L. E. STODDARD DRIVING THE BALL BACK TO D. MILBURN, FOXHALL KEENE RIDING TO HEAD MILBURN OFF

FREDERICTON AND BANGOR WERE THE WINNERS SATURDAY

Two thousand people witnessed a good game of ball on the Marathon grounds Saturday afternoon, when Fredericton defeated the Greeks by a score of 5 to 4. With the exception of a strong wind that was blowing over the diamond the weather was about all that could be desired for a game and, with the exception of a few errors, the two teams put up the real article of ball.

Joe Page was the umpire-in-chief and Hanley umpired the bases. There was only one real kick during the game, and this was during Fredericton's half of the eighth inning. Fryer, Duggan's single to deep centre, was claimed by Third Baseman O'Brien that Fryer did not touch the third base as he was digging for home and many others state the same. O'Brien got the ball and an appeal was made to Umpire Page to declare Fryer out for not touching the base, but Page said that he did not see it as he was looking after the play at the plate and it was up to Hanley the field umpire, to decide, as he was the proper person who should have seen if Fryer had touched the base. Hanley would take no responsibility as he claimed it was up to Page to look after third base, so there was nothing else to do, so both umpires did not know whether Fryer touched the base or not to call him safe at home and allow the score. It was learned, however, that Page was not to blame in the matter, as it was decided before the game that Page would look after the balls and strikes and the plate and that Hanley was to umpire all the bases and field, so it appears to have been up to Umpire Hanley to have been keeping a sharp watch on the bases.

The game opened with the first three Fredericton men to bat being retired in order.

After O'Brien for the Marathons had hit out to pitcher, Pinkerton came to bat and it being his first appearance of the season, he was given a grand ovation. Pinkerton hit safe to centre field, Black reached first on Collihan's error at second, Hughes struck out. Wait hit safely to right and Pinkerton scored. Blen hit out to the pitcher and the side retired.

The first three Fredericton men to bat in the second inning were retired. An error of Marquette allowed Waterhouse to reach first. Riley drew a base on balls. Shankey sacrificed.

O'Brien hit safely to left field scoring Pinkerton, and Riley was thrown out at the plate. Pinkerton hit to pitcher or Ahearn, who fumbled, and O'Brien went to third. Black hit safely to right field and O'Brien scored. Hughes fouled out to Marquette at third and the scoring was over. Both sides went out quickly in the third and fourth innings, but in the fifth Fredericton came back in earnest and before the third man was out the men from the capital managed to make four runs. White drew a base on balls and stole second. Callahan flied out to short. Sullivan came across with a hit to centre, which scored White. Marquette got a base on balls. Murphy beat out a hit to short and filled the bases. Ahearn followed with a nice hit to centre which scored Sullivan and Marquette. Fryer flied out to centre and Murphy went to third on the play. Ahearn started to steal second and while the Marathons failed to catch Murphy he made a clean steal of the base and at the same time Murphy stole home, making the fourth run. Ganley flied out to left field and retired the side.

There was no more scoring until the eighth inning, when Fryer scored the run as was described above.

Fredericton was blanked in the ninth.

It certainly was an exciting windup of a game, as it looked as if the Greeks were going to tie the score. If not win the game. Shankey was the first batter and whalloped the ball to the right field corner for three bases and the crowd went wild. O'Brien followed with a single to left field and scored. Pinkerton hit to pitcher and Riley was forced out at second. Black flied out to right and Hughes went out, short to first, and the game was over.

THIRTY-FIVE THOUSAND PEOPLE WITNESS UNITED STATES TEAM WIN POLO MATCH; ENGLAND LOST BY ONLY A QUARTER GOAL

New York, June 14.—By the narrow margin of 3 to 1, the American polo team won the second and deciding game of the International cup series at the Meadowbrook Club this afternoon and thereby retain the trophy for at least another year. The score was 4 to 1. The slight advantage of the United States team over the British challengers at the end of one hour of the most desperate kind of play is fully indicated by the trifling difference in the scores of the two teams.

The spectacle thrilled the crowd of thirty-five thousand persons, until the dispirited assemblage was fairly carried away and "rooted" like a typical baseball crowd during the final period of play. The shrill shrieks of the feminine portion of the throng rose high above deeper notes of encouragement from their male escorts.

When finally the thousands realized that England's invasion had gone for naught there was a rush of enthusiasm from stands to field that fairly engulfed the competing players, while from outside the enclosure there arose a terrific din of automobile horns proclaiming another American victory in an international contest. Never for a moment did the action lag, and the game was one continuous spectacle of rushes first in the direction of the American goal and then toward the poles of the Union Jack. In this play the international importance of the game, it was only by daring flashes of individual play that the Americans were finally able to emerge victorious by a score of 4 to 1.

The substitution of L. E. Stoddard for "Mac" Waterbury, made necessary by the accident to him on Thursday, and the moving back of "Larry" Waterbury to No. 3, caused a noticeable break in the team play of the Meadowbrook "big four."

Neither Waterbury nor Stoddard appeared to get in combination and repeated missed the ball fed to them by both Whitney and Milburn. To offset this, the forwards eventually cut loose with such desperate individual play that they actually overcame the defect of lax work and won on merit and a game which will probably stand for years as a polo "thriller."

The English four, on the other hand, benefited by the change which brought E. F. M. Freake into the game in place of Captain A. Noel Edwards. The veteran internationalist proved a tower of strength, teaming up with both Captains Cheape and Ritson, in a manner which opened the eyes of those who had seen the opening performance of the challenging four. Captain Cheape fairly outdid himself with his efforts to turn defeat into victory, and both Ritson and Freake played polo strokes fore and back hand that astonished the spectators.

The assemblage was fully in keeping with the play that developed. The list of prominent box holders and grandstand patrons included hundreds of men and women of standing in both American social and official life. To these must be added hundreds whose names, titles and distinctions assure them of a welcome to the Royal courts of England and continental Europe.

While the British four and their supporters were enmeshed that the challenges should have lost the final game by such a narrow margin, they were frank in expressing their opinion that the better team had won and laid in their pride of the perfect treatment accorded them, both on and off the field. They were, however, far from convinced, that the same result would develop in another series, and expressed the opinion in an unbecoming way, that another challenge and series might be expected next year, unless unforeseen obstacles should arise. The terrific heat unbecomingly bolstered the English position and players, and Mr. Freake was temporarily stunned by a mallet blow during the play. In spite of this, and although complaining of stiffness from the both the blow and the heat, played desperately until the end. The mallet in Mr. Freake's hand and the fall of his horse were the only incidents of the game.

The two goals, one of which was called upon each team, were imposed the rule which states that players shall not cross or charge into each other at right angles, because of the danger of a bad fall when this occurs.
