Jas. Robertson Co. Entertain Their Many Employees

Delicious Turkey Dinner Served at Bond's Last Evening, When Good Fellowship Was Everywhere in Evidence—Pleasant Surprise to Employees.

"That the old proverb, 'Corporations have no souls,' is not altogether based on facts, and that the interests of the firm's employees are of very personal interest to the firm itself was marked last night, when the members of the staff of the James Robertson Company of this city were the guests of the firm at a very appetizing turkey dinner served at Bond's last evening.

The large dining room, bright with colored stringers and flags, was attractively decorated in keeping with the holiday season, and the excellent menu was a credit to the city's leading caterers. Bond's orchestra rendered a very pleasing programme of music during the course of the dinner.

After due justice had been rendered the tempting array of viands set before the guests, a programme of toasts was carried out as follows:

The King, proposed by the manager of the James Robertson Co., E. J. Terry, responded to by all rising and singing the National Anthem.

The firm, proposed by George Kewley, responded to by Mr. Terry, the manager.

In rising to reply to the toast of The Firm, Mr. Terry said that the dinner at which all were present marked a new departure, as it was the first given by the company to its employees since the founding of the firm, and it was his hope and desire that the Martins branch of the James Robertson Company should be ever in the forefront and lead all the other branches in Canada.

The James Robertson Company was the largest plumbing supply company in the Dominion, and, with the possible exception of one or two others, the largest concern of its kind in the whole British Empire.

Mr. Terry paid a high tribute to the head of the firm, C. M. Robertson, who was, he said, the biggest man in any firm in America, and many of the firm were already aware of his goodness of heart and the interest which he had for all the employees of the company.

The firm had been fortunate in its representatives in the past, whose worthy example was being followed by their successors today. All should endeavor to keep the name of the firm before the eyes of the trade in the acting place it now held and should continue to occupy, and this could only be secured by a loyal staff working always in the best interests of the firm.

The competition in the Maritime Provinces was growing greater each year. One of the firm's leading competitors was establishing a branch at

SEDATE HALIFAX HAS HOLD-UP MEN

Bold, Bad Men, With Loaded Revolvers, Enter Store and Get $200 in Cash.

Halifax, N. S., Dec. 30.—At nine o'clock tonight two men, each with a revolver, entered the store of Moses Newman on Upper Water street, and they covered Newman with their guns and kept him thus, while they rifled his cash register. Newman says they took $200. The robbers left with their booty and have not been seen since.

Halifax, and it would require the united efforts of all to maintain the leading place in the trade they now held.

At this juncture of his address, Mr. Terry gave all a very pleasant surprise by presenting each member of the staff who had been with the firm five years or over a cheque equivalent to a dollar a year for every year they had been in the company's employ.

The bonus was greatly appreciated by the recipients and came to them as a complete surprise. In addition to his Christmas time with the firm's compliments.

Those receiving cheques included James Duffy, who has been with the firm for over 15 years. Others were Messrs. Scribner, Anderson, Day, McGuigan, and Miss Kelly.

In concluding, Mr. Terry said that it was the intention of the firm to hold a picnic during the coming summer for the members of the firm and their families. The gathering would be typical of the community spirit, which he hoped would soon be the prevailing spirit of the day.

The toast Our Associates, was proposed by the manager, and responded to by Charles Ramsey, the assistant manager, who referred to the cordial relations which existed between the firm and the employees. He was glad to see that those members of the firm who had been serving in France were again once more with the company.

Mention was made of the sterling qualities of the late manager, Harry O'Neil, and Mr. Ramsey concluded a very neat speech by paying a fitting tribute to the present manager of the firm, E. J. Terry.

The manager, acting as toast master, proposed Our Guests, responded to by R. W. Wignore, M. P., who was present as the personal guest of Mr. Terry.

The toast Canada was proposed and responded to by Mr. Wignore in a very stirring address.

The toast The Ladies was proposed by D. A. Macaulay, and responded to by M. Hamm.

Yale's Team At Hamilton

Were Defeated Last Night in Arena by Score of Nine to Five—Fair Crowd Witnessed Exhibition.

Hamilton, Ont., Dec. 30.—Yale's touring hockey team got its first taste of the Canadian ice game at the local arena tonight, when the Tigers took them into camp by a score of nine to five. A fair sized crowd witnessed the exhibition, which was closer than the score would indicate. In the last period the Tigers banged in four more counters, while the students were registering twice.

THE LITTLE HOUSE.
(Grace Noll Crowell.)
Ah, it's home, dearie, home, that my heart turns to forever—
A little house, a lot of green upon a quiet street;
While curtains at the windows, and a red bloom peering outward;
And the clicking of the kitchen tiles to my own happy feet.

Ah, it's home, dearie, home, and the singing of the kettle,
And a table spread at evening time awaiting there for you—
The early lamp all lighted, and the fire burning cheery;
And a soft wind blowing inward from the sweet world wet of dew.

And listen, dearie, close beside, a baby in a cradle,
Aweiling lok—a-swinging low down singing for him, dear,
Just a little sense of loving, like the south wind to the roses—
"It's evening time, and home time, and he will soon be here."
