WOMEN UP IN

Both Parties Denounce the Militants as Fanatic Female Invaders. Run Amuck—Militant Charge of Conspiracy.

London, May 5.—Willoughby in moving the second reading of the bill for the extension of the franchise to women, argued that this afternoon, argued that this is a parliamentary suffrage bill to punish a few criminals members of the Women's Social Union, would be unjust.

Arthur Cecil Beck, another member, in speaking for the rejection of the bill, claimed that the fact that women of education and high social position were included among the voters would be a destructive blow at parliament.

The abstention of parliament from the debate caused such an extent that there was less than a quarter of an hour for the bill to be discussed. It was noticeable that both the government and the opposition were in their denunciation of militant suffragettes.
