Moncton, March 3.-A Jewish travelling picture agent, who gives the name of H. R. Margolsky, is under arrest here, charged with abducting a young girl named Lizzie Somers, it is supposed for immoral purposes. Lizzie, who is only fourteen years of age, came here some months ago from Summerside, and has been employed as nurse at the Brunswick hotel. Margolsky had been acting in a suspiolous manner, and when yesterday it was discovered that the girl was missing, suspicions were aroused. It appears that the girl had left the house the previous night, going to the Queen hotel with another girl named Gaudet, but she escaped and was last seen on the street with Margolsky. The latter, when arrested, admitted that he had taken' the girl out as far as Humphrey's mill, and that it was his intention to take her to Amherst, where he was going on business. Margolsky will come before the magistrate Monday.

BIG TORONTO FIRE.

WEEKLY SUN, ST. JOHN, N. B., MARCH 6, 1895.

The Queen City Again Suffers a Big Loss on Sunday Morning.

Property to the Value of Over One

Million Dollars Laid in Ashes. Several Large Establishments Burned Out and Knox Church Damaged.

Toronto, March 3.-The Queen City has again had an awful visitation from fire. Shortly before one o'clock this morning a terrific fire started, time on the corner of Yonge and Queen streets, the central feature of the fire being the splendid dry goods store only finished last fall and own occupied by Robt. Simpson ed and While this was not burned to the ground the building and stock were a total loss. Several buildings in the vic inity were also burned.

Although the loss tonight is estimat ed at over one million and a half it is thought one million will be nearer the loss. The insurance will reach about two-thirds of this amount.

The origin of the third calamity that has fallen so recently on Toronto is as yet a mystery, but there is good reason to believe it is the work of an incendiary. Simpson's store was a six story building, standing at the south west corner of Yonge and Queer streets, and although completely fin Queen ished outside a portion of the carpenter work was hardly finished. Four of the floors were stocked and two empty. The building was worth $125, 000 and the stock valued at $250,000. The fire started in the rear of Simpson's and the flames spread with great rapidity.

A general alarm was sounded at 12.35 and the full force of the fire brigade was soon on the scene. By one o'clock the flames had spread to each of the four corners and the fire threatened to engulf several blocks.

The steam fire engine was in action and gave valuable aid, and the water pressure was good, but the firemen could not pretend to cope with the flames at the top of the high Simpson building. Wall after wall fell and my riads of sparks were scattered over the eastern portion of the city. The clothing store of P. Jamison at the northwest corner of Queen and Yonge was a total ruin, as well as all

The Queen street front of Sutcliffe & Sons was gutted. Next came the Queen street front of Eaton & Co.'s establishment, which did not suffer much.

Across Yonge street, however, the fire did great damage. The Henderson block, occupied by J. Bonner, gents furnishings, and Miss Brislay, millinery, both being burned out. The C. F. Adams Co. came next. The Knox church was fully insured, as the loss will not exceed $15,000. Gourley, Winter & Learning, planos, loss, water and fire, $5,000; insured; Tremont house, loss $18,000; insured for $10,000; Dunfield & Co., $5,000; insured; Henderson & Co., $5,000; in-sured; Milne & Co., $40,000; insurance, $20,000 J. F. Browne, $25,000; insurance, $15,- 000; Miss M. E. Brislay's stock, loss, $7,000; insurance, $2,000; J. Bonner, $8,-000 of stock; insurance, $4,000; Pythian hall loss, $1,000.

The fire spread to St. Michael's hospital and the Metropolitan church, but only for a moment, being, for-tunately, quickly extinguished, but scene of the fire was visited today by perhaps half of Toronto's popula tion, and no doubt will result in the complete reorganization of the fire service.

NEWFOUNDLAND.

Sir William Whiteway's Letter in the London Times.

He Says the Crisis Would Have Been Av rted With the Signing of the Bend-Biaine Treaty

London, March 4 .- Sir Wm. Whiteway, prime minister of Newfoundland, has cabled a letter to the Times complaining of the misrepresentations in regard to Newfoundland's financial condition made in the English press. He declares that the decline in reven ues in January and February were attributable to causes other than the financial crisis, such as reduced purchasing power owing to the limitation of the market for exports. This, he says, would have been averted had the imperial government ratified the Bond-Blaine convention, which he considered it was morally bound to do, since it had authorized further negotiations. The absence of the United States markets for Newfoundland's exports and the complications arising from the imperial recogniton of the French fishery claims contributed to the crisis.

Continuing, Sir William said the spirit of the Newfoundland people is apparently very little understood. I be-lieve they would starve rather than surrender their independence. After referring to the fact that the government has not yet responded to Newfoundland's request that it guarantee the interest of its debt in order to tide the colony over its difficulties, Sir William concludes by stating that if the colonists must still trust to their inherent pluck and the resources of the country they must only passively submit, although they may more bitterly feel their heartless treatment by the imperial government. The Daily News, commenting on the letter of Sir William Whiteway, which is published in papers other than the Times, said he would have been better advised had he not entered upon the thorny question of the French claims. Most significant is his declaration against making Newfourndland a crown colony. It was believed that the colonies themselves favored this arrangement, but as they have given Sir William Whiteway full power to save them in his own way we must regard the solution as no longer feas-ible. Unfortunately continued independence seems closely associated in his mind with continued impracticable agitation against the French claims. LOVE'S YOUNG DREAM.

Boston, March 2.—Americans will soon be able to congratulate themselves that they have heard the last of the present congress-a Igislative body that will go down in his-tory as the most incompetent aggregation of the people's representatives that ever con-vened at Washington. Now that the last sestory as the most incompetent aggregation of the people's representatives that ever con-vened at Washington. Now that the last ses-sion of the present house is about ended it is possible that business throughout the coun-try will show signs of solid improvement. The majority of the retiring members will not have seats in the next house, they hav-ing been summarily dealt with by their con-situents last fall, so that it is hardly pos-sible for a repetition of such events that have occurred during the last two years to make the country a laughing stock for the rest of the world. The house has been for two years overwhelmingly democratic, and when the congressmen were elected they went to Washington to reform the tariff, ad-just the currency, remedy the extravagant appropriations of the previous congress, and in fact please all sections of the country. It is a matter of world wide renown how they tinkered the tariff and disagreed with the president on financial questions and beaul-fully succeeded in pleasing nobody. The senate was no better, and was at variance with the parts tribunal to pay $425,000 to Can-adians for damages incurred by the illegal seizure of Canadian schooners in Behring sea was another monumental example of col-ossal blundering on the part of the erratic house, and once again it served to show the rest of the world that the government was for from being a unit. The beamship companies of eastern ports, including New York and Boston, are up in arms against the Grand Trunk railway, which they claim, by its payment of a com-mission of $6 a piece on all prepaid par-sengers routed by way of Montreal, is di-verting immigration from American to Can-adian ports. The other roads only allow $1.30, hence the railroads out of New York as well as the steamship companies are losing travel. The Canadian Pacific railroad is also after the Grand Trunk on this ques-tion, and a lively time is promised within the next few weeks. A meeting was held Friday to discuss the matter. The steamship companies want the western trunk lines to Friday to discuss the matter. The steamship companies want the western trunk lines to boycott the Grand Trunk, and if they refuse to do this it is possible they will route all their passengers over some one or two par-ticular roads, leaving all the others to shift

IN AND AROUND MARKHAMVILLE.

IN AND AROUND MARKHAMVILLE. Markhamville is a hive of industry. The portable mill owned by Smith & Hayward, employed by John H. Lynch of new line road, Sussex, is doing a lively business. The mill cut the three first days of last week seventy thousand feet of lumber. There are about forty horses employed hauling logs to the mill and deals from the mill to Sussex, with a large staff of men to keep the busi-ness running. Teams are hauling logs into the mill in fine style and very fine logs at that. King McFarland hauled a fine spruce tree to the mill last week, the butt of the log measuring twenty-four inches. Samuel Lincoln hauled one measuring twenty-six inches and cut seventy-five feet in length, making 1,680 superficial feet. The mill crew appears to be expert men. They cut the logs rery carefully and make handsome deals. The principal part of the logs hauled to the mill is done by contract. The deals are also hauled by contract. Some teams are hired by the month and some by the plece. They had cut last week fire hundred thousand. I perceived the team that hauls by contract shows hard work, but I see the monthly teams shine like a bottle and no wet hairs on their hides. What the cause is I cannot tell.
