with the prime minister, John B. Angerville, occupying his official seat, and the speaker, Hon. Claude Richardson, in the chair, several bills were read and routine business transacted. The parliament is conducted under the auspices of the maritime co-operative committee, represented offically by the Anglican, Baptist, Methodist, and Presbyterian churches, Sunday School Association and the Y. M. C. A., the latter organization being the active body.

This morning three bills were read for the first time, bill No. 2, concerning the type of provincial boys' conference; bill No. 3, concerning the boys' responsibility to his church and Sunday school; and bill No. 4, concerning the older boys' responsibility for trail rangers (ages twelve to fourteen) in their respective communities because the younger boys are hero worshippers and follow the example of the older boys. Bill No. 1, concerning local athletic meets and a maritime athletic championship meet was read for a second time. The boys took much interest and pleasure in performing their duties.

The boys went to the Y. M. C. A. for recreation and luncheon. There they were addressed by Rev. A. S. Bishop, on "The Tuxedo Boys in National Life."

BOARD OF HEALTH.

A special meeting of the Board of Health was held yesterday afternoon in their rooms, Princess street, at which the yearly estimates for the coming year were made. The estimates for 1920 show a slight increase. This afternoon there was a meeting of the board and the slaughter house commission in connection with the winding up of the commission prior to the taking over of this work by the board, January 1.

REMEMBERED BAND BOYS.

J. D. O'Connell of Cuba extended his Christmas bounty to the members of the juvenile City Cornet Band and sent to James Connolly a sum of money for them. A bag of candy was presented to each of the sixty boys last evening.
