

Three Days, Commencing Monday, May 19
Dr. Scholl's Foot Expert Will be in Attendance at

WATERBURY & RISING'S

King Street Store

If your feet trouble you, it will interest you to know that we have arranged at great expense to have Dr. Scholl's foot expert here to examine feet, give advice and demonstrate free of charge that there is a Dr. Scholl's appliance or remedy for every foot trouble.

Nine out of ten people have some foot trouble. What is yours?

A DUICE FREE

By accepting the free advice of a foot expert, you are not obliged in any way to buy. Come on Monday, no matter how simple or how serious your foot trouble may be—a mere corn or a pronounced flat foot—this is your chance. Take advantage of it.

Consultation Hours: 9 to 1 and 2.30 to 6.

Waterbury & Rising Limited
11 KING STREET, ST. JOHN, N. B.

COAL All Kinds - Hard and Soft
TELEPHONE 1913
CONSUMERS COAL CO., LTD.

PROMOTIONS IN THE R. G. DUN & CO. OFFICE

H. G. S. Adams Succeeds Mr. Jack as Manager; H. M. Stout Chief Clerk

T. H. Flett of Montreal, district manager for R. G. Dun & Co., who has been in town for several days, left for home last evening. He was here for the purpose of appointing a successor to the late James Jack, manager of the company's office here, and as a result H. G. S. Adams was appointed to the vacancy. The selection was quite natural as Mr. Adams has been with the firm many years and for a long time Mr. Jack's right-hand man. He knows the district thoroughly and has always been looked upon as fair and impartial in his dealings and courteous in manner. His friends wish him success in the responsible position in which he has now been placed.

As a result of these changes H. Marshall Stout, a very efficient member of the staff, becomes chief clerk.

TAKE HOOD'S NOW

You Need It This Spring as Never Before in Your Life.

You have overdrawn your reserve strength, worrying during the war. You may have done this unconsciously, but you have done it nevertheless. You must get that reserve strength back again. There is no better medicine for you than what has been so universally satisfactory as a spring medicine—Hood's Sarsaparilla. Get this medicine of your druggist today, and begin to take it at once. Hood's Sarsaparilla combines the best blood-purifying, stomach-toning, strength-giving substances, all of which are prescribed every day by prominent and successful physicians.

In cases where a laxative is needed, Hood's Sarsaparilla is very effectively supplemented by Hood's Pills, relieving biliousness, constipation, morning and sick headaches. Purely vegetable.

George J. Denniston.

The homecoming of Pte. Leslie Denniston today was a sad one owing to the fact that his father, George J. Denniston, passed away yesterday in the Home for Incurables. A son, Walter, returned last week. In addition to his two sons, Mr. Denniston is survived by one brother, Benjamin A. Denniston, and two sisters, Mrs. Robert A. Johnston and Mrs. Joseph P. Turner.

The Y. M. C. A. authorities are now arranging for the summer camps to be held as usual at Chipman. The dates are from June 28 to July 10 for the younger boys and from July 12 to July 22 for the seniors. A larger number than usual is expected.

For Constipation
Carter's Little Liver Pills will set you right over night.
Purely Vegetable
Small Pill, Small Dose, Small Price

Carter's Iron Pills
Will restore color to the faces of those who lack iron in the blood, as most pale-faced people do.

REXTON MURDERER NOT YET CAPTURED

Harold Childs and Louis Herbert, More Comfortable Last Night.

Rexton, May 16.—Although a posse hunted all day today for Robert Childs, the aged man who yesterday shot Mrs. John Childs, wife of his nephew, with fatal effect, wounded her son, Harold, and Louis Herbert, a neighbor, and burned John Childs's barn, the murderer had not been found up to a late hour tonight. Some have a theory that the fugitive committed suicide.

FREE TO ASTHMA SUFFERERS

A New Home Cure That Anyone Can Use Without Discomfort or Loss of Time.

We have a New Method that cures Asthma, and we want you to try it at our expense. No matter whether your case is of long standing or recent development, whether it is present as Hay Fever or chronic Asthma, you should send for a free trial of our method. No matter in what climate you live, no matter what your age or occupation, if you are troubled with asthma, our method should relieve you promptly. We especially want to send to those apparently hopeless cases where all forms of inhalers, douches, opium preparations, "cures," "patent cures," etc., have failed. We want to show everyone at our own expense, that this new method is designed to end all difficult breathing, all wheezing, and all those terrible paroxysms at once and for all time. This free offer is too important to neglect a single day. Write today and begin the method at once. Send no money. Simply mail coupon below. Do It Today.

FREE ASTHMA COUPON
FRONTIER ASTHMA CO., Room 606F Niagara and Hudson Sts., Buffalo, N. Y.
Send free trial of your method to:

REV. BROTHER RAHILLY HELD UP IN NEW YORK

Gork Clerical Finn Feiner Detained Upon Complaint of Canadian Officers.

New York, May 16.—The Rev. Brother Thomas A. Rahilly, of Cork, Ireland, was detained by the immigration authorities when he arrived here today on the Royal George from Liverpool. His detention is said to be the outcome of complaints made by Canadian officers on board the ship, of sentiments expressed by Brother Rahilly during the voyage regarding the British government.

Mrs. Myrtle Kennett, sixteen years old, who was married six months ago, and whose husband is a painter of smokestacks, works with him daily, and says she enjoys sitting on the swinging seat of a steeplejack, 200 feet in the air.

Enos J. Hayes, an Indiana farmer, brought two sides of bacon to Lawrencetown and sold them for $37. The bacon weighed 190 pounds and was off a large hog Mr. Hayes killed a few months ago, which weighed 900 pounds on foot and 785 pounds when dressed.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis N. Thayer of Brockton were born in May, were married in May and all their three children were born in May.

Road Construction And the Motor Truck

J. S. Cravens Says Next Great Industrial Development Concerns These Two

John S. Cravens, chairman of the highways transport committee of the Council of National Defense, in an address to delegates in attendance at the convention at Philadelphia of the National Association of Motor Truck Sales Managers, discussed the work of the committee and its relation to the motor industry.

In his address Mr. Cravens said in part: "I firmly believe that the development of road construction and the use of the motor truck is the next great national industrial development."

"It has been the council's policy not to undertake the study of engineering features of road construction, nor to enter too much into the detail of how the value of road construction and use is to be realized."

"The council also believes that the application of the use of the truck is something which should be properly left to the producers for it is, in a real analysis, their business problem."

"The Council of National Defense is not selling trucks—we try rather to sell ideas. But one of the purposes of the highways transport committee has been to educate the people as to the proper place of the motor vehicle as an agency of transport in order that it might seek and maintain the place to which its usefulness entitles it."

"The vehicle and the road must be demonstrated to be complements of each other and inseparable parts of a great agency of public service. Once the people thoroughly realize this, they will demand and have good roads when and where they will serve. We have felt that advocacy of road building as such would not have so good a reaction as education as to what the roads can really do for the people."

"It is a fact, however, that the people are beginning to understand what roads mean—not as a means of enjoyment nor as a convenience, but as a great factor in the economic growth of the country. They realize that poor roads mean restriction of the social as well as the commercial opportunities of life, and that good roads mean quicker transportation, cheaper transportation, a saving of labor, and the consequent opening of new channels of commerce, broader and nearer markets, and that they are the avenues for a wider and better social life."

"It is being realized moreover that to no class does road improvements mean so much as it does to the farmer. Let the people once understand that, and we need have no fear concerning road construction."

"No less important than road construction is provision for road maintenance. To build roads without adequate provision for maintenance is an economic waste."

"How is this to be brought about? Without particularizing too far, it may be taken as a fair working basis that in the future the maintenance charge should be imposed upon the traffic and the capital expense involved in the construction of the road should be extinguished by taxation. If at the end of the retirement period our roads were still good, we would have gained that much, and if they were not, we would at least have free credit with which we might build again."

"There is another feature of our work that is of interest to you, and one that is concerned with the future of the motor truck. It is the declared policy of the United States railroad administration to give priority to the motor truck, for the demand for transportation is constantly growing. Some of the railroad authorities openly advocate the establishment of a clearing house in which may be coordinated the efforts of different bodies all working to the same purpose, and to act as a clearing house in which may be coordinated the knowledge of the activities of various state highway departments which may again be disseminated in one of the departments of the federal government."

"We have also endeavored to codify all we learn on this great subject, to coordinate the efforts of different bodies all working to the same purpose, and to act as a clearing house in which may be coordinated the knowledge of the activities of various state highway departments which may again be disseminated in one of the departments of the federal government."

"I am happy to state that under the authority of the state committee in order to be continued and is now composed of representatives of those federal departments most closely connected with road use and road construction—the post office, the department of agriculture and the department of commerce. J. I. Blaklee, fourth assistant postmaster-general; J. M. Goodell, consulting engineer of the bureau of roads; J. H. Collins of the bureau of markets; Dr. Roy S. MacElwain, assistant director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce; G. B. Clarkson, director of the council of national defense and myself as chairman constitute the committee."

"This composition is a warrant that the committee has the co-operation and support of the government departments named, and I think as constituted, it is singularly well chosen for the work of the post-war period and I believe its labors will be broader and more useful even than heretofore."

THE IMPROVEMENT LEAGUES

The East End Improvement League is now waiting for the grade to do its work. Some more ashes will be needed after that to fill low places in the playground and thirty loads could have been got yesterday had the place been ready. The executive of the league must get busy.

The executive of the South End Improvement League met last evening and decided to hold its annual meeting in King Edward school the last week in the month. A committee was appointed to wait on Commissioner Fisher and urge that the south end dump be closed and all material sent to the playground to make the large fill necessary. Otherwise the work cannot be completed in time. A committee was appointed to choose colors, and plans were made for the season's activities, which it is hoped will include tennis, basketball, quins, running and jumping, and some swings for the children.

At the Red Triangle rooms in Charlotte street last evening a play entitled "The Spinster's Return" was put on by the Jewel Rebekah Lodge, No. 6, under the convenerhip of Mrs. A. H. Smith. There were about twenty-five members in the cast, all nicely costumed. About 150 soldiers were present and they greatly appreciated the kindness of their entertainers.

The travelers who were to start out this morning selling thrift stamps have deferred their canvass because the stores were closed owing to the celebration and also because they desired to give Major James Fringle, a former "knight of the grip," a royal welcome home.

ALL THE COMFORTS OF HOME
Are Not Complete Without
IZZARD'S HOME-MADE BREAD
If you have not tried it yet, why not get a loaf and satisfy yourself that it is the best Bread that you have ever eaten.
Sold By All the Best Grocers
Phone M. 1930-11

Stores Open 8.30 a.m., Close 6 p.m.; Saturday 10 p.m., Daylight Saving Time

The June Wedding

Has An Appeal All Its Own

Recent arrivals in our various departments include stunning models for the New Summer Season, especially suitable for the Bridal Trousseau.

COATS AND DOLMANS
Portray stylish models in many materials, allowing opportunity for individual choice. The coats are in Velour, covert and serviceable Tweeds, while Capes and Dolmans are showing mostly in smart Navy Serges.

TRAVELLING AND SPORT SUITS
Serges, Silks, Tweeds and Jerseys are showing, featuring all latest style points. A choice of spring's favorite colors to select from.

AFTERNOON AND DINNER FROCKS
The favored materials are Georgettes, Taffetas, Foulards and tasteful combinations. Novelty colors, such as orchid, peace blue, flesh, yellow and printed patterns, in several harmonizing shades are showing. Darker colors are here also in varieties to claim your attention.

SOFT SILK UNDERSKIRTS
In all silk or with Jersey top. These are in plain colors, or fancy plaids and figures, and are in proper widths for the Summer Costume.

ALL OTHER DRESS ACCESSORIES
Selected With Special Care, Showing in Good Assortment.

WEDDING GOWNS

are here in several attractive styles. Crepe-de-Chene and Georgette models, fashioned with graceful flaring sleeves, long tunics, newest neck styles, soft girdles and various trimming effects strongly featuring tucks and rich beaded designs.

BRIDAL VEILS
Designed in Material and Style to Suit Your Personal Taste, Made to Order

HATS FOR THE BRIDE
Shirtwaist Hats, or more elaborate conceptions. A big variety with newest shaped crowns and brims and effective touches of trimming. Motor Bonnets in practical and jaunty modes are also awaiting selection.

TRUNKS AND HAND BAGGAGE
In Reliable Makes
Travelling Bags are in black tan and brown
Leather $14.00 to $45.00
Ladies' Suit Cases $15.00 to $46.00
Trunks $5.00 to $26.00
Wardrobe Trunks $30.00 to $65.00

DRESS AND SPORT SKIRTS
In these you will find Wool Plaid and Striped Skirts in striking styles.

Silk Models in "Fantasy" and other novel materials.

Tub Skirts trimmed with buttons belts and pockets.

Beautiful Blouses of Voils, Wash Silk and Georgette, handsomely embroidered or in tailored or semi-tailored styles. Collarless necks, Apronettes, flaring sleeves and high necks are all represented.

FINE LINGERIE OF ALL KINDS

Underwear in choicest selections of Wash Satin, Crepe-de-Chene, Philippine and fine Nainsooks, beautifully designed and tastefully trimmed.

Puffman Sets, consisting of cap, bag and kimono, in natural Pongee.
Dainty Caps and Negligee

TOILET ARTICLES
Including Face Powder, Sachets, Etc.

SILK HOSIERY
In Plain Colors or With Fancy Closures and Stripes.

SUMMER GLOVES
of Silk or Kid in Black, White and Favored Colors.

Manchester Robertson Allison Limited
KING STREET GERMAIN STREET MARKET SQUARE

of country truck lines, especially those running at right angles to the main rail routes, and I believe this entente could be fostered to the mutual benefit of both parties.

"Some have even invoked the aid of ourselves and our state committees in a study of short haul problem, in order that relations of both rail and truck thereby might be better understood, and the economic field of usefulness of each be better determined."

"We have also endeavored to codify all we learn on this great subject, to coordinate the efforts of different bodies all working to the same purpose, and to act as a clearing house in which may be coordinated the knowledge of the activities of various state highway departments which may again be disseminated in one of the departments of the federal government."

"I am happy to state that under the authority of the state committee in order to be continued and is now composed of representatives of those federal departments most closely connected with road use and road construction—the post office, the department of agriculture and the department of commerce. J. I. Blaklee, fourth assistant postmaster-general; J. M. Goodell, consulting engineer of the bureau of roads; J. H. Collins of the bureau of markets; Dr. Roy S. MacElwain, assistant director of the bureau of foreign and domestic commerce; G. B. Clarkson, director of the council of national defense and myself as chairman constitute the committee."

"This composition is a warrant that the committee has the co-operation and support of the government departments named, and I think as constituted, it is singularly well chosen for the work of the post-war period and I believe its labors will be broader and more useful even than heretofore."

THE IMPROVEMENT LEAGUES

The East End Improvement League is now waiting for the grade to do its work. Some more ashes will be needed after that to fill low places in the playground and thirty loads could have been got yesterday had the place been ready. The executive of the league must get busy.

The executive of the South End Improvement League met last evening and decided to hold its annual meeting in King Edward school the last week in the month. A committee was appointed to wait on Commissioner Fisher and urge that the south end dump be closed and all material sent to the playground to make the large fill necessary. Otherwise the work cannot be completed in time. A committee was appointed to choose colors, and plans were made for the season's activities, which it is hoped will include tennis, basketball, quins, running and jumping, and some swings for the children.

At the Red Triangle rooms in Charlotte street last evening a play entitled "The Spinster's Return" was put on by the Jewel Rebekah Lodge, No. 6, under the convenerhip of Mrs. A. H. Smith. There were about twenty-five members in the cast, all nicely costumed. About 150 soldiers were present and they greatly appreciated the kindness of their entertainers.

The travelers who were to start out this morning selling thrift stamps have deferred their canvass because the stores were closed owing to the celebration and also because they desired to give Major James Fringle, a former "knight of the grip," a royal welcome home.

THE CEDARS OF LEBANON

The cedars are not less remarkable for their position than for their age and size. The amphitheatre in which they are situated is of itself a great temple of nature, the most vast and magnificent of all the recesses of Lebanon. The lofty dorsal ridge of the mountain, as it approaches from the south trends slightly toward the east for a time, and then, after resuming its former direction, throws off a spur of equal altitude toward the west, which sinks down gradually into the ridge terminating at Ebned. This ridge sweeps round so as to become nearly parallel with the main ridge, thus forming an immense recess or amphitheatre, approaching to the horseshoe form, surrounded by the loftiest ridges of Lebanon, which rise still two or three thousand feet above it.

In the midst of this amphitheatre stand the cedars, utterly alone, with not a tree besides, now hardly a green thing in sight. High up in the recess, the deep, precipitous chasm of the Kadisha has its beginning—the wildest and grandest of all the gorges of Lebanon. Besides the natural grace and beauty of the cedar of Lebanon, which still appear in the trees of middle age, though but in the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of those forests of Lebanon so celebrated in the Hebrew Scriptures. To the sacred writers, the cedar was the noblest of trees, the monarch of the vegetable kingdom. In the more ancient patriarchs, there is associated with this grove a feeling of veneration as the representatives of